UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY SECTION 105(a) TROUBLED ASSETS RELIEF PROGRAM REPORT TO CONGRESS FOR THE PERIOD MARCH 1, 2009 TO MARCH 31, 2009

I. OVERVIEW

During the reporting period of March 1 to March 31, 2009, the Department of the Treasury (Treasury) continued to develop, launch, and implement a number of programs under the Troubled Assets Relief Program (TARP) and the Financial Stability Plan (FSP) pursuant to the goals of the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008 (EESA). Every program established by Treasury under the TARP is aimed at stabilizing the financial system and restoring liquidity, enabling the flow of credit to consumers and businesses and restoring economic growth. These measures include actions to stabilize systemically important financial institutions, promote the availability of credit to consumers and small businesses, reduce preventable foreclosures, and promote the transparency of programs under the TARP. Given the critical role played by financial institutions and markets in the U.S. economy, financial stability is a necessary precondition to the resumption of normal economic activity. Specifically, during this reporting period, Treasury took the following steps:

- Auto Supplier Support Program Treasury enhanced its support for the nation's automotive industry with the announcement on March 19, 2009, of its $5 billion Auto Supplier Support Program, aimed at stabilizing the auto supply base and restoring credit flows in this critical sector of the American economy.
- Consumer and Business Lending Initiative (CBLI) On March 3, 2009, the Federal Reserve operationalized the Term Asset-Backed Securities Loan Facility (TALF), a key component under the CBLI. The TALF is run by the Federal Reserve and aimed at catalyzing the securitization markets, a critical component of the financial system and source of low cost credit to consumers and businesses. The first tranche of subscriptions under this important facility closed on March 19, 2009, with additional subscription periods to follow on a monthly basis.
- Home Affordable Modification Program On March 4, 2009, Treasury issued detailed guidelines on the refinance and modification programs for residential mortgage loans. These programs are designed to offer assistance to as many as three to four million homeowners making a good-faith effort to make their mortgage payments.
- Public-Private Investment Program (PPIP) On March 23, 2009, Treasury announced further details of the two part PPIP, which is designed to help financial institutions remove from their balance sheets both real estate loans and securities backed by loan portfolios, often referred to as legacy assets. Using $75 to $100 billion in TARP capital and capital from private investors, the PPIP will generate up to $500 billion in purchasing power to buy legacy assets.

• Warranty Commitment Program – In releasing its assessment of the viability plans submitted by General Motors (GM) and Chrysler, the Administration announced on March 30, 2009, that Treasury will provide government-funded protection for warranties issued by auto manufacturers that are in the process of restructuring.

Furthermore, on March 30, 2009, the Presidential Task Force on the Auto Industry determined that the restructuring plans submitted by GM and Chrysler did not result in viable companies. For GM, the Task Force determined that a path to viability for the Company was possible only through a more significant operational and financial restructuring. The Task Force set a deadline to complete this restructuring at June 1, 2009. Treasury has agreed to provide a modest amount of additional funding for continued operations until that date.

For Chrysler, the Task Force determined that a path to viability for the Company was possible only through a partnership or alliance with another large automotive manufacturer. The most likely alliance is with Fiat, SpA, a European automobile manufacturer. The Task Force set a deadline to enact a binding deal with Fiat or another partner and submit a viable business plan for the alliance at May 1, 2009. Treasury has agreed to provide a modest amount of additional funding for continued operations until that date.

On March 2, 2009, Treasury and the Federal Reserve announced a restructuring of the government's assistance to American International Group, Inc. (AIG) in order to stabilize the systemically important company in a manner that best protects the U.S. taxpayer.

Treasury maintained its commitment to implementing the TARP and the FSP with the highest degree of transparency and accountability possible. On March 16, 2009, Treasury published the second Monthly Intermediation Snapshot, providing information from Treasury's monthly survey of lending and intermediation activities of the top 21 recipients of government investment through the Capital Purchase Program (CPP). The March Snapshot illustrated that the nation's largest banks continued to originate, refinance, and renew loans in January 2009, despite significant headwinds associated with the economic downturn and unprecedented financial crisis. For example, the survey found that residential mortgage origination volume increased from December 2008, largely as a result of lower mortgage interest rates. Originations in other areas of consumer lending, which include small business, auto, student, and other consumer loans, also increased, driven largely by seasonal demand for student lending. In contrast, the level of commercial and industrial lending contracted from the prior month due in large part to lower demand from businesses, who cited the economic downturn and their focus on preserving liquidity and strengthening their balance sheets. On March 20, 2009, Treasury sent letters to all CPP recipients requesting monthly data on lending. The first responses, containing February and March data, are due to Treasury on April 30.

