

Small businesses are the engine that drives our economy. Congress must enact policies that will increase small business's access to capital and remove government impediments to growth.