CONSTITUTIONAL AUTHORITY STATEMENT

Pursuant to clause 7 of rule XII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the following statements are submitted regarding the specific powers granted to Congress in the Constitution to enact the accompanying bill or joint resolution.

By Mr. GRAVES of Missouri:

H.R. 6575.

Congress has the power to enact this legislation pursuant to the following:

By Mr. BILIRAKIS:

H.R. 6576. Congress has the power to enact this legislation pursuant to the following:

Article I, section 8 of the United States Constitution (clauses 12, 13, 14, and 16), which grants Congress the power to raise and support an Army; to provide and maintain a Navy; to make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces; and to provide for organizing, arming, and disciplining the militia.

OF MINNESOTA IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, October 16, 2012

Mr. WALZ of Minnesota. Mr. Speaker, I ask the House to join me today in honoring the 100th anniversary of Boy Scout Troop 21 in Rochester, Minnesota. Troop 21 is one of the oldest and hardest working Boy Scout troops in Minnesota.

Over 160 of Troop 21's scouts have reached Eagle Scout—the highest achievement level possible in Boy Scouts.

The Boy Scouts of America reached its centennial in 1910 with a renewed call for greater community service. In 2010, Troop 21 answered this call and performed 494 hours of community service ranging from trash collection, food drives, and projects to improve local churches and parks.

With the people of Minnesota, I ask this Chamber to join in celebrating Boy Scout Troop 21's 100-year anniversary.

• This "bullet" symbol identifies statements or insertions which are not spoken by a Member of the Senate on the floor. Matter set in this typeface indicates words inserted or appended, rather than spoken, by a Member of the House on the floor. The Kaiser Singers. The Kaiser Singers have become a household name for many. Their music has stirred the spirits and hearts of music lovers both young and old.

The group was formed in 1968 by Mrs. Beatrice Kaiser and her daughters, Annie, Hattie and Estella. They had no idea that this would be the beginning of a lifelong inspiration. The group's early years of singing was done mostly in churches around their hometown of Yazoo City, Mississippi. During those years they sang a cappella, learning to make sweet harmony with their voices.

After their first year of singing, the group was joined by Mrs. Kaiser's sister, Francine, and then later by her youngest daughter, Linda. In the early 70's, Ms. Diane Jones and Ms. Christine Burns joined the Kaiser Singers for a short while and Ms. Jones became the group's first musician. Several years later Mrs. Kaiser's son, Mr. Walter Ross, and a friend, Mr. Jamel Barley, joined the group as their musicians for a few months.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing the Kaiser Singers.

> THE DEATH OF MERVYN DYMALLY

HON. LAURA RICHARDSON

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Tuesday, October 16, 2012

Ms. RICHARDSON. Mr. Speaker, it is my regrettable duty to report the death of a persnal hero and a great American, former Congressman Mervyn Dymally. Mr. Dymally died Sunday, October 7, 2012. He was 86. I was deeply saddened to learn about the passing of my dear friend Mervyn, known to his friends as Merv. I will remember him most for his tremendous work helping African Americans in California succeed in politics at all levels of government.

Merv served as a California assemblyman, state senator, and lieutenant governor and as a Member of Congress for over a decade. However, I will remember him for the role he played in providing leadership, political representation, and for his efforts to increase accessibility to health care in African American communities. He also was a champion for education, social justice, economic opportunity, and an enlightened U.S. policy toward Africa and the Caribbean. He was instrumental in establishing the nursing school at Charles Drew University, which is named after him.

In 2006, I had the great honor of serving with Merv in the California State Assembly. He was a trailblazer who opened doors and mentored the next generation of political leaders, myself included. Merv had the foresight to see the possibility of increasing African American representation in elective offices all around the country. Merv legitimized our efforts and succeeded by establishing the largest Legislative Black Caucus in California history, coined the "Divine Nine."

Just five short months into my first term as a state assemblywoman, Merv was one of the mentors who encouraged me to run for the seat vacated by the untimely passing of the late Congresswoman Juanita Millender McDonald. Merv and I often shared many conversations about how to best serve the people of the 37th Congressional District.

Merv was by my side again this year, working to educate the community on the importance of voting and preserving African American representation. Merv has been a steady guide throughout my political career and for that I am blessed for having known him and learned from him.

Merv was a great leader, mentor and friend and he will be sorely missed. I extend my prayers to his family, offer my willingness to assist, and say thank you for sharing life's most precious treasures: time, life and love of a political father to us all.

Mr. Speaker, I ask for a moment of silence in memory of Mervyn Dymally.

HONORING MS. KAREN DAVIS

HON. BENNIE G. THOMPSON

OF MISSISSIPPI

Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor a remarkable gospel singer, Karen Davis. M. Davis was raised in a musical home in Mound Bayou, Mississippi by her parents Ms. Betsy Jackson and the late Joseph Jackson. Her mother a pianist has a gospel group called the Jackson Starlets formerly known as the Jackson Starlets formerly known as the Jackson Starlets. At the age of 3 years old, Ms. Davis began singing in Jerusalem Missionary Baptist Church choir and also at rehearsals with her mother's group. Ms. Davis was active in music classes in junior high and high school where she played the piano and sang with the school choir.

