

ACTIVITIES AND SUMMARY REPORT

OF THE

COMMITTEE ON THE BUDGET

FIRST SESSION

Mr. RYAN of Wisconsin, from the Committee on the Budget, submitted the following

JURISDICTION AND FUNCTIONS

OF THE COMMITTEE

The Congressional Budget and Impoundment Control Act of 1974 established the Committees on the Budget for the House of Representatives and the Senate. These Committees are responsible for developing and reporting the annual concurrent resolution on the budget ("budget resolution"), for assembling and reporting any reconciliation legislation required by that resolution, and for overseeing the congressional and statutory budget process.

Once adopted, the budget resolution provides an overall framework and plan for Congressional consideration of spending, revenue, and debt limit legislation. It sets a ceiling on total spending and a floor on total revenues to be collected. It also provides an allocation of spending authority to each committee of Congress, both the appropriations committees and among the various authorizing committees. The House and Senate enforce the aggregate spending and revenue levels, and the committee allocations set by the budget resolution, through points of order that govern the consideration of legislation.

The budget resolution may also include the optional reconciliation process, which directs authorizing committees to revise programs under their jurisdiction in order to adjust either projected spending or revenues by specified amounts. If more than one committee receives reconciliation instructions, the Budget Committee is responsible for assembling the reports submitted by the various committees for consideration on the House floor. The budget reconciliation process is used when changes in entitlement or tax law are needed to implement the plan set out in the budget resolution: to reconcile actual spending and revenue in law with the guidelines set out in the resolution.

In response to reconciliation instructions, the various committees report their legislative recommendations to the Budget Committee. The Budget Committee then assembles the legislation into an omnibus legislative package without making any substantive revisions for consideration by the House. The Budget Committee not only has jurisdiction over budget resolutions and reconciliation bills, it also has legislative jurisdiction over major elements of the budget process and various statutory controls over the Federal budget.

When the House of Representatives adopted Rules for the 104th Congress (House Resolution 6) on January 5, 1995, the Budget Committee achieved for the first time legislative jurisdiction over major elements of the congressional budget process and various statutory controls over the Federal budget. In adopting the Rules of the House of Representatives for the 105th Congress (House Resolution 5) on January 7, 1997, the House extended the Budget Committee's legislative jurisdiction to include not only the congressional budget process but the budget process in general. The Committee's jurisdictional statement, House Rule X, clause 1(d), now reads as follows:

(1) Concurrent resolutions on the budget (as defined in section 3(4) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974), other matters required to be referred to the committee under titles III and IV of that Act, and other measures setting forth appropriate levels of budget totals for the United States Government.

(2) Budget process generally.

(3) Establishment, extension, and enforcement of special controls over the Federal budget, including the budgetary treatment of off-budget Federal agencies and measures providing exemption from reduction under any order issued under part C of the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985.

Under its jurisdiction, the Budget Committee has exclusive jurisdiction over both budgetary levels and budgetary concepts. Under subparagraph (2), the Budget Committee has primary jurisdiction over the budget process, as well as, secondary jurisdiction over purely procedural aspects of the congressional budget process. Finally under subparagraph (3), the Budget Committee has exclusive jurisdiction over the establishment, extension, and enforcement of direct and discretionary spending limits, pay-go requirements, and other special budgetary mechanisms to control spending, the deficit, or the Federal budget, including the sequestration process.

In addition to its legislative duties, the Budget Committee continues to have responsibilities for oversight and studies. These responsibilities include oversight of the Congressional Budget Office; study of the outlay effects of existing and proposed legislation; study of off-budget entities; study of tax expenditures; and study of proposals to improve and facilitate the congressional budget process.

SUMMARY OF ACTIVITIES

FISCAL YEAR 2014 BUDGET RESOLUTION

On March 12, 2013, the Committee on the Budget marked up the fiscal year 2014 concurrent resolution on the budget, House Concurrent Resolution 25. The report accompanying House Concurrent Resolution 25 (113th Congress), House Report 113-17, was filed on March 15, 2013.

