Dear Friend,

Today on the Fox Business Network, I will appear on The Willis Report (5pm ET/4 pm CT) as part of a one-hour special on the Federal Aviation Administration's (FAA) obscure and illogical hiring procedures which have passed over the most qualified air traffic controller candidates and raised concerns of safety and transparency.

Although the FAA's sudden change in hiring standards last year clearly jeopardized air travel safety, it has refused to alter course. I reintroduced the Air Traffic Controllers Hiring Act of 2015 (H.R. 1964) to provide relief and reverse the effects of FAA actions.

This legislation makes sure we have the best and brightest in our control towers, provides relief to those who were unjustly shunted out of the interim hiring process, and pushes the FAA to change course on their new hiring procedures which have exacerbated the problem.

Please tune in!

In Your Service,
