- a. H.R. 6166 would authorize the U.S. Mint to produce a $25 palladium coin if the Mint determines that there is adequate demand for the coin. CBO expects that the sales of coins made from palladium would be small. We estimate that coin sales would generate receipts of less than $500,000 a year in excess of production costs. Those amounts would be recorded in the budget as offsetting receipts (a credit against direct spending).