The Committee on Rules reported a rule (House Resolution 122) providing for the consideration of House Concurrent Resolution 25 (113th Congress). The rule provided for four hours of general debate: three hours controlled by the Chair and Ranking Minority Member of the Committee on the Budget, equally divided; and one hour on the subject of economic goals and policies equally divided between the Chair and Ranking Minority Member of the Joint Economic Committee or their designees.

The Resolution specified certain amendments in order and waived all points of order against consideration of the concurrent resolution.

After the adoption of House Resolution 122, floor debate on House Concurrent Resolution 25 proceeded on March 20 and 21, 2013. The Committee of the Whole passed House Resolution 122 on March 19, 2013.

The Committee of the Whole proceeded with four hours of general debate on the resolution and then proceeded to full substitute amendments:

Amendment No. 1: An amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by Representative Mulvaney [SC-5] was defeated. Failed by recorded vote: 154-261 (Roll no. 83).

Amendment No. 2: An amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by Representative Scott [VA-3] was defeated. Failed by recorded vote: 105-305, 1 Present (Roll no. 84).

Amendment No. 3: An amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by Representative Grijalva [AZ-3] was defeated. Failed by recorded vote: 84-327, 1 Present (Roll no. 85).

Amendment No. 4: An amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by Representative Woodall [GA-7] was defeated. Failed by recorded vote: 104-132, 171 Present (Roll no. 86).

Amendment No. 5: An amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by Representative Van Hollen [MD-8] was defeated. Failed by recorded vote: 165-253 (Roll no. 87).

The fiscal year 2014 concurrent resolution on the budget passed the House on March 21, 2013. On agreeing to the resolution: Agreed to by the Yeas and Nays: 221-207 (Roll no. 88).

On March 22, 2013, the House-passed fiscal year 2014 concurrent resolution on the budget (House Concurrent Resolution 25) was received in the Senate and placed on the Senate Calendar under General Orders Calendar No. 33.

On October 16, 2013, Mr. Ryan (WI) made a unanimous consent request that the House be considered to have taken from the Speaker's table S. Con. Res. 8; adopted an amendment in the nature of a substitute consisting of the text of H. Con. Res. 25, as adopted by the House; adopted such concurrent resolution, as amended; insisted on its amendment; and requested a conference with the Senate thereon; and during the remainder of the 113th Congress, it shall not be in order to offer a motion under clause 7(c) of rule 22 with respect to S. Con. Res. 8. This unanimous consent request was agreed to without objection. The Speaker appointed conferees. The Senate disagreed to the House amendment, but agreed to the request for a conference, and appointed conferees.

On October 17, 2013, a message on the Senate's action was sent to the House.

On October 30, 2013, the Budget Conference Committee held its first meeting.

On November 13, 2013, the Budget Conference Committee held its second meeting.

On December 12, 2013, Mr. Ryan (WI) moved that the House recede and concur with an amendment in the Senate amendment to House Joint Resolution 59. On motion that the House recede and concur with an amendment in the Senate amendment: Agreed to by recorded vote: 332-94 (Roll no. 640). This House amendment included legislation putting in place a budget resolution for FY 2014, as well as other changes in law.

OTHER LEGISLATIVE ACTIVITIES

H.Res.5, Adopting Rules for the 113th Congress

The organizing resolution (H.Res.5) adopted by the House on January 3, 2013 at the commencement of the 113th Congress contained several provisions related to the congressional budget process. House Resolution 5 provides that the Rules of the 112th Congress are the Rules of the 113th Congress. In the 112th Congress, House Resolution 5 (112th) replaced the Pay-As-You-Go requirement with a Cut-As-You-Go requirement. The latter prohibits consideration of legislation if it has the net effect of increasing direct spending within a five- or ten-year budget window.

