Unemployment Insurance

Administrator	Georgia’s Unemployment Insurance Program (GUI)
Description	The Unemployment Insurance (UI) program provides temporary income for workers who are unemployed through no fault of their own and who are either looking for another job, have a definite recall to their jobs within 6 weeks of the last day worked, or are in approved training. The funding for unemployment insurance benefits comes from taxes paid by employers. Workers do not pay any costs. Eligibility for benefits is determined based on past wages, reason for job separation, and availability and job search requirements. Claims are effective on the date they are filed and are not retroactive to the last day worked. Unemployment claims can be filed in person at any Georgia Department of Labor (GDOL) career center or by Internet from any computer with appropriate Internet access.

Georgia also offers gap training aimed at helping to improve Certificate scores, enabling career growth and continued on-the-job success. Bond Allocation Program

Administration	Bond Allocation Program
Description	Pursuant to state and federal law, the department administers the "Georgia Allocation System" for local and state government issuing authorities seeking to issue "private activity tax exempt bonds". Georgia is authorized to use up to $85 per capita a year, or approximately $811 million for projects ranging from the traditional industrial development bond (IDB) for manufacturing concerns and mortgage revenue bonds (MRB) for single family mortgages to bonds for multi-family housing development and exempt facility bonds. The department utilizes a very specific application procedure that ensures allocation is available throughout the year. Allocation amounts are set aside for economic development purposes, housing purposes, and purposes such as solid waste disposal. To receive an allocation, the local issuing authorities must approve the project, hold a public hearing, have local government approval, and general financing in place. Economic development projects must commit to create or retain 1 job for every $125,000 of financing. Multi-family housing projects must demonstrate that a minimum number of units will be set aside for low to moderate income families and single-family proposals must demonstrate the ability to turn allocations into cost-effective mortgages for first-time low and moderate income home buyers. The bottom line is that use of this scarce resource allows for lower than normal financing costs, resulting in the creation or retention of jobs and expansion of affordable housing.
