Our favorite summer benefit? More daylight hours to shop summer deals. Put those super-cute sandals on and get out there stat. But first things first, make sure to use your Schick® Quattro for Women® Disposable Razors and Skintimate® Shave Gel. These beauty BFFs smell fantastic and keep your legs looking silky smooth so you can shop 'til you drop (or until that last ounce of sunshine says adios).

Reviews You Can Use

The best entertainment to keep you busy all month long

TV

Magic City Catch up on this snazzy Starz show (it premiered in April) about the Miami Beach hotel business. Set in 1959, it stars Jeffrey Dean Morgan—hello again, Denny's ghost from Grey's!—as Ike Evans, the stylish owner of the Miramar Playa Hotel. BOTTOM LINE: Sure, it's a little Mad Men-derivative (those retro clothes! Everyone smokes!), but it's still good, period, mobster-y fun.

Movies

What to Expect When You're Expecting This star-packed film adaptation of the 1984 book (with J.Lo, Cameron Diaz, and Elizabeth Banks) could have been another New Year's Eve-esque mess, but it entertains with solid performances, including Chace Crawford as a reformed ladies' man. BOTTOM LINE: Even if you don't have babies on the brain, you'll find something to love in this movie.

Music

Regina Spektor, What We Saw From the Cheap Seats The reigning quirky-lady singer-songwriter's new album, out May 29, is filled with more of her signature combo of sad lyrics set to boppy, cheerful melodies.

Singer Emile Sandé has the coolest hair!

See who and what we're crushing on every day on the Obsessed blog at glamour.com/entertainment.

What to Expect When You're Expecting

BOTTOM LINE: If you like Spektor—and we do—this is a no-brainer download. Emile Sandé, Our Version of Events This 24-year-old Scottish artist has toured with Coldplay and cowritten a song with Alicia Keys, and she'll win America over on June 5 with her soulful pop debut. BOTTOM LINE: Sandé's got a Leona Lewis vibe, and this album is awesome.

Books

The Song Remains the Same, by Allison Winn Scotch This juicy amnesia novel follows a young art dealer who lost her memory in a plane crash and has to piece together the mysterious remnants of her life. Dun, dun, dun! BOTTOM LINE: Seriously, don't you already want to know the ending?

OK, Celebs: Your TV Addictions?

Summer's coming, which means reruns! So what shows are A-listers DVR-ing? They told Glamour, at right.

"iCarly is really big in our house. I know every episode! I really enjoy it."
—Brad Pitt

"I'm addicted to Top Chef: Padma!"
—Kristen Wiig

"The Real Housewives of Beverly Hills is maybe the greatest reality show that has ever existed."
—Neil Patrick Harris

"Extreme Makeover: Home Edition gets me every time. My boyfriend and I just sob."
—Diane Kruger