After marrying Mr. Terry Davis and moving to Shelby, Mississippi, she expanded her gospel singing and piano expertise by becoming Choir Director at Mount Layton Missionary Baptist Church in Ruleville, Mississippi, and Mount Moriah Christian Methodist Episcopal Church in Clarksdale, Mississippi. Ms. Davis has been a pianist for various churches and receives many invitations to sing at numerous Christian and civic events.

Ms. Davis' family lineage includes renowned blues legend Nellie "Tiger" Travis. Her ten siblings, Jorgen, Clinton, Patricia, Audrey, Debra, Metra, Glynis, Almeta, Sonya and Bethina all sing and play the piano.

Ms. Davis believes gospel music is a ministry because it ministers to the soul of people. She has received many accolades from congregations and people who are fortunate to hear her sing. Her daughters, Sharita, Sharlette and Simone have developed a love for gospel music. Sharita sings alongside her mother at events and sings as a soloist.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing Ms. Karen Davis as an inspirational gospel singer.

CONGRATULATING VETERINARY SERVICE INC. (VSI)

HON. JEFF DENHAM

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Tuesday, October 16, 2012

Mr. DENHAM. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize and congratulate Veterinary Service Inc., VSI, which will be inducted as a member of the Stanislaus County Ag Hall of Fame "Legends in Agriculture" during a ceremony in Modesto, California, on November 8, 2012.

VSI is a success story some fifty-two years in the making. Headquartered in Modesto, VSI provides a diverse supply of animal health products. The company was founded in the late 1950's when Frank Sweetman, a local sales representative for a chemical supply company, invited two veterinarians, Dr. Willis Woodward and Dr. Donald Rosenberg, to join him in establishing an animal health and nutrition distributorship. John Pugliese then teamed up with Sweetman to form the new company's sales team. These four leaders' decision to band together would forever change their lives.

Poultry was a major focus for the company during its first 20 years. Dr. Woodward became a renowned poultry pathologist, spending much of his time developing innovative products for the poultry industry. The company gradually expanded its offerings from poultry nutrition, to feed additives, to sanitation products and more. As the company continued to succeed, it explored ways to expand the business to meet the needs of more agricultural industries. In 1979. John Scheuber was hired to be the General Manager for the companywhich by this point, included locations in Modesto, Fresno, Perris and Petaluma. Soon thereafter, VSI expanded to the retail feed store business.

In the 1990's, the company set out on an ambitious expansion plan that included establishing a distribution center in Oregon. In 1995, VSI ventured in to dairy sales in the southern San Joaquin Valley; and four years later, it purchased Merced Dairy Supply to improve sales to dairies throughout Central California. Over the years, the dairy market has provided the company with great growth and continues to be a major share of the company's sales.

As part of the company's expansion efforts, it diversified its product offerings to include pet products. Seeing increased opportunity in the pet segment, VSI purchased LA Pet, a primary pet food distributor, in 2001. With the acquisition, VSI became a one-stop supply option for all pet items needed by any retailer. VSI also expanded its efforts internationally when it teamed with a Chinese customer, Alix Co., to establish ASI, Animal Supplies International, which imported products into the U.S. VSI then became the owner of ASI and its sister company, JC Logistics, JCL-a freight forwarding company which moves containers for importing and exporting. With involvement in ASI and JCL, VSI became internationally connected.

In 2004, Dr. Woodward passed away, and John Scheuber succeeded him as the President and CEO.

The focus on innovation by VSI's founders established a solid foundation for the company, as well as a culture for success that remains today. The company not only supports the growing agricultural industry, but it has established a standard of employee relations which has greatly contributed to the company's success and positioned it for strong growth in the future. The four original stockholders established a company that thrives because of its successful strategy to retain talented employees. It introduced an innovative and motivational Profit Sharing Plan in 1972; and in 1991, it developed an Employee Stock Ownership Program, which enables each employee to own corporate stock.

Today, at 52 years strong, VSI and its 220 employee-owners continue to provide quality products and customer-driven service for all segments of the animal health industry. VSI continues to be a strong supporter of the community, as well as a leader in the agricultural industry.

Mr. Śpeaker, please join me in praising VSI, Veterinary Services Inc., for their significant contributions to agriculture and to the people of our local community.

IN RECOGNITION OF THE TWIN LIGHTS 150TH ANNIVERSARY

HON. FRANK PALLONE, JR.

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. PALLONE. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize The Twin Lights Historical Site in Highlands, New Jersey on the occasion of their 150th anniversary celebration. The current structure, built in 1862, was commissioned by the United States Light House Board in the 1850s to provide the waters surrounding New York Harbor with a more permanent structure and to replace the existing structures which had fallen into disrepair.