On March 31, 2009, Treasury significantly enhanced efforts to communicate to the public and to Congress about its actions and programs to stabilize the financial system by launching www.FinancialStability.gov, a website containing comprehensive, user-friendly information about all of Treasury's programs launched under the EESA.

II. REPORTING REQUIREMENTS

This is Treasury's fifth Section 105(a) Troubled Assets Relief Program Report to Congress (TARP Report) required by the EESA. Treasury transmitted its fourth TARP Report to Congress on March 6, 2009, covering activities through February 28, 2009. This TARP Report covers the following activities listed in EESA section 105(a) that occurred in March:

- An overview of actions taken by the Secretary, including the considerations required by section 103 and the efforts under section 109.
- The actual obligation and expenditure of the funds provided for administrative expenses by section 118.
- A detailed financial statement with respect to the exercise of authority, including:
 - 1. all agreements made or renewed;
 - 2. all insurance contracts entered into pursuant to section 102;
 - 3. all transactions occurring during the initial 60-day period, including the types of parties involved;
 - 4. the nature of the assets purchased;
 - 5. all projected costs and liabilities;
 - 6. operating expenses, including compensation for financial agents;
 - 7. the valuation or pricing method used for each transaction; and
 - 8. a description of the vehicles established to exercise such authority.

III. PROGRAMS AND INITIATIVES

Automotive Industry Financing Program

The objective of the Automotive Industry Financing Program (AIFP) is to prevent a significant disruption of the American automotive industry, which would pose a systemic risk to financial market stability and have a negative effect on the economy of the United States. In March, Treasury announced two new programs under the AIFP: the Auto Supplier Support Program and the Warranty Commitment Program.

On March 19, 2009, Treasury released details and eligibility information for the Auto Supplier Support Program. This program will provide domestic auto suppliers access to government-backed protection for accounts receivable attributable to products they ship to auto manufacturers. Participating suppliers will be able to sell their matured receivables into the program at a modest discount, or to enhance their liquidity by selling the receivables before maturing for an additional discount. The program is expected to help unlock credit more broadly in the supplier industry.

All auto suppliers that ship to and are sponsored by participating auto manufacturers on qualifying commercial terms may be eligible to participate in the program. Any auto manufacturer is eligible to participate in the program, although only GM and Chrysler have elected to participate. Participating auto manufacturers will decide which suppliers and receivables will receive protection.

Auto manufacturers that choose to participate in the program will request an allocation from Treasury to provide government-backing, and then will work with a third-party servicer to establish a receivables purchase program. Participating auto manufacturers will be required to make a financial commitment in connection with the allocation they receive from Treasury. Any receivable created with respect to goods shipped after March 19, 2009, that is made on qualifying commercial terms between a participating supplier and a participating auto manufacturer, will be eligible for the program. GM and Chrysler have already agreed to participate in the program and will have fully operational purchase programs established shortly.

On March 31, 2009, as part of its assessment of the viability plans submitted by GM and Chrysler, the Administration announced the Warranty Commitment Program, which will provide government-funded protection for warranties issued by auto manufacturers that are in the process of restructuring. The program will cover warranties on new vehicles purchased from participating auto manufacturers during the period in which those manufacturers are restructuring. Both GM and Chrysler have already indicated their intention to participate in the program.

Complete details about AIFP are available on Treasury's website at: http://www.financialstability.gov/roadtostability/autoprogram.html.

Capital Purchase Program

The purpose of the Capital Purchase Program (CPP) is to stabilize the financial system by building the capital base of healthy, viable U.S. financial institutions, which in turn will increase the capacity of those institutions to lend to businesses and consumers and support the economy. Under this program, Treasury is purchasing senior preferred shares from qualifying U.S. controlled banks, savings associations, and certain bank and savings and loan holding companies.

