

Congressman Michael C. Burgess, M.D.

Congressional Washington D.C. Internship Program

Congressional Washington D.C. Internship Program Overview

Congressman Burgess' internship program was established to provide students an in-depth look at the American political process by learning how various Washington DC entities formulate public policy and how other governmental agencies interact with that process. The program's objective is to provide students with insights into the policy-making process and public life by working in governmental, nonprofit and private sector placement in our nation's capital. Furthermore, the internship offers students real world experiences where they can apply their classroom learning. During the internship, students will refine their career interests, develop leadership skills and gain a deeper understanding of American politics.

Please Note: Due to limited office salary resources, there are no paid internship positions available. All interns will serve in an unpaid status. In addition, interns are responsible for their living arrangements and all living expenses during their internship.

Along with the application on the following page, please include the following:

- In an essay, please explain why you are interested in a Washington DC internship; how it will enhance your education or career goals; and the issues or policy areas that interest you. This essay should be typed, double-spaced and 1,000 words or less.
- Resume
- Official college transcript
- No more than two letters of recommendation