Prior to the 1820s, the only lighthouse in the area surrounding New York Harbor was the Sandy Hook Lighthouse. However, with the completion of the Erie Canal in 1825, Congress realized the need for an additional structure in the area of New York Harbor to ensure ships had an additional tool they could use to safely navigate the treacherous waters off Northern New Jersey. In 1828, two structures were constructed on the current site of the Twin Lights, but in the 1850s, the U.S. Light House Board realized there was a need for a more permanent structure in the location of Highlands, New Jersey. In 1862, the permanent structure as it stands was completed. The Twin Lights, named for the dual Fresnel lenses which were placed in two adjacent towers, began to emanate light from the hillside of Highlands, New Jersey.

In addition to its significance as a navigation tool for ships in the New York Harbor, the site was also home to several important and historical moments in U.S. history. In 1893, the site was chosen for the first reading of the pledge of allegiance. In 1898, the south tower of Twin Lights was electrified, and became the only on-shore lighthouse in the U.S. to have its own generator. Guglielmo Marconi in 1899 tested his telegraph technology at the site, where it became evident that this new form of communication would revolutionize the way people communicated. By the 1930s and 1940s, the role of Twin Lights began to diminish, as new technologies began to emerge. However, during the 1940s, Twin Lights was chosen by the U.S. government as the primary location to test radar technology, something which played a pivotal role in helping the U.S. and its allies obtain victory in World War II. In 1962, the Twin Lights Historic Site was transferred to the authority of the State of New Jersey, and is currently on the State and National Registry of Historic Places. Although the towers of Twin Lights were decommissioned in 1952, the light of the south tower still shines today as a navigational tool for private navigators.

Mr. Speaker, please join me in leading this body in celebration of the Twin Lights Historic Site's 150th anniversary celebration. The Twin Lights Historic Site has played a pivotal role in American and New Jersey history, and it is with great pleasure that I am able to join them in their celebration.

HON. BENNIE G. THOMPSON

OF MISSISSIPPI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, October 16, 2012

Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor a remarkable blues artist, Mr. Tyrone Davis.

Tyrone Davis was born as Tyrone Fettson on May 4, 1938, in Greenville, Mississippi. Through his blues career, he was first known as Tyrone the Wonder Boy, then later as Tyrone Davis.

Tyrone moved with his father to Saginaw, Michigan, before relocating to Chicago, Illinois in 1959. He then became a valet/chauffeur for blues singer Freddie King. He befriended the likes of Bobby "Blue" Bland, Little Milton, and Otis Clay, among others, and began to pursue his own singing career in the clubs on the city's West and South Sides. While working for King, he started singing in local clubs where he was discovered by record executive/musician Harold Burrage. This became the start of his career as a blues singer called "Tyrone the Wonder Boy".

His records for small labels under "Tyrone the Wonder Boy" did not bring him much success. In 1968, a successful Chicago record producer Carl Davis signed him to a new label, Dakar Records, that he was starting as part of a distribution deal with Atlantic, and suggested that he use the stage name Tyrone Davis. A Texas DJ flipped his first release over and started playing the B-side, "Can I Change My Mind."

Teamed with producer/arranger Willie Henderson, who masterminded "Can I Change My Mind", Tyrone Davis capitalized on his breakthrough with a string of orchestrated hits that emphasized his new, smoother style, and helped point the way for Chicago soul into a new decade. "Is It Something You've Got" reached the R&B Top Five in 1969, and it was followed in 1970 by the sublime "Turn Back the Hands of Time." It was his second R&B number one, and also his biggest hit on the pop charts with a peak at number three.

Tyrone Davis hit the R&B Top 40 with steady regularity over the next few years, including the Top Tens. "Could I Forget You," "I Had It All the Time," "Without You in My Life," and "There It Is." In 1975, he scored his third number one R&B hit with "Turning Point," but left Dakar for Columbia the following year.

Tyrone Davis' ballad mastery was a main selling point for Columbia, which made his backing orchestrations even lusher than before, but he also made the occasional concession to contemporary dance trends, which informed his debut Columbia hit "Give It Up" a number two R&B single from 1976. Further successes followed in "This I Swear" (1977), "Get On Up" (1978), and the slinky ballad "In the Mood" (1979). Tyrone Davis recorded his final album for Columbia in 1981, then switched to Highrise, where he promptly landed a Top Five R&B hit-his last, as it turned out-with "Are You Serious" in 1982. Short stints with Ocean-Front and Prelude followed before Tyrone Davis settled in with Future for the latter half of the 1980s. He spent the first half of the 1990s on retro-soul label Ichiban, recording several albums, and then moved to Southern soul imprint Malaco in 1996 for an equally productive stay that lasted into the new millennium. Tyrone Davis continued to release new albums every year or two, and toured the soul/blues circuit as restlessly as ever. Tyrone Davis suffered a stroke in October of 2004 and remained hospitalized until his death in February of 2005.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing Mr. Tyrone Davis, a great blues legend from Mississippi's Second Congressional District.

