

Guide to Grants

From the Office of Congresswoman Terri A. Sewell

Proudly Representing Alabama's 7th Congressional District

September 8, 2014

Welcome to the Guide to Grants!

I am honored to represent the 7th Congressional District of Alabama. One of the most important responsibilities as your representative is to provide you with information about funding opportunities. Now more than ever, grant opportunities are vital to the success of our local governments, organizations and other entities. This weekly guide will identify federal and foundation grant opportunities to assist you in goals for our communities. This Guide will include links to grant writing resources to help you make your proposals more successful. This Guide will also describe new funding opportunities for economic development, infrastructure, healthcare and educational projects as example. In addition, I am pleased to provide a Letter of Support for grant application projects in the 7th Congressional District of Alabama. Please let us know when grants are awarded, especially if you found the opportunities in the Guide to Grants.

For more information, please visit the website at <http://sewell.house.gov/> and you can subscribe to Guide to Grants at: <https://sewell.house.gov/subscribe-to-weekly-guide-to-grants> or call 202-225-2665. STATEMENT FROM CONGRESSWOMAN SEWELL IN OBSERVANCE OF LABOR DAY

Birmingham, AL – Today, Congresswoman Terri A. Sewell issued the following statement in recognition of Labor Day, which will be observed on Monday, September 1, 2014:

“On Labor Day, we pay tribute to the hardworking men and women whose resilience, responsibility, and sacrifice are the foundation of our nation’s strength. Our top priority in Congress must be to honor the grit and determination of American workers by defending and strengthening their rights, wages, and benefits.

Our national unemployment rates are at the lowest they’ve been in years, the housing market is rebounding, our deficits have been cut in half, and the manufacturing industry is adding jobs for the first time since the 1990’s. The American worker has been the catalyst for this economic growth. In return, we must continue our effort to put people back to work. Our policies must reflect a steadfast commitment to ensuring that all of America’s workers are benefitting from the economic growth that their relentless strength cultivated.

This is why I am proud to support the House Democrats’ ‘Make It In America’ and ‘When Women Succeed, America Succeeds’ economic agendas. These action plans highlight House Democrats’ pro-growth agenda to strengthen our nation’s manufacturing sector, create good paying jobs, raise the minimum wage, and close the wage gap. This Labor Day we are called to stand in defense of American workers and the benefits they have earned by fighting for greater prosperity for all Americans and their families.”

USDA SEEKS APPLICATIONS FOR GRANTS TO INCREASE ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY AND IMPROVE THE QUALITY OF LIFE IN RURAL AREAS

Washington, DC - Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack today announced that USDA is seeking applications for grants that will be awarded to organizations to provide critical financial and technical assistance to recipients to develop and strengthen their capacity to carry out housing, community facilities and community and economic development projects.

"Many rural nonprofits often need capital and technical assistance to carry out their missions," Vilsack said. "These grants will provide both of these components through local and regional organizations that are experts at delivering such services."

USDA is making nearly $6 million available to qualified organizations under the Rural Community Development Initiative (RCDI).

Recipients must be non-profit organizations, low-income rural communities, or federally recognized tribes. Intermediary organizations are required to provide matching funds at least equal to the RCDI grant. The grants do not go directly to business recipients but rather through qualified intermediaries.

The deadline for submitting RCDI applications is November 12, 2014. Applications must be submitted to the USDA Rural Development state office where the applicant's headquarters are located. More information about the program and how to apply is available on page 47427 of the August 13, 2014 Federal Register.

Here is an example of how the RCDI program is helping rural communities. The Western Maine Community Action Program (WMCAP) has received several RCDI grants in recent years to help low-and very-low-income seniors maintain their independence and remain in their homes through the Keeping Seniors Home Program. Started in 2004, this program has served nearly 3,000 low-income senior homeowners in Maine. WMCAP is also working on a regional job creation plan to train energy auditors, private contractors, and other community partners to provide additional support services to Maine's elderly rural citizens.

President Obama's historic investments in rural America have made our rural communities stronger. Under his leadership, these investments in housing, community facilities, businesses and infrastructure have empowered rural America to continue leading the way – strengthening America's economy, small towns and rural communities.