Between March 1 and March 31, 2009, Treasury purchased $2.0 billion in senior preferred shares from 65 financial institutions through the CPP. From the launch of the CPP in October 2008 through March 31, 2009, Treasury has invested a total of $198.8 billion in senior preferred shares in 532 financial institutions in 48 states, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico. To date, Treasury has received over $2.5 billion in dividends from CPP investments. Treasury designed the CPP to include every banking community in the country, and the 532 institutions Treasury has funded under the CPP include small, community, regional, and national banks, as well as Community Development Financial Institutions. The application deadline for publicly-held institutions was November 14, 2008; for eligible privately-held financial institutions, it was December 8, 2008; and for Subchapter S corporations, it was February 13, 2009. The nation's federal banking regulators are evaluating all CPP applications and continue to send qualifying applications to Treasury for final approval.

On March 31, 2009, Treasury received $353 million in principal and $2.3 million in accrued dividends from the repurchase of senior preferred shares by five financial institutions that participated in the CPP. Treasury will continue to work with federal banking regulators to evaluate requests from CPP participants interested in repaying Treasury.

Complete details about the CPP are available at: http://www.financialstability.gov/impact/index.html.

Consumer Business and Lending Initiative

The Consumer Business and Lending Initiative (CBLI) is designed to jumpstart secondary markets to make credit available. On March 3, 2009, as part of the CBLI, Treasury and the Federal Reserve operationalized the Term Asset-Backed Securities Loan Facility (TALF), which was first announced in November 2008, and released further details, including program terms and conditions and questions and answers for the first funding of Federal Reserve loans to eligible borrowers. The TALF is a Federal Reserve facility designed to increase credit availability and support economic activity by facilitating renewed issuance of consumer and small business asset-backed securities (ABS) at more normal interest rate spreads.

Treasury, through the TARP, provides credit protection to the Federal Reserve to support lending through the TALF. Specifically, Treasury will provide $20 billion of TARP funds to the Federal Reserve and the Federal Reserve will lend on a non-recourse basis to holders of certain AAA-rated ABS secured by newly and recently originated consumer and small business loans. TALF loans will have a term of three years and will be secured solely by eligible collateral. Haircuts – a percentage reduction used for collateral valuation – will be determined based on the riskiness of each type of eligible collateral and the maturity of the eligible collateral pledged to the Federal Reserve. The haircuts will provide additional protection to taxpayers by protecting the Federal Government from loss.

On March 17, 2009, the Federal Reserve began to accept subscriptions for funding from eligible owners of certain AAA-rated ABS. The subscription period closed on March 19, 2009, and funding for those loans took place on March 25, 2009. Funding of these eligible securitizations will continue, on a monthly basis, through December 2009, or longer if the Federal Reserve chooses to extend the facility. Total subscriptions received for the first funding of Federal Reserve loans from eligible borrowers at the March 17-19 operation was $4.7 billion.

To promote accountability and oversight for the current facility, the Federal Reserve has established a compliance framework that includes an assurance program related to borrower eligibility requirements and on-site inspection rights over borrowers. In addition, the participating sponsor must certify that the collateral supporting the ABS is eligible under TALF and that an independent accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board has attested to the sponsor's assessment of the eligible collateral.

On March 24, 2009, the Federal Reserve published the dates for the second funding of Federal Reserve loans, which will take place in April. The Federal Reserve also announced that the TALF will be expanded to include four additional categories of ABS: (1) ABS backed by mortgage servicing advances; (2) ABS backed by loans or leases relating to business equipment; (3) ABS backed by leases of vehicle fleets; and (4) ABS backed by floorplan loans.

Complete details on CBLI are available at:

Efforts to Unlock Credit for Small Businesses

On March 16, 2009, Treasury released details on an initiative to unlock credit for small businesses as part of the Consumer and Business Lending Initiative. Through this program, Treasury is committing up to $15 billion through TARP to unfreeze secondary markets that support the Small Business Administration's (SBA) 7(a) and 504 lending programs. This initiative leverages new measures implemented under the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (Recovery Act) that temporarily raise the maximum guarantees for 7(a) loans and eliminate certain fees for 7(a) and 504 loans, enhancing the availability of credit to entrepreneurs and business owners.

As part of this program, Treasury will stand ready to purchase securities backed by 7(a) loans packaged since July 1, 2008. Treasury has hired an investment manager who will be authorized to purchase these securities on behalf of Treasury. These purchases will help clear the backlog of securities that has built up since the beginning of the credit crisis last year, providing pool assemblers and banks with a source of liquidity so that new lending can occur. Treasury will also be prepared to purchase new 7(a) securities packaged before December 31, 2009, when its authority under the EESA expires. By making this pledge, Treasury provides assurances to community banks and other lenders that they can sell the new 7(a) loans they make, providing them with cash they can use to extend even more credit.

