1. This amendment would further clarify a provision in the merchant's exemption in the base text to make clear that small, non-financial businesses who finance the sale of their own products or services are not subject to the CFPB's rule-writing or enforcement. The base text does this by drawing a bright line based on revenues. However, some small businesses aren't categorized by revenues; rather, they are deemed to be small businesses based on the number of employees. This amendment adds the latter group to the exemption, as long as they are non-financial and legitimately financing their own products or services.

Technical Assistance to Title X: Revisions to the House Offer

Funding of the Bureau under Section 1017

(1) Adjustment of Amount

Revision to subsection (a)(2)(B) to modify the index by which the funding cap on the amount transferred from the Board of Governors may be increased. Instead of the Consumer Price Index (CPI), the "employment cost index for total compensation for State and local government workers" (ECI) should be used. The CPI does not reflect the rate of inflation of personnel expenses, and, over time, funding for the Bureau would not keep pace with growth in compensation levels. ECI is a more stable index than operating expenses of the other federal banking regulators, which may change for reasons other than growth in personnel expenses.

On page 5, line 3, after "annually" strike all that follows through line 16, and insert the following:

"using the percent increase, if any, in the employment cost index for total compensation for State and local government workers published by the Federal government, or the successor index thereto, for the 12-month period ending September 30 of the year preceding the transfer."

(2) Appropriations of Funds; Annual Report

Revision to add subsection (e) to provide a mechanism for authorizing appropriations for the Bureau when the Director determines that the funding needs of the Bureau are anticipated to exceed the level of amount that may be transferred from the Board of Governors.

In addition, this subsection would require the Director to submit an annual report to the House Committee on Appropriations and Senate Committee on Appropriations.

The Director shall submit the report to the President and to the Committee on Appropriations of the Senate and the Committee on Appropriations of the House of Representatives.
- "(2) AUTHORIZATION OF APPROPRIATIONS.—If the Director makes the determination and submits the report pursuant to paragraph (1), there are hereby authorized to be appropriated to the Bureau, for the purposes of carrying out the authorities granted in federal consumer financial law, $200,000,000 for each of fiscal years 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013, and 2014.
- "(3) APPORTIONMENT.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law, such amounts in paragraph (2) shall be subject to apportionment under section 1517 of title 31, United States Code, and restrictions that generally apply to the use of appropriated funds in title 31, United States Code, and other laws.
- "(4) Annual Report.—The Director shall prepare and submit a report, on an annual basis, to the House Committee on Appropriations and Senate Committee on Appropriations regarding the financial operating plans and forecasts of the Director, the financial condition and results of operations of the Bureau, and the sources and application of funds of the Bureau, including any funds appropriated under this subsection.".

(c) NO IMPACT ON PRIOR AUTHORITY.-

Bipartisan Amendment to Ensure Criminal Accountability and Deter Fraud
Section-by-Section Analysis

Senator Leahy's amendment will bolster vital criminal prosecutions of securities fraud and financial institution fraud and will protect whistleblowers. To deter the kind of reckless and outrageous conduct that can bring down financial institutions and harm so many Americans, we must ensure that those who commit these crimes go to jail. This amendment will protect and enhance the government's ability to investigate and prosecute these cases. It contains the following provisions.

Part 1: Securities and Financial Institution Fraud Sentences

This first part of the amendment directs the United States Sentencing Commission to review and amend the federal sentencing guidelines and policy statements for offenses related to securities fraud and financial institution fraud to reflect the intent of Congress that penalties for the offenses appropriately account for the potential and actual harm to the public and the financial markets from the offenses.

Part 2: Securities Fraud Statute of Limitations

This section of the amendment increases the statute of limitations for securities fraud violations from five years to six years, which aligns it with the current statute of limitations in tax fraud cases.

Part 3: False Claims Act Fixes

The amendment makes two adjustments to existing law related to the False Claims Act. First, it clarifies current language to ensure protection of whistleblowers who face retaliation as a result of reporting waste, fraud or abuse. Second, it establishes a three-year statute of limitations on claims by whistleblowers alleging retaliation.

Part 4: Protecting Criminal Prosecutions

The last section of the amendment requires the newly-created Consumer Financial Protection Bureau to develop an agreement with the Department of Justice for coordination of investigations and proceedings in order to avoid conflicts and ensure that regulatory actions do not interfere with a criminal investigation.
