Dear Sir:

FEB 27 1931

With reference to the above entitled case, which went to trial at 10 A.M. on February 25th, 1931, you are advised that on this date testimony was completed, and arguments closed by both the prosecution and defense, after which Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson sentenced subject Capone to serve a term of six months in the Cook County, Illinois jail, final order of sentence to be entered by the Court under date of March 2nd, 1931, at 10 A.M. Judge Wilkerson intimated that on March 2nd, 1931, he would allow subject Capone thirty days in which to file an appeal. Said subject was released under his present bond of $5000.00.

For your additional information in connection with this matter I am transmitting herewith copies of the official transcript of Judge Wilkerson's announcement of finding in the Alphonse Capone case, dated February 27th, 1931, as made by the Court Reporter.

For your further information I desire to advise that subject Capone was arrested at the noon recess when he was leaving the Federal Court under date of February 25th, 1931, by City Detectives of the Chicago Police Department, in connection with the Vagrancy charge pending against him at Chicago. He was arraigned before Municipal Judge Thomas Green, who released subject Capone on a $10,000.00 bond.

Shortly after Federal Judge Wilkerson announced the verdict in the Capone case, Special Agent T. F. Mullen talked with United States Attorney George E. Q. Johnson, who stated that he

10 o'clock A. M.

O P I N I O N.

THE COURT: This respondent was served on the 27th of February, 1929, with a subpoena from this Court requiring him to appear before the grand jury on the 12th day of March, 1929, at 10 o'clock A. M.

On the 11th of March he entered his appearance in this court, submitted himself to the jurisdiction of the court, and made an application to the court to postpone his appearance in response to the subpoena until the April Term of the court, or until such other time as his appearance might be directed by the order of the court.

In connection with the petition and made a part of the petition by express reference there was submitted to the court an affidavit executed in Florida and sent by the respondent to Chicago. The affidavit was that of a doctor named Phillips.

The affidavit stated that he was acquainted with the respondent, that he had been attending him ever since the 13th of January; that the respondent was then under his professional treatment. That since January 13, 1929, the respondent had been suffering from bronchopneumonia pleurisy with effusions of fluid into the chest cavity, and for six weeks was confined to his bed at his home on said Palm Island, and had been out of his bed only for ten days last past; that he had not fully recovered from the disease and that in the professional opinion of affiant his physical condition was such that it would be dangerous for him to leave the mild climate of Southern Florida and go to Chicago, and that to do so would imperil the safety of the respondent; that there would be a very grave risk of relapse which might result in his death from the recurrence of pneumonia; that the doctor advised against requiring the respondent to go from Florida to Chicago, and that it would be inconsistent with the personal safety of the respondent to go to Chicago; that the opinion expressed by him was concurred in by three professional consultants of the City of Miami, Dr. Goudy, Dr. Maxwell, and Dr. Pierson, all of whom may be reached by addressing them at 120 Shoreland Arcade in the City of Miami.

Now as to this affidavit the fact is that it was executed in the office of a lawyer; that it was taken from the lawyer's office and sworn to before the United States Commissioner and turned over to the respondent. It appeared first in court accompanied by a letter which concededly was written by the respondent and in which there was a reference to his desire to obtain a stay of time for his appearance before the Grand Jury. The doctor said he did not pay very close attention to the affidavit when it was dictated by the lawyer. There is no contention, however, by the respondent here that he did not understand the allegations of the affidavit. He has not undertaken to assert any lack of familiarity with the statements in the affidavit. On the contrary, he adopted it and sent it to Chicago to the attorneys to be used for the purpose indicated.

Aside from the opinion of the doctor as to what was the matter with the respondent, there were certain averments of facts in the affidavit which could not have not escaped the attention of any one who had given even a slight consideration to the language of the affidavit.

There is the positive statement of fact that the respondent had been confined to his bed at his home for a period of six weeks after the 13th of January, and there is the positive and direct statement that he had been out of bed only for ten days last past.