In order to unlock credit markets for the SBA's 504 program, Treasury will also make direct purchases of securities packaged from 504 first lien mortgages. As part of this effort, Treasury will begin purchasing securities packaged on or after July 1, 2008, that meet eligibility criteria designed to protect taxpayers. In addition, Treasury will prepare to buy 504 first lien mortgage securities that receive new SBA guarantees. Under the Recovery Act, SBA is working to develop a secondary market guarantee program for securities issued from pooled 504 first lien mortgage loans. Once this program is fully implemented by the SBA, Treasury will be ready to purchase these government-guaranteed securities.

Complete details on our efforts to unlock lending for small businesses are available at: http://www.financialstability.gov/roadtostability/smallbusinesscommunity.html.

Making Home Affordable

On March, 4, 2009, the Treasury released program guidelines on Making Home Affordable, a component of the Administration's Homeowner Affordability and Stability Plan announced in February 2009. Making Home Affordable includes two separate programs: the Home Affordable Refinance Program and the Home Affordable Modification Program. Together, these programs will assist as many as three to four million homeowners making a good-faith effort to stay current on their mortgage payments and will also work to prevent the destructive impact of foreclosures on families and communities.

The Home Affordable Refinance Program is targeted to eligible borrowers who are current on their mortgages, but have been unable to take advantage of today's lower interest rates because their homes have decreased in value. Through the program, these homeowners may have the opportunity to refinance into a 30- or 15-year, fixed-rate loan. This refinancing program is limited to mortgage loans held in portfolio or securitized by Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac. Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac will use $25 billion of their own funds to cover the cost of the Home Affordable Refinance Program.

Treasury will use up to $50 billion of TARP funds to fund the Home Affordable Modification Program, the second component of Making Home Affordable. This program will help borrowers avoid foreclosure by modifying at-risk mortgage loans to achieve a payment the borrower can afford. To protect taxpayers and ensure sound loan modifications, borrowers must complete a three-month trial modification prior to the modification becoming firm. Borrowers must meet several eligibility requirements to participate in the program: (1) the mortgaged property must be the borrower's primary residence; (2) the current monthly mortgage loan payment must be greater than 31 percent of the borrower's monthly gross income; (3) the mortgage loan amount must not exceed current Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac conforming loan limits; and (4) the loan must have been originated on or before January 1, 2009.

To encourage foreclosure mitigation efforts under the Home Affordable Modification Program, mortgage servicers will receive an up-front fee of $1,000 and "pay for success" fees of $1,000 per year for eligible loan modifications for up to three years. The program also will provide one-time bonus incentive payments of $1,500 to lender/investors and $500 to servicers for modifications made while a borrower is still current on mortgage payments. In addition, borrowers who continue to stay current on their mortgages are eligible for up to $1,000 of principal reduction payments each year for five years.

Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac will be responsible for monitoring compliance by servicers with the program, subject to oversight by Treasury.

Complete details about the Making Home Affordable program are available at http://www.makinghomeaffordable.gov and http://www.financialstability.gov/roadtostability/homeowner.html.

Public-Private Investment Program

On March 23, 2009, Treasury announced the Public-Private Investment Program (PPIP) under which Treasury will make targeted investments in multiple public-private investment funds in order to purchase legacy real estate-related assets. PPIP will use $75 to $100 billion in TARP capital and capital from private investors to generate up to $500 billion in purchasing power to buy these assets, with the potential to expand to $1 trillion over time.

The PPIP is designed to draw new private capital into the market for legacy assets by providing government equity co-investment and attractive public financing. This program should allow the market to determine the price of an asset and should help, over time, to reduce the excessive liquidity discounts embedded in current legacy asset prices. Reducing these discounts should, in turn, free up capital and allow U.S. financial institutions to engage in new credit formation. Furthermore, enhanced clarity about the value of legacy assets should increase investor confidence and enhance the ability of financial institutions to raise new capital from private investors.

The primary areas of focus for the PPIP are the residential and commercial mortgage sectors, including both whole loans and securitizations backed by loan portfolios. These troubled assets are held by all types of financial institutions, including those that predominantly hold the assets in the form of loans, such as banks, and those that predominantly hold assets in the form of securities, such as insurers, pension funds, mutual funds, and individual retirement accounts. While PPIP may initially target real estate-related assets, it can evolve, based on market demand, to include other asset classes.

