

Congress of the United States
Washington, DC 20515

July 18, 2011

President Barack Obama
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Avenue N.W.
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President,

The nation's spending is out of control. This is clearly evidenced by the necessity of your request to increase our nation's debt limit. This step became necessary because - quite simply - we have become accustomed to a pattern of massive borrowing for spending rather than responsible budgeting.

It is regrettable that we have reached this point, but the time for blame is long past. This is not a partisan crisis. It is a national crisis. However, we remain optimistic that the current negotiations give us an unusual opportunity to ensure we put our country on a path to fiscal solvency once and for all.

In written proposals and adopted budgets scored by the Congressional Budget Office, House Republicans have been clear on our plans to deal with the debt-driven crisis: spending cuts, no tax increases, and long-term reforms that fix the problem now and avoid passing this to the next generation. However, Mr. President, you have not submitted a written proposal.

Because you have not presented any written detailed proposal to raise the debt ceiling, our constituents are left in the dark as to what specific cuts you propose as well as what taxes you are planning to raise. We have heard that your proposal possibly consists of $3 trillion in new tax revenues/fees with only $1 trillion in "cuts".

Thus, we are waiting for your detailed proposal but must stress time is critical and your continued failure to respond will only hamper our ability to avert this crisis. In fact, more than 30 days ago, on June 6, 2011, our colleague Representative Diane Black led a letter from 76 members of the House of Representatives asking for details of your proposal to raise the debt ceiling. We have not yet received any response.

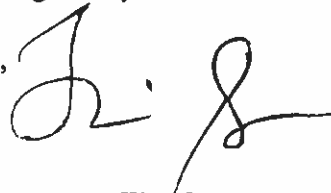

You cannot expect us as representatives of our constituents to agree to a debt ceiling proposal without offering details, hard timelines and accountability for those spending cuts. We want to work with you but cannot blindly allow more to be borrowed in the names of today's taxpayers and future generations of taxpayers in return for your ambiguous rhetoric.

Given the significance of our debt-driven crisis and the historic importance of the negotiations, we believe it is imperative that the work towards any agreement be as transparent as possible so that American people have a chance for careful evaluation of the process free from political posturing. Thus, we respectfully demand you immediately submit a written, detailed plan for your proposal to deal with this debt crisis.

The hardworking American people deserve to know what your specific priorities are. We await your response to this letter and look forward to working with you to resolve this crisis.