UWA, BLACK BELT COMMISSION OFFER SECOND ANNUAL HOMEGROWN SMALL BUSINESS CONFERENCE

Work from Home...Inside or Out!

TUSCALOOSA, AL—The University of West Alabama Small Business Development Center and the Alabama Black Belt Commission will host the second annual Homegrown Small Business Conference on Friday, September 26, 2014.

The conference, to be held at Shelton State Community College, will include two tracks: the first focuses on farming and agribusiness, and the second targets women and youth who want to start businesses in their home. Donald Mills, chairman of the Black Belt Commission's Small Business Development Committee and director of the University of West Alabama's Small Business Development Center, said, "This will be a great opportunity for a diverse set of entrepreneurs to come together and get the tools they need to succeed in business."

Opening the conference will be Charles Spurlin, owner of The Shirt Shop in downtown Tuscaloosa. He will share lessons he has learned as a successful business owner. "We were so pleased that Mr. Spurlin agreed to be our opening speaker," said Ginger Stewart, project manager for the Small Business Development Committee. "He is an excellent example of how small businesses are the lifeblood of a community. He's done so much to grow and maintain downtown, and he's extremely adept at marketing and branding."

For the luncheon keynote address, 11-year-old Moziah Bridges of Memphis will be traveling to Tuscaloosa to inspire the audience. Moziah, CEO of Mo's Bows, has been featured in national media for his successful entrepreneurship. Mo has appeared in magazines including O: The Oprah Magazine, GQ, Forbes, Vogue, Glamour and Esquire and has appeared on the television program Shark Tank. “Mo’s bow tie business earned over $30,000 last year,” Stewart said. “He’s a real go-getter. Plus, he’s adorable! We can’t wait for the audience to meet him.”

Breakout sessions will include testimonials from other entrepreneurs, information on resources and loans, and technology. Attendees will also learn how to write a business plan, which Mills said is “the first step to getting any business off the ground.”

The program opens at 8:30 a.m., with registration beginning at 7:45 a.m. However, conference organizers encourage interested parties to contact the University of West Alabama Small Business Development Center at (205) 652-3665 to pre-register. More information and online registration are also available at www.westalabamaconferencesandevents.com.

The Alabama Black Belt Commission is Governor Bentley’s task force for improving conditions in twelve of the state’s most impoverished counties. The Small Business Development Committee assists Black Belt entrepreneurs and business owners in creating and growing their own enterprises.

ATTENTION VETERANS:

FACT SHEET: Veterans Employment Center

The online Veterans Employment Center is the single federal source for Veterans looking for new career opportunities in the private and public sectors, as well as Service Members transitioning to the civilian workforce, military and Veteran spouses and dependents looking for employment opportunities, GI Bill beneficiaries transitioning from training to the job market and employers looking to connect with high quality applicants. It is the first interagency tool that brings together public and private job opportunities with resume building and other career tools currently offered on a variety of websites together in one place.

Through the online Veterans Employment Center, Veterans, transitioning Service Members and spouses are connected to high quality career choices by matching their identified skills with available public and private job opportunities. The site is built using an open application programming interface (API) to attract private sector innovation.

Veteran Applicant Resources:

- Quick public resume posting with an instant connection to thousands of public and private employers
- Target job search based on specific, high-demand career paths
- Single search for both public and private sector positions
- Military skills translator and resume generator
- Social media integration with popular bookmarking sites for saving job postings

Employer Resources:

- Access targeted feed of qualified resumes from Veteran applicants
- View reverse skills translation (military to civilian skills) for applicants
- Set Veterans hiring goals and track progress
- Connect to resources designed to help recruit and retain talented, Veteran employees

In connection with the First Lady and Dr. Biden's Joining Forces initiative, the Department of Veterans Affairs worked with the Departments of Defense, Labor, and Education, and the Office of Personnel Management to design and develop the site and incorporate features of existing online employment tools at each agency. The result is an upgrade to the existing Veterans Job Bank and an integrated solution connecting Veterans, transitioning Service Members and employers.

Employers, Veterans and transitioning Service Members deserve a single, authoritative source for connecting to each other. Now that the core tools and an integrated search function exist in one single location, each agency is engaged in minimizing duplication and redundancy of current sites and services.
