

Congressional Art Competition Final Judging

April 17, 2007

Lake Jackson, TX: This year marks the 26th anniversary of the Congressional art competition. Every congressional district picks one eventual winner for the prestigious honor of representing it in Washington DC.

More than 90 high school students from across the 14th congressional district have submitted entries. The winning piece will hang in the United States Capitol in Washington for one year. Since the competition began in 1982, hundreds of thousands of high school students nationwide have participated. The following members of the Brazosport Art League will serve as judges: Lillie Alcalá – President of Brazosport Art League, Mary Bates Sechrest – Member of the Brazosport Art League, and Amy Chen – Public Relation for the Brazosport Art League