Now the testimony offered by the respondent consisted of the evidence of Drs. Phillips and Omens and of the two nurses.

Dr. Phillips' testimony, of course, must be considered in the light of the telegram which he sent to Dr. Omens in which he characterized the sickness of the respondent as not serious in its character. He has given an explanation for that, but without saying anything further concerning the testimony of Dr. Phillips, I think clearly that we must decide the question of fact as to the respondent's illness in January upon the testimony of Dr. Omens and the two nurses.

Dr. Omens reached Miami sometime between the 15th and the 20th of January and found him, he says, seriously ill from the disease mentioned. He remained there a few days, and when he left, shortly after the 20th of January, so far as temperature and pulse are concerned, the condition of the patient was about normal.

One of the nurses went to the home on the 6th of January and remained a little less than three weeks. The night nurse who was called in by Dr. Phillips went there on the 13th or about the 13th and remained seven or eight days - I think she said seven to ten days. At any rate, the nurses had gone by the last week in January. and the evidence establishes beyond all possibility of doubt in this case that during the month of February the respondent was not confined to his bed.

The evidence shows during that period frequent attendance at the race tracks; it shows a trip in an airplane; it shows a boat trip, and taking all of the evidence, it is perfectly clear that at least after the 2nd of February it could not be truthfully stated that the respondent was confined to his bed, and that the statement on the date when the affidavit was made, namely, the 5th of March, 1929, the respondent had been out of bed for only ten days last past was glaringly false.

Now the result of the whole thing was that there was a short extension of time within which the respondent was to appear before the Grand Jury.

But I think we miss the point in this case when we lay stress upon what happened when counsel for the defendant and Mr. Anderson appeared before this branch of the Court, or when we lay stress upon the inconvenience, if any, to which the United States was subjected by the failure of the respondent to come here on the 12th, or if we lay stress upon the statement of the respondent in his application for a continuance that he was willing to come here whenever the Court directed him to come, or the statement which it is said was in the letter that he did not wish to be in contempt of court, - I say we miss the point in this case when we lay stress upon that.

The point in this case as I see it, is this: There has been a system established for the administration of justice. The Court is a part of that machinery which is erected for the administration of justice.

Now the Court deals with litigants, with witnesses, with jurors in only one way, and that is through the process of Court, and when the process of Court issues it is to be respected, it is to be obeyed, it is not to be trifled with, it is not to be flaunted; and with respect to the process of the Court the duty rests upon litigants and upon witnesses and upon jurors to deal honestly and fairly and frankly with the Court; and when an attempt is made to interfere with the execution of the process of the Court, when an appeal is made to the Court to relieve a party from obedience to the process of the Court, the Court is entitled to the fullest, fairest and most complete disclosure of all the facts. In no other way may the Courts operate.

Now here we have an application addressed to this Court with respect to the execution of the process of the Court in which it is represented to the Court that the respondent has just been out of bed for ten days, when it must have been a matter of general knowledge in the community in which he was then staying that he was not sick in bed at all.

Now the point in this case is the effect of conduct of that kind upon the administration of justice, and the situation is not changed by the action which the Court took with reference to this document. The situation would be the same if the Court had acted in granting the continuance for some reason entirely different from the one stated in the affidavit.

The point to the case is that instead of obeying the process of the Court, the respondent, to be relieved from obedience to the process of the Court, sent this affidavit which contained these false statements.

Upon the record as it stands here there is nothing for the Court to do except to adjudge the respondent guilty of contempt of Court as charged in the information, and as punishment for the contempt the respondent will be committed to the County Jail of Cook County for the period of six months. The United States Attorney may prepare the order.

MR. EPSTEIN: If your Honor please, I wish to enter a motion in arrest of judgment.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. EPSTEIN: And in support of my motion for arrest of judgment I wish to assign the argument that there is no proof in this case that the defendant had any knowledge of the false representations that were made, as I made before in my argument, and I wish to urge in support of the motion in arrest of judgment that there has never been any service personally of the rule to show cause in this case; and I might say all the other points that were heretofore argued and presented and contained in the motions heretofore made.