HONORING MR. LEONARD JAMES CANTY, JR.

HON. BARBARA LEE

OF CALIFORNIA

Ms. LEE of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the exceptional life of Mr. Leonard James Canty, Jr., community stalwart and entrepreneur, co-founder of the 100 Black Men of the Bay Area, Inc. and founder of the Black Economic Council, BEC. "Len," as he was known, was a trailblazing businessman committed to supporting and promoting minority- and women-owned businesses. Known as a hard-working and talented visionary, a passionate advocate and a man of great faith, Mr. Canty has left an indelible mark on Bay Area communities. With his passing on September 22, 2012, we look to Len Canty's legacy and the outstanding quality of his life's work.

Born on April 26, 1945, to Leonard James and Elisabeth Canty, Len was part of a large family growing up in Atlanta, Georgia. A U.S. Air Force veteran during the Vietnam War, Mr. Canty moved to Oakland, CA, upon his honorable discharge in 1968. There he met his loving wife and lifelong partner of 42 years, Kyra. Mr. Canty worked for United Airlines and in real estate, until launching his own mortgage brokerage firm, Canty & Associates, in 1984.

Throughout his entrepreneurial success, Mr. Canty never lost sight of the needs of his community. Among his many career milestones, he was a founding member in 1988 and an eventual President of the 100 Black Men of the Bay Area, Inc. A tireless champion for African American equality and opportunity, he was Chairman of the 1993 African American Economic Empowerment Conference and a lecturer in the African American Entrepreneurship program at California State University, East Bay. In the early 1990s, he founded a private equity venture capital fund for small, minority- and women-owned businesses. And, in 2005, after a decade of investment banking, he founded the Black Economic Council, a national 501(c)(3) headquartered in Northern California.

Today, the BEC celebrates its Second Annual Game Changers and Bridge Builders Awards in tribute to its founder, Len Canty, who epitomized the qualities of positive change and collaboration. As an organization facilitating local business development, economic sustainability and job creation to advance the economic platform of Black Americans and underserved communities, BEC is a leading advocate in promoting the equity and self-sufficiency of Black communities through stronger economic infrastructure. Len Canty's tireless work to open access to intellectual and economic capital for communities of color stretched to many fields. He frequently traveled to Washington, DC, to fight for initiatives and spoke extensively about financial fitness, health disparities, supply diversity issues, regulatory bodies and equal access to federal and corporate contracts. His numerous accolades included, most recently, the 2012 "Spotlight Award" from the Bay Area Business Roundtable.

On a personal note, Len was a longtime friend and supporter. His "tough love" was a constant source of inspiration. Our conversations were deep and authentic. He was truly a visionary and a magnificent leader who always kept his "eyes on the prize." Moreover, Mr. Canty was a church Deacon and a man of deep compassion. He demonstrated a strength and commitment to both his immediate family and the extended family that he created within our community.

Today, California's 9th Congressional District salutes and honors an outstanding individual and inspiring community leader, Mr. Leonard James Canty, Jr. He was a dear friend, a respected colleague and mentor, and a beloved husband, father, son, grandfather, brother and uncle who will be deeply missed by an extended group of loved ones. I offer my sincerest condolences to Len's surviving family and to the many friends and associates whose lives he touched over the course of his incredible life. The Bay Area and the nation has lost one of its greatest advocates for economic justice. May his soul rest in peace.

SUPPORT FOR VOTER EDUCATION EFFORTS BY NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY

HON. JANICE D. SCHAKOWSKY

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Tuesday, October 16, 2012

Ms. SCHAKOWSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to express my thanks and support for recent actions by Northwestern University to help students register to vote and navigate increasingly complex and strict voter registration procedures nationwide. Their efforts were chronicled in an article by the New York Times this past Sunday, and I hope that my colleagues will pay attention to the story and its lessons.

Today, roughly 11 million college students are eligible to vote. Unfortunately, states across the country have considered or passed legislative initiatives that erect barriers to student voting. Northwestern University, which I am proud to represent, rose to the challenge and adopted a series of policies to ensure that its student body could go to the polls. When incoming freshman picked up their student IDs, they were given the opportunity to register to vote. Volunteers took time out of their day to make sure that out-of-state students were given absentee request forms, and any assistance they required so that their vote would count when they engaged in their civic duty.

Ás last weekend's article noted, Northwestern University's initiatives were wildly successful. Last year, 89% of incoming Northwestern freshmen were registered to vote in 37 states by the first day of class. This year, the university again saw dramatic success almost 95% of their eligible freshman were registered as of the first day of classes, and out-of-state students had the tools to make sure their vote was not denied due to new state regulations.

After the enormous success seen on its campus, Northwestern University expanded its project and created the UVote Project. The UVote Project shares these proven registration techniques to campuses across the nation—providing consistent and streamlined registration efforts so that students get the support they need to participate in the democratic process. According to the project's web page, schools who adopt these methods typically see their student voter registration rates double or triple.

