

114TH CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

H. RES. 130

To express the sense of the House of Representatives regarding the rise of anti-Semitism in Europe and to encourage greater cooperation with the European governments, the European Union, and the Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe in preventing and responding to anti-Semitism.

---

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

FEBRUARY 27, 2015

Mr. HASTINGS (for himself and Mr. DOLD) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs

---

RESOLUTION

To express the sense of the House of Representatives regarding the rise of anti-Semitism in Europe and to encourage greater cooperation with the European governments, the European Union, and the Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe in preventing and responding to anti-Semitism.

Whereas an alarming increase in anti-Semitic attacks and incidents targeting Jewish institutions, places of worship, and individuals continue to take place in Europe and remain a challenge to stability and security;

Whereas on January 9, 2015, 4 members of France's Jewish community were murdered in an attack on a kosher supermarket following the deadly terrorist attack on the Paris offices of newspaper Charlie Hebdo;

Whereas, in a 2014 Anti-Defamation League survey of attitudes towards Jews in more than 100 countries around the world—

(1) 24 percent of those surveyed in Western Europe expressed anti-Semitic views;

(2) 34 percent of those surveyed in Eastern Europe expressed anti-Semitic views; and

(3) a majority of those surveyed worldwide either had not heard of the Holocaust or do not believe that the factual accounts and recorded history of the Holocaust are accurate;

Whereas the European Union Agency for Fundamental Rights issued a report in 2013 on anti-Semitism in the 8 countries in which 90 percent of Europe's Jews reside, namely France, Germany, Hungary, Italy, Latvia, Belgium, Sweden, and the United Kingdom, in which 76 percent of respondents believed that anti-Semitism had worsened where they lived during the previous 5-year period;

Whereas France, which is home to Europe's largest Jewish population, reported that—

(1) twice as many French Jews immigrated to Israel during 2014 than had immigrated during 2013; and

(2) for the first time ever, more Jews moved to Israel from France than from any other country in the world;

Whereas anti-Semitic acts committed and recorded in European countries in 2014 included—

(1) murders and death threats against Jews; and

(2) arson, graffiti, and property desecration at Jewish sites, including Jewish cemeteries, places of worship, schools, and community centers;

Whereas such acts led many Jewish individuals to conceal their religious affiliation;

Whereas on May 24, 2014, a gunman killed 4 people when he opened fire at the Jewish Museum of Belgium in Brussels, Belgium;

Whereas on July 29, 2014, Molotov cocktails were thrown at the synagogue in Wuppertal, Germany, which had been burned to the ground by the Nazis during the 1938 Kristallnacht, and was rebuilt as recently as 2002;

Whereas the foreign ministers of France, Germany, and Italy issued a joint statement in July 2014, proclaiming: “Anti-Semitic rhetoric and hostility against Jews, attacks on people of Jewish belief and synagogues have no place in our societies”;

Whereas in September 2014, British Prime Minister David Cameron declared: “There can never be any excuse for anti-Semitism, and no disagreements on politics or policy should ever be allowed to justify racism, prejudice or extremism in any form”;

Whereas on January 13, 2015, French Prime Minister Manuel Valls spoke before the French National Assembly and declared that anti-Semitism must be dealt with “powerfully” and that “there has been an intolerable rise in acts of anti-Semitism in France [that] have not aroused the outrage expected by our Jewish compatriots”;

Whereas at the Tenth Anniversary of the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe’s (OSCE) Berlin

Conference on Anti-Semitism in November 2014, Samantha Power, the United States Ambassador to the United Nations, noted, “Rising anti-Semitism is rarely the lone or the last manifestation of intolerance in society. . . . When the human rights and fundamental freedoms of Jews are repressed, the rights and freedoms of other minorities and other sectors are often not far behind”;

Whereas the OSCE’s December 2014 Basel Declaration on Enhancing Efforts to Combat Anti-Semitism condemned “manifestations of anti-Semitism, intolerance and discrimination against Jews”, and protected the commitment to “declare unambiguously that international developments or political issues, including those with regard to the situation in the Middle East, never justify anti-Semitism”;

Whereas the Government of the United States has consistently supported efforts to address the rise of anti-Semitism through diplomatic efforts including engagement in international organizations such as the OSCE;

Whereas the Office to Monitor and Combat Anti-Semitism in the Department of State, which is headed by the Special Envoy to Monitor and Combat Anti-Semitism, has consistently supported European efforts to combat Anti-Semitism; and

Whereas at the urging of the United States and 36 other countries, including all European Union States, the United Nations General Assembly convened the first ever meeting on anti-Semitism on January 22, 2015, to consider ways to confront the long-standing and growing problem of anti-Semitism worldwide: Now, therefore, be it

1       Resolved, That the House of Representatives urges
2 the Secretary of State, the Attorney General, and other
3 relevant United States Government agencies and officials
4 to work closely with the European Union and European 5 governments to encourage further efforts to address anti-
6 Semitism by—

7                     (1) undertaking prompt, impartial, and effective
8 investigations of any acts of violence motivated by
9 anti-Semitism and fully prosecuting those respon-
10 sible for such violence within the extent of the law;

11                   (2) encouraging European countries and the
12 European Union to designate senior-level special en-
13 voys to monitor, prevent, and combat anti-Semitism
14 regionally and domestically;

15                   (3) cooperating with European counterparts on
16 developing programs to counter violent extremists
17 engaged in anti-Semitic activity;

18                   (4) encouraging the European Union and its
19 Member States to integrate measures to combat
20 anti-Semitism into relevant national strategies and 21 action plans by including measures to protect human
22 rights, religious tolerance, and equality, and to en-
23 sure hate crime and violence prevention;

24                   (5) increasing cooperation on training initiatives
25 related to hate crimes, particularly crimes motivated

1 by anti-Semitism, for law enforcement personnel,
2 and improving monitoring and reporting efforts;

3 (6) empowering civil society, including diverse
4 religious and ethnic groups, civil and human rights
5 organizations, and the business community, to fight
6 anti-Semitism and discrimination;

7 (7) convening regular consultations with Jewish
8 community organizations and non-Jewish civil and
9 human rights organizations to demonstrate visible
10 support, listen to concerns, and solicit recommenda-
11 tions on improving security and supporting victims;
12 and

13 (8) reaffirming and implementing the rec-
14 ommendations in the OSCE's December 2014 Basel
15 Declaration on Enhancing Efforts to Combat Anti-16 Semitism.