The next provision requires the inclusion in the Cut-As-You-Go evaluation of legislation of the entire text of a separate House-passed measure or measures added as new matter to such legislation pursuant to special order of the House.

Further, House Resolution 5 excludes from such evaluation any provision expressly designated as an emergency for the Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010 (but not any amendment so designated, which is subjected to the evaluation).

A third provision repealed rule XXVIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, which provided for an automatic engrossment and transmittal to the Senate of a joint resolution changing the public debt limit, upon the adoption of a congressional budget resolution. Rule XXVIII allowed for the House to avoid a separate vote on public debt limit legislation.

Next, the resolution authorizes the chair of the Budget Committee to provide authoritative guidance concerning the impact of a legislative proposal on the levels of new budget authority, outlays, direct spending, new entitlement authority, and revenues codified as clause 4 of rule XXIX of the Rules of the House of Representatives.

The resolution also amended the budget enforcement process, making it out of order in the House to consider general appropriations legislation that (1) provides spending authority beyond what is actually derived from receipts deposited in the Highway Trust Fund (excluding any transfers that have already occurred from the General Fund of the Treasury); or (2) spends those receipts for any purpose other than authorized activities for the highway or mass transit categories. Furthermore, House Resolution 5 makes it out of order to consider a budget resolution, amendment, or conference report containing reconciliation directives that specify changes in law that would cause an increase in net direct spending.

House Resolution 5 also provides that in the first session of the 113th Congress and prior to the adoption of a fiscal year 2014 budget resolution the provisions of H. Con. Res. 112 (112th Congress) remain in force and effect and the allocations of spending authority included in tables 11 and 12 of House Report 112-421 (112th Congress) shall be regarded as the allocations under section 302 (a) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 in the House.

Additionally, House Resolution 5 specifies separate orders relating to the treatment of legislation in view of certain budget requirements of these Rules, including orders concerning: (1) spending reduction amendments in appropriations bills and (2) estimates of direct spending in concurrent resolutions on the budget.

H.R. 1871, Baseline Reform Act of 2013

On June 19, 2013, the Committee on the Budget reported H.R. 1871, the Baseline Reform Act of 2013. This bill addressed the baseline's assumption of higher spending each year and removed this pro-spending bias. Specifically, this bill removes the assumption that discretionary spending will increase by inflation in each year of the baseline. In addition, it removes the exceptions to the general inflationary rule for expiring housing contracts, social-insurance administrative expenses, and annualization of federal-employee pay. It also codifies the Congressional Budget Office's current practice of providing a long-term budget outlook no later than July 1 each year. Finally, the Baseline Reform Act does not change how mandatory or revenue baselines are calculated.

H.R. 1874, Pro-Growth Budgeting Act of 2013

On July 19, 2013, the Committee on the Budget reported H.R. 1874, the Pro-Growth Budgeting Act of 2013. This bill requires the Congressional Budget Office to prepare an analysis of the effect that major legislation would have on the U.S. economy. This macro-economic impact analysis would be supplemental information in addition to the official congressional cost estimate of the legislation.

House Amendment to H. J. Res. 59, Bipartisan Budget Act of 2013

The Bipartisan Budget Act (BBA) was a House amendment to the Senate amendment to House Joint Resolution 59. The BBA establishes an enforceable budget for fiscal year 2014 as well as a process for the timely adoption of an enforceable budget for fiscal year 2015. Additionally, the BBA authorizes an increase in discretionary spending for fiscal years 2014 and 2015. It specifically provides $63 billion in sequester relief over two years, split evenly between defense and non-defense programs. This discretionary sequester relief is more than fully offset by $85 billion in savings elsewhere in the budget through specific, concrete spending cuts, which eliminate waste, cut corporate welfare, and take steps toward real reform and not tax increases. Among these offsets, the BBA extends the mandatory sequester for two more years, fiscal years 2022 and 2023, which will result in $28 billion in savings. The legislation reduces the deficit by $23 billion over ten years.

