After sharing the DoD's $9 million goal, the Deputy Secretary of Defense affirmed "I am absolutely certain we can make it, based on the enthusiasm of those who connect with people and work to make this happen."

Defense Department employees' contributions are 67 percent higher than the national average in the annual Combined Federal Campaign. The Deputy Secretary of Defense attributes the success of the campaign to, "The incredibly generous spirit of everyone who volunteers for public service, either in the Department of Defense or in the military of our nation; and second, because we have CFC volunteers who go out and inspire and incite this spirit to give to their fellow

DON's $2.5 Million Campaign is Underway

On September 15, the Department of the Navy kicked off their Combined Federal Campaign in the Pentagon Hall of Heroes. The event featured keynote remarks from Mr. Andrew Edwards, founder of the Academic Empowerment Foundation (AEF). AEF is a charity that supports the academic needs of high school students within the Washington DC Metropolitan Area. The AEF represented the over 20,000 charities that benefit from funds raised by the CFC.

The CFC has a powerful impact on the welfare of the community, This year, the Department of Navy has set a goal of $2.5 million, which is the highest goal throughout the entire CFCNCA. In order to reach (and exceed) this goal it is critical to participate in the ongoing events and fundraisers that will take place throughout the campaign.

Mr. Thomas Hicks, VADM Joseph Mulloy and Gen Glenn Walters were present at the Department of the Navy's Kickoff Ceremony
