

5 HYSTERIA Opening in limited release, the naughty, knowing Hysteria follows a doctor (Hugh Dancy) in Victorian England who treats female malaise with his new invention: the vibrator. Maggie Gyllenhaal plays the forthright woman who has doubts about the good doctor's diagnoses. (Rated R)

7 HIP HOP SQUARES We're not bluffing: MTV gives the classic game show a fun, refreshing twist, with a heavyweight lineup of cube dwellers including Method Man, Common, and Chiddy Bang. (MTV2, Tuesdays, 11 p.m.)

8. ...YA KNOW?,
Joey Ramone

Lucky for us, the Ramones' late singer was a prolific songwriter. This excellent posthumous solo album—with guests like Joan Jett and Steven Van Zandt—polishes his many unused demos, including some originally written for the band.

9. THE RECKONING,
by Jane Casey

In Casey's dramatic, expertly crafted thriller, set in London, young detective constable Maeve Kerrigan is eager to prove herself in a male-dominated police department as she pursues a serial killer who is targeting sex offenders.

10 THE SECRET WORLD OF ARRIETTY, DVD and Blu-ray

Written and produced by visionary Japanese director Hayao Miyazaki (Spirited Away), this entrancing tale of a miniature "Borrower" living under the floorboards of a human home sweeps you up in its elegant, dreamy animation. (Rated G)

HATFIELDS & McCOYS

You don't need to pick a side to get a kick out of watching Kevin Costner (above) and Bill Paxton bring the famously long feud between two backcountry families to life in the winning three-part miniseries. (History, debuts May 28, 9 p.m.)