BUDGET ENFORCEMENT

One of the responsibilities of the Committee on the Budget is to monitor legislation to be considered on the floor of the House and what implications such legislation would have for spending and revenue. The Committee provided ongoing oversight of the Office of Management and Budget's implementation of budget submission, control, execution and enforcement procedures under the Budget and Accounting Act of 1921, the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the Budget Enforcement Act of 1990, the Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010, and the Budget Control Act of 2011.

Pursuant to Section 312 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 and rule XXIX of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Chairman is provided authority to give guidance concerning the impact of a legislative proposition on the levels of new budget authority, outlays, direct spending, new entitlement authority, and revenues.

Additionally, the Committee monitored reclassifications of budget accounts, re-estimates of the subsidies of credit programs, consistency in cost estimates for direct spending and tax bills, compliance with the relevant laws, in the development of budget projections and changes in spend-out rates for discretionary programs.

The Committee provided guidance to the Committee on Appropriations and the authorizing committees to ensure that spending and tax legislation did not breach the appropriate levels in the budget resolution as required under sections 302(f), 303(a) and 311(a) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974 or violate any budget-related provisions of the Rules of the House of Representatives.

ECONOMIC POLICY

The Committee has studied, and will continue to study, how economic policies affect the Federal budget.

OVERSIGHT ACTIVITIES

The primary responsibility of the Budget Committee is the development of a concurrent budget resolution that sets spending and revenue levels in aggregate and across major functional categories. These budget functions encompass all Federal programs and activities. Certain programs are considered off-budget, such as Social Security and the Postal Service, and some are considered non-budgetary, such as the Federal Reserve.

The subject matter of the budget is inherently broad, but the Committee's formal oversight responsibility focuses on law governing the budget process and the agencies responsible for administering elements of those laws. Under clauses 1(d)(2) and (3) of House Rule X, the major laws falling within its oversight are the Budget and Accounting Act of 1921, the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, the Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010, and the Budget Control Act of 2011. The two agencies with primary responsibility for administering elements of these laws and hence which fall under the Committee's jurisdiction are the Office of Management and Budget and the Congressional Budget Office.

In addition to these general oversight responsibilities, the Budget Committee has the special oversight responsibility under clause 3(c) of House rule X to study the effect on budget outlays of existing and proposed legislation and under clause 4(b)(6) of House rule X to request and evaluate continuing studies of tax expenditures.

The House Budget Committee met on February 13, 2013 to organize for the 113th Congress. In addition to adopting rules of procedure, the Committee also adopted a written oversight plan. The Committee held hearings in the process of developing the annual concurrent budget resolution. Additionally, the Committee received testimony from Members of Congress, Cabinet level and other Federal officials, State and local officials, and expert witnesses to review the budget and economic outlook, the President's budget submissions and other budget and economic matters.

The Committee oversight plan calls for continuous assessment of the performance of Federal agencies in both the administration and service delivery by reviewing performance data in the President's budget submissions and the relevant reports and audits of the Government Accountability Office and the Offices of the Inspectors General.

Pursuant to the Committee's request, the Government Accountability Office published the following reports:

March 1 Joint Committee Sequestration for Fiscal Year 2013 [7/31/2013]

Budget Issues: Key Questions to Consider When Evaluating Balances in Federal Accounts [9/30/2013]

Federal User Fees: Fee Design Options and Implications for Managing Revenue Instability [9/30/2013]

Fiscal Exposures: Improving Cost Recognition in the Federal Budget [10/29/2013]

Sequestration: Observations on the Department of Defense's Approach in Fiscal Year 2013 [11/7/2013]

The oversight plan specifically calls on the Committee to study the budgetary effect of existing law and proposed legislation, as well as government regulation on government spending and to explore ways of reducing waste, fraud, and abuse in government agencies. Furthermore, the Committee drew on the authorizing Committees' Views and Estimates on the President's budget, that are submitted to the Committee pursuant to section 301(d) of the Congressional Budget Act, to coordinate its oversight activities with other committees.