The PPIP will operate through two key components: (1) a Legacy Loans Program, which will combine a Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) guarantee of debt financing with equity capital from the private sector and Treasury to support the purchase of troubled loans from insured depository institutions; and (2) a Legacy Securities Program, which will be a standalone Treasury program that will make equity and debt investments in pre-qualified Funds and may allow for additional financing from the Federal Reserve through the Legacy TALF (when it becomes operational).

Complete details on PPIP are available at: http://www.financialstability.gov/roadtostability/publicprivatefund.html.

Systemically Significant Failing Institutions Program

The Systemically Significant Failing Institution Program (SSFI) is intended to provide stability and prevent disruptions to financial markets from the failure of a systemically significant institution. Treasury provided assistance to American International Group, Inc. (AIG) under the SSIF Program in November 2008.

On March 2, 2009, Treasury and the Federal Reserve announced a restructuring of the government's assistance to AIG with the goal of enhancing the company's capital and liquidity in order to facilitate the orderly completion of the company's global divestiture program. Specific components of the restructuring announcement include:

• Treasury will exchange its existing $40 billion cumulative perpetual preferred shares for new preferred shares with revised terms that more closely resemble common equity, improving the quality of AIG's equity and its financial leverage. The new terms will provide for non-cumulative dividends and limit AIG's ability to redeem the preferred stock, except with the proceeds from the issuance of equity capital.

- Treasury will create a new equity capital facility, which will allow AIG to draw down up to $30 billion as needed over time in exchange for non-cumulative preferred stock to the U.S. Treasury. This facility will further strengthen AIG's capital levels and improve its leverage.
- The Federal Reserve will take several actions relating to the Revolving Credit Facility for AIG, established by the Federal Reserve in September 2008, to further the goals described above. As required by the credit agreement governing the Revolving Credit Facility, on March 4, 2009, AIG issued shares of convertible preferred stock representing an approximate 77.9 percent equity interest in AIG to an independent trust for the sole benefit of Treasury.

Complete information on the AIG restructuring plan is available at: http://www.financialstability.gov/latest/tg44.html.

IV. Certification

As the Interim Assistant Secretary for the Office of Financial Stability at the United States Department of the Treasury, I am the official with delegated authority to approve purchases of troubled assets under the Troubled Assets Relief Program. I certify to the Congress that each decision of my office to approve purchases of troubled assets, from the beginning of the program until the end of this reporting period, was based on my office's evaluation of the facts and circumstances of each proposed investment, including recommendations from regulators, in order to promote financial stability and the other purposes of the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008.

Neel Kashkari

Interim Assistant Secretary Office of Financial Stability

Note: Treasury interprets this reporting requirement as applicable to costs and liabilities related to insurance contracts entered into under the provisions of section 102 of the EESA; and the single insurance contract with Citigroup is structured such that no costs are anticipated, i.e. the currently anticipated cash inflows of the contract slightly exceed anticipated cash outflows.

The subsidy rate for this insurance contract is determined to be -0.25 percent. Per EESA section 102(c)(3), premiums shall be set at a level necessary to meet anticipated claims. To ensure that the guarantee remains compliant with section 102(c)(3), the Master Agreement provides for post-signing adjustments including additional Citigroup preferred stock, a reduction of the covered asset pool, and/or an increased Citigroup deductible (section 5.2 of the Master Agreement). Under this section of the agreement, the subsidy rate will be reassessed once the loan pools are finalized and details are provided to Treasury (changes in the composition of assets are expected). Citigroup must either transfer more preferred stock or absorb more in first losses (it is unlikely the size of the asset pool would be reduced), if it is found that the risks of the assets in the loan pool exceed those estimated today and would not meet the requirements of EESA section 102(c)(3). This "true-up" would occur over the next 7 months.

^{1/} This transaction was included in previous Transaction Reports with Merrill Lynch & Co., Inc. listed as the qualifying institution and a 10/28/2008 transaction date, footnoted to indicate that settlement was deferred pending merger. The purchase of Merrill Lynch by Bank of America was completed on 1/1/2009, and this transaction under the CPP was funded on 1/9/2009.

2/ Privately-held qualified financial institution; Treasury received a warrant to purchase additional shares of preferred stock, which it exercised immediately.

3/ To promote community development financial institutions (CDFIs), Treasury does not require warrants as part of its investment in certified CDFIs when the size of the investment is $50 million or less.