THE COURT: The motion will be overruled.

MR. EPSTEIN: May I have an exception to the overruling of the motion in arrest?

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. EPSTEIN: Now if your Honor please, will your Honor make any findings of fact in connection with the --

THE COURT: Well I have directed the United States Attorney to prepare an order.

MR. EPSTEIN: Your Honor, the verdict was that --

THE COURT: He will put in this order the facts found. I have found now that the charge of the information --

MR. EPSTEIN: That he was guilty of the charges contained in the information.

THE COURT: Oh, that may be embodied in the formal offer which the United States Attorney submits.

MR. EPSTEIN: Will your Honor -- until the presentation of that order I suppose there is no real final order in the case.

THE COURT: What is the bond of the respondent?

MR. EPSTEIN: $5,000, and he has voluntarily appeared, as your Honor knows.

THE COURT: I think that is a sufficient bond.

MR. EPSTEIN: As the matter stands on the --

THE COURT: You may present the formal order for entry next Monday morning at 10.00 o'clock.

MR. EPSTEIN: At that time will your Honor allow us an order --

THE COURT: There will be no order this morning. I have announced my decision in the case and formal order will be presented here Monday morning at 10.00 o'clock by the United States Attorney for entry. In the meantime the respondent may be at liberty on the bond which he has already given in this case, if that is satisfactory to the respondent.

MR. EPSTEIN: And at that time, if your Honor please, or shall we make the motion now, praying an appeal? Will your Honor allow an appeal?

THE COURT: I will allow an appeal. You can present your petition when you have it ready, petition and assignment of errors and bond on the appeal will be the same as the bond here, $5,000.

MR. EPSTEIN: And supersedeas?

THE COURT: I think that bond is sufficient on appeal.

MR. GROSSMAN: Yes.

THE COURT: Yes, supersedeas, bond $5,000.

MR. EPSTEIN: Will your Honor allow supersedeas?

THE COURT: On $5,000 bond.

MR. EPSTEIN: On $5,000 bail.

THE COURT: I may, however, limit the operation of the supersedeas. I think you should prepare on this hearing a bill of exceptions within twenty days. I think that would be ample time for you to do that, so that you can get the record up and get it docketed before the Court of Appeals. I should like to limit the time of operation of the supersedeas so that the case may be considered before the Court adjourns in July. I do not think that is any hardship upon counsel.

MR. EPSTEIN: Well, it will be a hardship --

THE COURT: Sometimes in matters of this kind a great deal of the force of the Court's acts, if they are correct, is lost by delay, and I think it is important that the questions which are involved should be finally disposed of at as early a date as possible. I am disposed to do everything to facilitate your getting your appeal and your bill of exceptions.

MR. EPSTEIN: Well, as to that I don't know.
For twenty days right now to me happens to be --

THE COURT: Thirty days.

MR. EPSTEIN: -- a time when I am going to be very busily engaged, but I have able assistants and counsel and colleagues and cogitators with me.

THE COURT: Did you both have reporters in this case?

MR. WAUGH: Yes, your Honor.

THE COURT: The record in this case is short and somebody can take it and abstract it and make a statement of the evidence in a day, I should think.

MR. WAUGH: Of course it has to be written up first.
We have not had it written up yet.

MR. EPSTEIN: We have not had it written up as we went along.

THE COURT: Those questions may be disposed of on Monday.

MR. WAUGH: All right

(Thereupon an adjournment was taken to Monday, March 2, 1931, at 10.00
o'clock A. M.)

CHICAGO TRIBUNE

CAPONE TO JAIL.

Al Capone is to go to the jail for 30 months in jail for Federal Judge Wilkerson for contempt of court. He had taken a casual but characteristic attitude toward judicial process. He did not want to obey a summons, being in Florida. He was well advised legally that he could not ignore it and he was advised that it could be fixed by a false affidavit. Capone's experience and his ideas of government gave him justification for believing that it could be fixed, but he was dealing with the wrong court.