Sincerely,

Tim Scott
Member of Congress

Tom Reed
Member of Congress

Diane Black
Member of Congress

Rick Berg
Member of Congress

Kevin Yoder
Member of Congress

Adam Kinzinger
Member of Congress

Cory Gardner
Member of Congress

Steve Stivers
Member of Congress

Pat Tiberi
Member of Congress

Trey Gowdy
Member of Congress

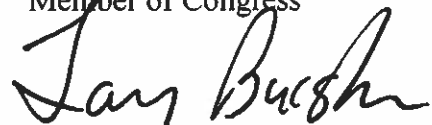

Geoff Davis
Member of Congress

Rob Woodall
Member of Congress

Trent Franks
Member of Congress

Larry Bucshon
Member of Congress

Bill Johnson

Bill Johnson
Member of Congress

Joe Heck

Joe Heck
Member of Congress

James Renacci

James Renacci
Member of Congress

Bill Huizenga

Bill Huizenga
Member of Congress

Howard Coble

Howard Coble
Member of Congress

James Lankford

James Lankford
Member of Congress

Jeff Denham

Jeff Denham
Member of Congress

Phil Roe

Phil Roe
Member of Congress

Tim Huelskamp

Tim Huelskamp
Member of Congress

Michael H. Grimm

Michael Grimm
Member of Congress

Paul Gosar

Paul Gosar
Member of Congress

Todd Rokita

Todd Rokita
Member of Congress

Sandy Adams

Sandy Adams
Member of Congress

Renee S. Eilers

Renee Ellmers
Member of Congress

Steven Palazzo

Steven Palazzo
Member of Congress

Todd Young

Todd Young
Member of Congress

Blake Farenthold TX-27

Blake Farenthold
Member of Congress

Vicky Hartzler

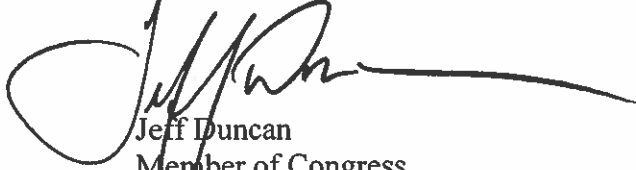

Vicky Hartzler
Member of Congress

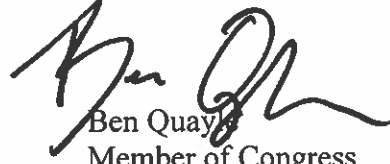

Tim Walberg
Member of Congress

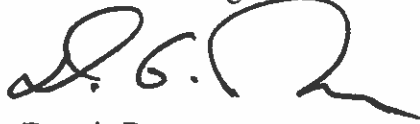

Dan Burton
Member of Congress

Jeff Duncan
Member of Congress

Ben Quayle
Member of Congress

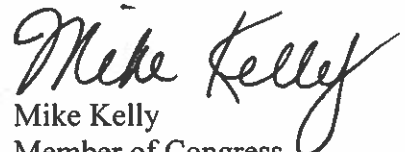

Dennis Ross
Member of Congress

Allen West
Member of Congress

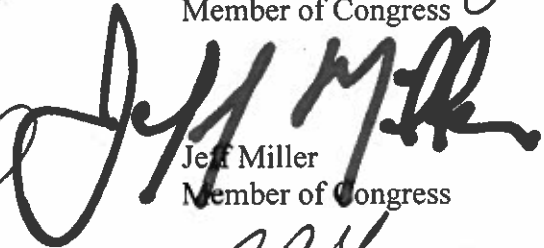

Joe Wilson
Member of Congress

Mike Kelly
Member of Congress

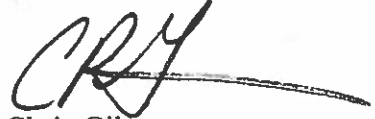

Mo Brooks
Member of Congress

Jeff Miller
Member of Congress

Lynn Westmoreland
Member of Congress

Chris Gibson
Member of Congress

Nan Hayworth
Member of Congress

Stephen Fincher
Member of Congress

Tim Griffin
Member of Congress

Alan Nunnelee
Member of Congress

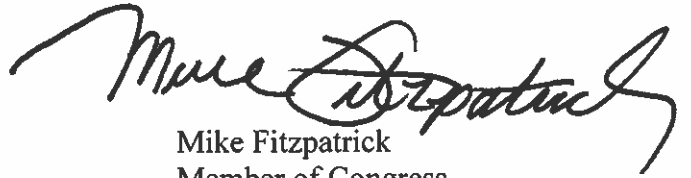

Leonard Lance
Member of Congress

Jon Runyan
Member of Congress

Mike Coffman
Member of Congress

Mike Fitzpatrick
Member of Congress

Thaddeus McCotter
Member of Congress

Marlin Stutzman
Member of Congress

Lou Barletta
Member of Congress

Rich Nugent
Member of Congress

Rick Crawford
Member of Congress

Joe Walsh
Member of Congress

Austin Scott
Member of Congress

Doug Lamborn
Member of Congress

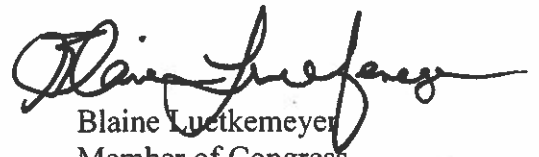

Patrick McHenry
Member of Congress

John Duncan
Member of Congress

Steve Southerland
Member of Congress

Blaine Luetkemeyer
Member of Congress

Kristi Noem
Member of Congress