

Because there isn't a
"Happy Valentine's Day! Congress Enacted a Simple and Straightforward Prescription Drug Benefit!"
card section.

A great way to say, "I love you" is to encourage family and friends confused by the new Medicare drug program to express their frustration with President Bush's multi-billion dollar giveaway to the pharmaceutical and HMO industries. Rather than establish a comprehensive prescription drug benefit in Medicare, Republicans in Congress attempted to set Medicare on the road to privatization. Rewarding drug companies at seniors' expense, Republicans

Medicare<sub>Rx</sub>
A Giveaway to Pharmaceuticals
Help Isn't Here.

provided for billions in overpayments to drug companies and HMOs while shortchanging Medicare beneficiaries – especially those with disabilities and low incomes. Make it a special Valentine's Day. Fill out the card, add a stamp, stick it in the mail, and help someone you love ask Congress for the simple and comprehensive drug benefit they need and deserve.

Help Isn't Here

24/7

OVERPAYING DRUG COMPANIES

SHORTCHANGING SENIORS

5 ways to say I love you.

I love you.

I love you a lot.

I love you like kids love cookies.

I love you like fish love water.

Let's talk about asking Congress for a real prescription drug benefit that helps seniors instead of HMOs.

signed _____

I know you are confused and frustrated by the new Medicare drug program. I'd like to help you contact Congress if I can. Because I plan on sending you silly Valentines for a long, long time.

Post Office will not deliver without a stamp.

---

---

---

---

MedicareRx
A Giveaway to Pharmaceuticals Help Isn't Here.

Help Isn't Here.
24/7

OVERPAYING DRUG COMPANIES
SHORTCANGING SENIORS

