RECYCLED PAPER

The Privacy Act of 1974 went into effect September 27, 1975. This law is designed to protect you from the unauthorized use and exchange of personal information by Federal agencies. For example, any information that a Federal agency has about you, such as Social Security data, your military service records or census information may not, with a few exceptions, be given to another agency or to a Member of Congress without your written permission.

Investigation of your problem may require that I ask one or more Federal agencies for information which is considered confidential under the Privacy Act. In order to be of better assistance to you, I ask that you sign the consent form below.

You are responsible for keeping any original or copies of your documents for your own records. You are advised that files will be shredded two years after the file is closed in my office. Your signature below is acknowledgement of this policy.

Thank you,

Norm Dicks
NORM DICKS
Member of Congress

Nature of Problem:

I hereby authorize Congressman Norm Dicks to receive such information about me contained in the records of any department or agency of the Federal Government, which may relate to the above referenced problem.
