

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE ($213M)

- Fully funds the FBI's National Instant Criminal Background Check System
- Increases funding for the U.S. Attorneys and U.S. Marshals to address violent crime
- Provides funding for Department of Justice grant programs that help keep schools safe:
  - $75M for school safety grants
  - $10M for the VALOR Initiative (police officer safety and wellness programs)
  - $10M for the Police Act grants (active shooter training for police)
  - $94M for Youth Mentoring Grants (peer-to-peer mentoring for at-risk youth)
  - $20M for Violent Crime and Gun Crime Reduction / Project Safe Neighborhoods (gang enforcement efforts)
  - $4M for Gang and Youth Violence Education and Prevention

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION ($1.9B)

- Provides $90M for school safety national activities that improve students' safety and well-being during and after the school day
- Includes the longstanding Project SERV program that provides counseling and referrals for mental health services for schools affected by violent or traumatic crisis
- Includes $1.1B for Student Support and Academic Enrichment Grants that support safe and healthy students, including school mental health services, bullying and harassment prevention, mentoring and school counseling, and training for school personnel

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES ($205M)

$71M

for Project AWARE to provide state educational grants, grants to promote resilience in communities facing civil unrest, and mental health first aid grants for Healthy Transitions to provide grants to states to improve access to mental disorder treatment and support services for young people facing mental health conditions for SAMHSA's Minority Fellowship program to improve behavioral health care outcomes for racial and ethnic minority populations

$26M

$13M

$75M

to help expand the behavioral health workforce, including in rural and medically underserved areas, and increase access to child and adolescent services