These recent efforts by Northwestern University and their UVote Project are the type of collaboration between students and institutions of higher learning that I envisioned when I introduced the Student VOTER Act, a bill that would make institutions of higher learning play a key role in voter registration efforts. The contents of this bill have been incorporated into H.R. 5799, the Voter Empowerment Act modernizes and overhauls our voter registration system to assure that as many people are involved in our democratic process as possible, and I urge my colleagues to support it.

I congratulate Northwestern President Morty Shapiro and hope other universities will follow his lead. Together, through policies like those created by Northwestern University and through legislation such as the Voter Empowerment Act of 2012, we can encourage increased engagement and participation, including among student voters.

Colleges Take a Leap Into Voter Registration

(By Steven Yaccino)

EVANSTON, IL.—Every four years, volunteers swarm university campuses, clipboards in hand, to register newly eligible voters for what is generally the only presidential election of their undergraduate careers. This year they found large numbers were already registered.

Dozens of colleges have begun their own voting registration drives in orientation programs, class registration, intranet Web sites and other interactions crucial to campus life, institutionalizing services that had often been left to outside efforts. As a result, thousands of students registered to vote, updated their addresses or requested absentee ballots from their home states within days of arriving to campus this fall, officials at several universities said.

University-sponsored attempts to make voting easier for students are being tested in at least 60 colleges across the country amid the outbreak of battles over new voting laws.

"The voter registration process has become more cumbersome and difficult as there's been a competition to define who is eligible to vote," said Dan A. Lewis, director of Northwestern University's Center for Civic Engagement, which started incorporating voter registration into its freshman orientation last year. "You almost have to have a Ph.D. now to figure out how to do it if you're not sitting in the same house for the past 20 years."

Northwestern officials who developed the new program, UVote Project, said their intent was not to critique voting rules across the country, but to help students navigate them more easily. "We're not always going to have the incredible excitement among 18- to 22-yearolds that you did in 2008, so I think it's an obligation," said Morton Schapiro, the president of Northwestern. "We're supposed to teach citizenship."

Northwestern, just north of Chicago, began a drive to register voters last year, with incoming students signing up when they picked up their campus IDs. Universitytrained staff and volunteers provided absentee ballot request forms from all 50 states, scanned students' driver's licenses or other identification, and offered to mail in the paperwork.

By the first day of class, 89 percent of the university's freshmen had been registered to vote, in 37 states. Northwestern repeated the effort this year, registering almost 95 percent of eligible freshmen, and expanded the model to eight other colleges. Stanford University used the method around campus, including on its bicycle registration line, netting more than 700 new voters in two weeks.

Roughly 11 million eligible voters ages 18 to 24 are in college, about a quarter of all eligible young voters, according to the Center for Information and Research on Civic Learning and Engagement at Tufts University.

The federal Higher Education Amendments of 1998 require colleges to make a "good faith effort" to distribute registration materials to transient students, who have the option to establish residency in their home community or where they go to school.

Students who prefer to vote absentee must first traverse an array of varied rules. Some states, like Michigan and Tennessee, make voters who register by mail cast a ballot in person for their first election. North Carolina requires that ballot requests be handwritten. Other states, like Delaware and Wyoming, require a notary.

Complicating matters more this election have been partisan fights over restrictions on registration drives and new laws requiring state-issued IDs for voting, though many have been overturned or blocked this year.

Harvard University, which holds a competition among dormitories to register the most voters, is one of a growing number of schools expanding efforts by purchasing access to the Web site of TurboVote, a nonprofit effort that provides complete online registration and automated vote-bymail services.

Founded in 2010, TurboVote is working with 58 colleges this year. It now helps more than 100,000 individuals get absentee ballots, find voting locations and track coming elections, sending out text reminders for important deadlines.

"We single-handedly registered more people in a couple of hours than several organizations that have been doing this for months," said Shelby Taylor, a spokeswoman for the University of Florida, which promoted TurboVote on the college's intranet home page and in an e-mail from the university's president. The school, which registered more than 3,000 students this year, also flashed ads for TurboVote on the football stadium's GatorVision screen during the opening home game last month.

"We alone cannot do this," said Heather Smith, president of Rock the Vote, which has been registering voters on campuses for two decades. "If we could get every university engaged and invested in the work of asking every one of their students to register to vote, we'd have a very different democracy."

HONORING ELIZABETH ''BETH'' BARNES

HON. JEFF DENHAM

OF CALIFORNIA

Mr. DENHAM. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to acknowledge and honor Elizabeth "Beth" Barnes, Tuolumne County Senior Veterans Services Representative, who will retire in December 2012, after 35 years of outstanding service to our veterans.

