

Michael Clarke, Ph.D., Senior Research Fellow, Griffith Asia Institute, Griffith University

Dr. Michael Clarke is a Senior Research Fellow at the Griffith Asia Institute. Since 2003 he has generated over 37 publications (books, edited books and refereed journal articles) on the history and politics of Xinjiang, Uyghur separatism and terrorism, Chinese foreign policy in Central Asia, global nuclear proliferation and non-proliferation dynamics and Australian foreign policy.

He is the author of Xinjiang and China's Rise in Central Asia – A History, (London: Routledge 2011) and regularly provides commentary to international and national media on Xinjiang and Uyghur issues, including BBC News, the Wall Street Journal, LA Times, The Guardian, USA Today, and the New York Times.