The House Budget Committee will continue to review the budgetary treatment of assistance to, and ongoing operations of: Federal National Mortgage Association (Fannie Mae) and Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (Freddie Mac). Moreover, the Committee plan calls for continued oversight of the Office of Management and Budget's implementation of budget submission, control, execution, and enforcement procedures under the Budget and Accounting Act of 1921, the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the Budget Enforcement Act of 1990, the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985, the Statutory Pay-As-You-Go Act of 2010, and other applicable laws. The oversight plan also calls for the evaluation and study of direct spending and tax policies.

HOUSE BUDGET COMMITTEE DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS SUMMARY REPORT

The primary goal of a federal budget should be to immediately accelerate job growth and place our economy on a stable long-term foundation. During the debate on the budget resolution on March 20, Democrats offered a budget that does this by investing in national priorities, replacing the job-killing sequester, and reducing the long-term deficit in a balanced way. It provides for vital investments to ensure that America remains the world's economic powerhouse. It allocates resources to put people back to work modernizing the roads, bridges, ports and other infrastructure that forms the backbone of our economy. It also invests in our nation's most valuable resource—our children—by boosting support for education, including an early education initiative. It replaces the deep sequester cuts hurting our economy, costing us 800,000 American jobs by this time next year, according to the Congressional Budget Office. That is a self-inflicted wound that we cannot afford. Finally, it adopts the balanced approach to long-term deficit reduction recommended by every bipartisan group, with a combination of targeted savings in mandatory spending programs and cuts to tax breaks enjoyed by millionaires.

In addition to the budget resolution, in the first session of the 113th Congress Budget Committee Democrats offered proposals reflecting these priorities as alternatives and amendments to Republican budget legislation. Budget Committee Democrats also made repeated efforts to convene a conference on the budget resolution to produce an agreement that would repeal the sequester while providing support for necessary services. (Ultimately, six months after the statutory deadline for completing the budget, the House named budget conferees.) In addition, the Democratic Caucus of the Budget Committee published a variety of materials that highlight concerns with the Republican legislation and that explain the Democratic approach and proposals.

LEGISLATION OFFERED BY THE DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS

H.R. 699, THE STOP THE SEQUESTER JOB LOSS NOW ACT

On February 14, 2013, Rep. Van Hollen introduced the Stop the Sequester Job Loss Now Act to eliminate the sequester for calendar year 2013 entirely while reducing the deficit by more than the amount of the scheduled across-the-board spending cuts. The bill makes specific policy choices that reduce the deficit in a balanced way, with a mix of spending cuts and additional revenue from closing tax breaks for special interests and the very wealthy. The bill also calls for a balanced solution to stop the full multi-year sequester. Democrats made repeated attempts to offer this legislation and similar proposals as an amendment to multiple budget and appropriations bills, but the Republican leadership repeatedly blocked efforts to vote on these measures.

FISCAL YEAR 2014 BUDGET RESOLUTION

On March 13, 2013, during the House Budget Committee markup of the Republican budget resolution, Democrats offered 23 different amendments to eliminate the most harmful provisions and improve the budget. The amendments were designed to put Americans back to work in the short-term, grow the economy through wise investments, protect the middle class from tax increases, protect government guarantees to our seniors, preserve the safety net for those who need it, and reduce the deficit wisely through a balanced approach. None of the amendments would have increased the deficit, and in fact, several would have reduced the deficit. The amendments offset proposed spending by reducing future unnecessary funding for the war or by cutting special interest tax breaks, including subsidies for big oil companies, egregious tax breaks such as preferential tax treatment for corporate jets, tax loopholes that encourage the outsourcing of manufacturing and result in fewer American jobs, and additional tax breaks for the wealthiest in society. Republicans rejected every Democratic amendment to reduce the deficit or invest in vital national priorities.