Elizabeth "Beth" Barnes was born October 2, 1945, in San Andreas, California. Beth moved to Tuolumne County in 1967 and went to work at Brown's Drive Inn in 1972. On June 1, 1977, she was hired on as a Housekeeper at Tuolumne General Hospital. On June 5, 1982, she was promoted to a clerk typist in the Veterans Office. Beth was then promoted to Senior Veterans Services Representative on November 5, 2000.

Beth married Harold "Barney" Barnes on March 26, 1965. Barney went to work for Rasmussen Lumber Company, now known as the Sierra Pacific Industries, in Chinese Camp on September 12, 1965, and retired on June 28, 2012. Beth and Barney have three sons: Stephen, Harold Jr. (Chip) and wife Debbie, and Rick and wife Sheila. Stephen and Rick both enlisted in the Marines and each served eight years.

Beth's first passion is her family and home, then her family of veterans. She served as the Secretary of the California Association of County Veterans Service Officers from 1992 until 2012. She also served as the Secretary of the National Association of County Veterans Service Officers from 2006 to 2012.

Over the years, Beth's name has become synonymous with Veterans Services. Before most of us had even entered public service, Beth had gained a reputation for her vast experience helping veterans and their families apply for and obtain their benefits. Her devotion to veterans is not only professional, but personal. Many of her family members have served in the military, so it is not surprising that working with veterans has become her life's work.

The work that Beth has chosen to do makes significant differences for our veterans—from applying for financial compensation, to ensuring veterans receive appropriate medical care, to helping their dependents with health insurance and college tuition. She has filed claims and advised veterans from the Spanish-American War, WWI, WWII, Korea, Vietnam, Desert Storm, Beirut, Grenada, Panama, Iraq and Afghanistan. These benefits also help our community. Between 2009 and 2010, over one million dollars in new one-time benefits were obtained.

Beth has numerous accreditations and affiliations with the following agencies: Accreditations with American Legion; California Department of Veteran Affairs; Disabled American Veterans; National Association of County Veteran Service Officers; California Association of County Veteran Service Officers; Veterans of Foreign Wars; American Veterans; Military Order of the Purple Heart; Retired Enlisted Association; World War I of USA; Vietnam Veterans of America; Jewish War Veterans; and Catholic War Veterans.

To quote Beth: "This is more than a job; it's a life."

Mr. Speaker, please join me in honoring and commending Beth Barnes, Tuolumne County Senior Veterans Representative, for her many years of selfless service to our veterans and the betterment of our community.

IN MEMORY OF UNITED STATES AMBASSADOR TO LIBYA JOHN CHRISTOPHER STEVENS

HON. BARBARA LEE

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Tuesday. October 16, 2012

Ms. LEE of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise today with my Northern California colleagues GEORGE MILLER, JACKIE SPEIER, ZOE LOFGREN, MIKE THOMPSON, LYNN WOOLSEY, ANNA ESHOO, DORIS MATSUI, PETE STARK, JOHN GARAMENDI, JERRY MCNERNEY, MIKE HONDA, and SAM FARR of California, to honor, celebrate, and remember Ambassador John Christopher "Chris" Stevens. A son of Northern California and the Bay Area, Ambassador Stevens tragically lost his life in the greatest service to this country—selflessly and courageously representing American values in a foreign nation he knew intimately and cared for deeply.

Born in 1960 in Grass Valley, California, Ambassador Stevens made a mark early in life as a student at Piedmont High School, where he participated with enthusiasm in academics, the performing arts, and tennis. His education in the 9th Congressional District continued upon his admission to the University of California, Berkeley. As a History major, he delved into studies of the Near East and became a member of the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity. Later, he earned a law degree from another Bay Area institution, UC Hastings College of the Law in San Francisco. His subsequent work in international trade law preceded the takeoff of his diplomatic career in 1991.

Ambassador Stevens' passion for foreign service began early, starting with his high school participation in an AFS Intercultural Program in Spain and blossoming during his years as a Peace Corps volunteer in Morocco. The diverse and instrumental positions he held as a member of the U.S. Foreign Service in Israel, Syria, Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Libya and Washington, D.C., among others, helped to build his deep and personal understanding of the Middle and Near East.

A fluent Arabic speaker, Stevens was selected by President Obama to be the U.S. Special Representative to the National Transitional Council in Libya, undertaking the complicated task of creating connections with insurgents and tribal groups on behalf of the United States. As the Qaddafi regime crumbled, Ambassador Stevens worked passionately towards establishing a nascent Libyan democracy. In the process, he created innumerable personal friendships and professional relationships with Libyans—not only with officials and diplomats, but with everyday people.

In his diplomatic capacity, Ambassador Stevens brought a profound and prolific knowledge of the Arab world to his assignment. His exemplary gift for making personal connections was invaluable in his role as Special Representative and, later, Ambassador, to one of the most complex and challenging regions of the world. Therefore, as we join in recognizing Ambassador Stevens amidst a sober outpouring of praise from his family, colleagues, fellow Americans, and the leaders of this nation, we remember that Chris Stevens was beloved by many Libyans, as well.

