Dear <:firstname:>,

As your Congressman in Washington, D.C., it is my job to serve your interests in the most timely and effective manner. That's why it is so important that I know where you stand on vital issues and that I keep you informed about my work in Washington.

I have always been interested in making sure that my office uses the most up-to-date technologies to stay in touch with constituents. I am implementing a new program to send periodic E-mail updates to constituents who are interested in receiving them. These periodic updates will focus on important issues before Congress and upcoming events in the Third Congressional District. They also will include online survey questions that will give you the opportunity to let me know your views on important topics.

I hope you agree about the timeliness of interactive communications and that you will sign up for my periodic E-mail updates. Please feel free to forward any of my E-news updates to your friends and family. There is no cost to signing up and your E-mail address will be kept strictly confidential.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Best wishes.

Sincerely,
Benjamin L. Cardin
Member of Congress

CONGRESSMAN CARDIN VISITS LINTHICUM ELEMENTARY SCHOOL TO DISCUSS THE IMPORTANCE OF READING

Congressman Cardin joined 4th graders at Linthicum Elementary School at its recent Read Across America event. The Congressman has introduced the Master Teacher Act, which would give highly-qualified "master teachers" a break on their federal income taxes for teaching in a school that fails to meet standards set under the No Child Left Behind Act. For more information on the Master Teacher Act, click here.

Yes, please send me these informational E-mails in the future.