On March 20, 2013, on the House floor Budget Committee Democrats offered a substitute to the Republican 2014 budget resolution. The Democratic budget promotes job creation and economic growth, makes key investments in America's future, keeps our commitments to our seniors, and strengthens the middle class. It also takes a targeted and balanced approach to reducing our long-term deficit, and calls for shared responsibility to build shared prosperity.

H.RES. 174, RESOLUTION URGING CONFERENCE TO COMPLETE THE FISCAL YEAR 2014 BUDGET RESOLUTION

On April 23, 2013, Budget Committee Democrats introduced H.Res. 174, which expresses the sense of the House of Representatives that the Speaker should immediately request a conference and appoint conferees to complete work on a fiscal year 2014 budget resolution with the Senate. On June 20, 2013, Democrats filed a motion to discharge the resolution from the Budget Committee to bring it to the House floor for a vote. Democrats made repeated attempts to offer this legislation as an amendment to budget and appropriations bills.

H.R. 2060, STOP THE SEQUESTER JOB LOSS NOW ACT THROUGH 2014

On May 20, 2013, Rep. Van Hollen introduced H.R. 2060 to eliminate the entire sequester for both fiscal year 2013 and 2014 while reducing the deficit by more than the amount of the scheduled spending cuts. The bill makes specific policy choices that reduce the deficit in a balanced way, with a mix of spending cuts and additional revenue by limiting special tax preferences. The bill also calls for a balanced solution to stop the full multi-year sequester.

BUDGET PROCESS LEGISLATION

On June 19, 2013, the Budget Committee marked up two relatively minor budget process bills: the Baseline Reform Act of 2013 (H.R. 1871), and the Pro-Growth Budgeting Act of 2013 (H.R. 1874). During the markup, Democrats offered three amendments designed to address urgent fiscal issues facing the country, but Republicans used procedural roadblocks to prevent votes on all three amendments.

The first amendment, offered by Rep. Van Hollen, is one he had repeatedly tried to offer at the House Rules Committee but was denied a floor vote each time. The amendment completely replaced the sequester for the remainder of fiscal year 2013 and for all of fiscal year 2014, and reduced the deficit by an additional $30 billion through a mix of targeted cuts to spending and tax expenditures. It replaced the sequester and reduced the deficit—but unlike the sequester’s deep and arbitrary cuts, did so in a way that will not cost hundreds of thousands of jobs, close Head Start centers, or kick seniors off of Meals on Wheels.

The second amendment, offered by Rep. Moore, called on the Speaker of the House to immediately name budget conferees so that Congress could move forward with the process to adopt a budget resolution conference agreement. It simply required Congress to follow the budget rules already in place. Current budget law requires the Conference Committee to complete action by April 15, but Speaker Boehner was refusing to appoint conferees.

The third amendment, offered by Rep. McDermott, established a new House point of order against consideration of a “deeming resolution” when the House and Senate have passed budget resolutions and no budget conferees have been named. Resorting to a “deemer” to establish budget enforcement when both Houses have produced a budget but conferees have not been appointed is admitting defeat before the process starts. If both bodies have passed a budget, there is no reason to pretend that one of them is adopted—there should be a conference to work out a final deal. Adopting a deeming resolution before a formal attempt at reaching a conference agreement is putting the cart before the horse, which is exactly what the Republican House did this year.

H.RES. 372, TO CONSIDER LEGISLATION TO REOPEN THE GOVERNMENT

On October 4, 2013, Rep. Van Hollen introduced H.Res. 372, a resolution to allow a vote on legislation that would end the government shutdown that began on October 1 by providing funding at the Senate-approved levels until November 15, 2013. The Republican leadership refused to allow a vote on that, and allowed the shameful and unnecessary shutdown to continue through October 16, 2013.