In remembering Ambassador Stevens, we also honor the three other Americans who bravely sacrificed their lives alongside him: Sean Smith, Tyrone Woods, and Glen Doherty. The mournful loss of these members of the Foreign Service will not be forgotten. We pay tribute to all of them today and keep their families in our thoughts. We also express our deepest sympathy and condolences to Ambassador Stevens' family, to whom he was a devoted son, brother and stepson who always made time for visits home despite the incredible demands of his diplomatic missions.

> HONORING MR. JOE WILLIE "PINETOP" PERKINS

HON. BENNIE G. THOMPSON

OF MISSISSIPPI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor one of the best blues pianists known, Mr. Joe Willie "Pinetop" Perkins.

Pinetop was born Joe Willie Perkins in Belzoni, Mississippi, on July 7, 1913. Pinetop dropped out of school after the third grade. He taught himself the rudiments of blues guitar on a homemade instrument called a diddley bow: a length of wire stretched between nails driven into a wall. He began entertaining at dances and house parties at age 10 and soon learned to play the piano as well. While still in his teens he left Mississippi and traveled to Chicago. But he came back to Mississippi and didn't decide to make Chicago his home until the 1950s.

He worked primarily in the Mississippi Delta throughout the 1930s and '40s, spending three years with Sonny Boy Williamson on the King Biscuit Time radio show on KFFA in Helena, Arkansas. Pinetop also toured extensively with slide guitar player Robert Nighthawk. After briefly working with B.B. King in Memphis, Pinetop "barnstormed" the South with Earl Hooker during the early '50s. The pair completed a session for Sam Phillips' famous Sun Records in 1953. It was at this session that he recorded his version of "Pinetop's Boogie Woogie," a song originally written and re-corded by pianist Clarence "Pinetop" Smiththe influential blues pianist who died from a gunshot wound at age 24 in 1929. Willie Perkins was already being referred to as "Pinetop" when he played on King Biscuit in the '40s, but it was his sensational version of this song that secured him the lifelong nickname of "Pinetop."

Pinetop Perkins started out playing guitar and piano at house parties and honky-tonks. In the 1940s, he had to drop the guitar due to an encounter with an outraged chorus girl in a Helena, Arkansas, nightspot when she knifed him, leaving him with severed tendons in his left arm. That dashed his guitar aspirations, but Pinetop came back strong from the injury, concentrating solely on piano from that point on.

Pinetop is known for holding down the piano chair in the great Muddy Waters Band for twelve years during the pinnacle of Muddy's career. Replacing Otis Spann in 1969, Pinetop helped shape the Waters sound and anchored Muddy's memorable combo throughout the '70s with his brilliant piano solos. In 1980, Pinetop and other members of Muddy's crew struck out on their own and formed the Legendary Blues Band—a group that recorded two records for Rounder and toured extensively, culling several Grammy nominations.

After being labeled a sideman for most of his career, Pinetop eventually left the Legendary Blues Band to concentrate on solo work. Within two years, he had cut his first domestic record as a frontman and pursued an ambitious tour schedule. He was featured on several nationally syndicated news and music programs, and appeared in numerous movie productions and TV and radio ads.

The great irony of Pinetop's career is that he didn't blossom as a headliner until his eighth decade on the blues scene-a phenomenon that resulted in the release of 15 solo records in 15 years, beginning in 1992. On his 1998 release, "Legends," Pinetop collaborated with master blues guitarist Hubert Sumlin. Together, they blended the traditional Delta blues sound with modern electric blues rock, showcasing the spirit and energy of the music. "Born in the Delta" and "Legends" were both nominated for Grammy Awards-in 1997 and 2000 respectively. This was followed by a 2005 Grammy nomination for "Ladies Man," released by MC Records. That same year, he was also presented with a lifetime achievement award at the Grammys.

Aside from his well-deserved Grammy recognition, Pinetop also received a National Heritage Fellowship in 2000 from the National Endowment for the Arts. He has been featured in the documentary "Piano Blues," directed by Clint Eastwood for the Martin Scorsese PBS series, "The Blues." In addition, he continued to win the Blues Music Award for best blues piano every year until 2003, when he was retired from the running and the award was renamed the Pinetop Perkins Piano Player of the Year.

In 2007, he was still on the road at 94 years old; Pinetop Perkins' unique life was chronicled in Peter Carlson's biographical documentary DVD, "Born in the Honey," which includes a live CD with a rare studio outtake track.

"Pinetop Perkins and Friends" released on Telarc, an independent classical recording company that crosses over to include blues and even jazz music. In that release by Telarc in the summer of 2008, Pinetop was positioned in the midst of several high-profile guests—all of whom have been influenced by his music in some way or another over the past several decades. Included on Pinetop's list of Friends were such luminaries as Eric Clapton, B.B. King and Jimmy Vaughan.

