

Britney Spears TOUGH 'AT TIMES'

Simon Cowell would have been proud. At X Factors' Kansas City, Mo., auditions June 8 and 9, Britney Spears, 30, sat by U.K. judge Louis Walsh (subbing for a sick Cowell) and passed out her fair share of barbs: "That was very boring," she told one stunned contestant. "She's a harsh judge at times," says a show insider. "But she's also prepared to stick her neck out and support someone."

LINDSAY'S LATEST SETBACK

Lindsay Lohan is in hot water again. Sources close to law enforcement say she lied to police by telling them she wasn't the driver when her Porsche collided with a dump truck on June 8. If she did lie, that could be a potential probation violation in her necklace-theft and DUI cases, and she could face a 245-day jail sentence. A bruised Lohan, 25, returned to the Liz & Dick set later that afternoon. Says a source: "She's in shock more than anything."

PAULY D & J-WOWW

On June 8, Ronnie Ortiz-Magro, 26, Mike "The Situation" Sorrentino, 30, and their friends got into a fight at the Bamboo Bar after a patron shoved Pauly D, 31, says owner John Saaddy. (There were no serious injuries, but J-WOWW hurt her ankle after trying to get her beau Roger Mathews out of the way.)

SNOOKI

Despite saying pregnant women should stay out of clubs (see page 46) Nicole "Snooki" Polizzi, 24, hit Karma nightclub June 9 while filming. Even so, "she was sitting the whole time," says an onlooker, who adds she was not drinking. "It was very subdued of her!"

DEENA

Capping off a weekend of partying, Deena Cortese was arrested June 10 for disorderly conduct. After leaving Spicy Cantina eatery, "she began dancing in the street, running around and impeding the flow of traffic," says Seaside Heights detective Steve Korman. After being taken to the police station and processed, Cortese, 25, was released into the custody of her parents.
