Rep. Klein Recognizes Jupiter Lighthouse's Dedication as Outstanding Natural Area

Washington, DC – Congressman Ron Klein (FL-22) today recognized the official dedication of the Jupiter Inlet Lighthouse as an Outstanding Natural Area. Congressman Klein co-sponsored the legislation providing the Jupiter Lighthouse with this designation, which protects unique scenic, scientific, educational, and recreational areas around the country. This designation is the first ever east of the Mississippi River.

“I am proud to say that we have given the Jupiter Inlet Lighthouse the special designation it deserves,” Klein said. “This designation will preserve the natural and cultural significance of this area for future generations, and will reaffirm that Florida’s history is an important part of our American history. The Jupiter Lighthouse is among the most memorable sights in South Florida, and now, many more Americans will be able to enjoy it.”