His latest recording is "Joined at the Hip," a collaborative project with Willie "Big Eyes" Smith, released in June 2010. Pinetop also received a Grammy in 2010 for this collaborative project with Willie "Big Eyes" Smith for Best Traditional Blues CD.

Pinetop passed away on March 21, 2011, at the age of 97. When he passed away, he still had performances lined up for the year.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing Mr. Joseph Willie "Pinetop" Perkins, a great blues legend from Mississippi's Second Congressional District.

IN RECOGNITION OF ANGEL GOMEZ

HON. SILVESTRE REYES

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, October 16, 2012

Mr. REYES. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize Angel Gomez for selfless service to our community. He has helped thousands of people through his non-profit, Operation HOPE Helping Other People Endure.

Selfless doesn't even begin to describe Angel Gomez.

Many lives have been touched by Angel, an appropriate name for a man with a heart the size of Texas.

A native of El Paso, Texas, he attended Bowie High School and later joined the United States Navy. He is a proud Bowie Bear Alumni and Veteran.

His real passion, other than serving his county in uniform, has always been helping others in need.

In 1995 he began volunteering his time to the community, with the support of his wife Patricia, daughter Rubi and other family members.

Seeing the growing need around him he cofounded Operation HOPE in 2009, and he has invested even more time and resources to help the El Paso Community he loves so much.

Operation HOPE has allowed Angel to share his vision of community outreach with thousands of people in need. He works with community partners and volunteers who share the same values and passion for giving, and these relationships have made it possible to multiply his efforts to improve our community.

Over the past seventeen years, El Paso residents have received food baskets during the holidays, along with blankets, clothing, and medical supplies. Hospitalized children that were hospitalized have received toys and gift baskets to lift their spirits. Hundreds of persons with disabilities have received assistance with medical supplies, medications, durable medical equipment, and accessible ramps. And families have received assistance with funeral expenses and spiritual support during their time of need.

To others, the donated items and arrangements made may not seem like much, but behind each action is something intangible, something money can't buy: hope.

On behalf of the El Paso community, I would like to thank Angel Gomez for all he has done for those in need and for the positive impact he continues to have in our community.

A TRIBUTE TO MR. AND MRS. TONY AND MARY CARDOSO

HON. JIM COSTA

OF CALIFORNIA

Mr. COSTA. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to celebrate the 90th birthdays and 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Tony and Mary Cardoso. The life that Tony and Mary have built together over the past sixty years is an inspiration to all of us. Their story is reflective of the American Dream, working hard to create better lives for themselves and their children.

Anthony Bernard Cardoso was born in Lemoore, California, on October 16, 1922. When Tony was 20 years old, he enlisted in the United States Marine Corps during the height of World War II. He proudly served our country for six years, spending time overseas on the Marshall Islands and Hawaiian Islands as an aviation mechanic. Tony was honorably discharged from the Marines in 1948 as a Staff Sergeant. Upon his return home, he went into the dairy business with his brothers.

Mary Dorothy Couto was born in Kerman, California, on October 18, 1922. In the 7th grade, Mary was pulled out of school, so she could contribute all of her time and energy into the family farm. In 1944, Mary bravely joined the Navy where she served our country for two years. In 1946 she returned home; a few years later, she met Tony at a local dairy.

Tony and Mary were married on October 18, 1952. In the early years of their marriage, Tony and Mary owned a dairy farm. The farm was sold in 1959, and they opened a liquor store in Biola, California. Over the years, they experienced great success and had the opportunity to expand their store, which was aptly named the Biola Variety Liquor Store. Tony and Mary were proud owners of the store for over 20 years. They worked long hours and were open seven days a week.

In the past six decades they owned and operated three businesses, raised their children, Antoinette and Charles, remained active in the community, and have acted as loving and caring grandparents and great grandparents. Clearly, their marriage not only reflects a partnership filled with deep affection and love, but also one that enjoys the intelligence of two business savvy people.

Tony joined the Biola Chamber of Commerce in 1959, and was a past president in 1963. He was a past commander of the Biola VFW Post. Tony is extremely proud of a veterans' memorial that was put up near an elementary school in Biola. He believes it is a perfect location because children can walk by and better understand the sacrifices men and women make to serve our country. Tony is also a member of the Biola American Legion Post and the Kerman American Legion Post. He has proudly served as Grand Marshal at the Biola Raisin Day Parade.

The Cardosos retired in 1979. They stay busy by working in their vegetable garden, being involved in the community, and spending time with family. Having a cohesive and close-knit family is very important to Tony and Mary. As a grandmother, Mary made it a point to bring all of her grandchildren together whenever possible, so all the cousins would have close relationships. Mary and Tony truly understand what is important in life. On a personal note, Mary and Tony have served as exceptional role models for me-their nephew. Their work ethic and commitment to service allowed me to witness first-hand the best of what our nation has to offer and encouraged me to do the same.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Tony and Mary Cardoso for their 60 years of commitment to one another and for their long lives that exemplify the genuine meaning of hard work and dedication.