He had learned from his operations in Chicago that he was a part of government under reciprocal arrangements in which for value received he conducted certain enterprises requiring political protection and occasional murder. His experience in Philadelphia, where he went to jail for a year for carrying a gun, would not destroy his confidence in the general dependability of the system. That was a jam in which he was careless in unorganized territory. It was an exceptional event.

The sentence which has been imposed is not relevant to any of the major facts of his career, but it is to the general plan of government in which he has operated. The chief of protection has broken down in consequence of him as it has of his henchmen and the other gangsters. Ralph Capone has been in jail for three years in prison, Frank Nitti to eighteen months, Drugan and Lulu are to be sentenced on pleas of guilty, and of the three Guzikis, a protected family of gangsters, and for who numbers one has been sentenced to five years, one is indicted and one is to be indicted. Furthermore, under the direction of Secretary of Labor Davis, the immigration officials are sending out the deportables. Mops, Velps of the Capone gang will thus leave the country.

The same will be said to the gangsters and jobs are associated with these startling developments of the last six months. If the law's approach has not been a direct attack upon the gravest crime of the outlaws they are still dug in there; it is nevertheless the first real blow which has been made in their protection.

CAPONE FACING INCOME-TAX PROSECUTION WHIRLS ALONG

U. S. Plans Gang Chief's Income-Tax Prosecution; Speed Volpe Exile.

WHITE TRIAL MONDAY

With "Scarface Al" Capone, boss booter, vice and gambling racketeer, under sentence of six months for contempt of court, Chicago's cleanup drive whirled along today with the authorities pressing the fight on several new fronts.

While Capone was at Liberty today, U. S. attorneys from Federal Building, in connection with the income-tax case, District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson and his aids busied themselves completing evidence on which an indictment will be sought against the gang chief. The income-tax frauds similar to those which have already brought prison sentences to some of his principal cohorts.

Immigration authorities in Chicago meanwhile were making preparations for the deportation of Tony ("Mep") Volpe, long a reputed member of the so-called murder division of the Capone syndicate.

125 Other Aliens Deported.

Six coaches, barred and carrying armed guards, will take 125 undesirable aliens out of Chicago tonight from the LaSalle street station. Although Volpe will not be among the men being deported, the train will have on it three brothelkeepers—Nick Bernhardt and Anton Maroda of Chicago and Angel Kinkides of Gary and three boys recently released from John—Christie House, a burglar; Emil Wylk, a burglar, and Frank Covello. The men adjudged to be deported will also be taken to New York for the venue of their home countries.

A special train, including cars for sixty aliens from the west coast, will carry the undesirables east.

White Plea Is Denied.

Judge Joseph S. Smith in the Criminal Court today overruled the motion to quash the indictment against William J. ("Three Fingers Jack") White, also listed as a public enemy, ordered him to trial Monday morning for the killing of a policeman several years ago.

In refusing the plea of White's attorneys Judge Sabath also announced that the trial of Leo V. Brothers, St. Louis hoodlum, indicted for the murder of Alfred Tingle, which had been set for March 3, would follow immediately upon the conclusion of White's case.

The Pops Are Questioned.

That the government officials were already pressing their efforts to land Capone in a prison cell for income-tax law violations became known today through the reported appearance in the federal building of Willie and Bennie Pope, who at various times are reported to have been prominent in the operation of some of the Capone-controlled gambling joints.

They were reported to have been questioned by Assistant District Attorney Dwight H. Coten and from other sources it was learned that subpoenas are to be issued for others who, it is hoped, may be compelled to give information before the federal grand jury regarding the profits Capone is said to have taken from some of these enterprises.

Mr. Johnson's assistants, it was said, plan to follow the same procedure in their efforts to obtain an indictment against Capone as used in the prosecution of Ralph Capone, his brother; Jack Guzik and Frank ("The Enforcer") Nitti, who is already serving an eighteen-month sentence in Leavenworth penitentiary for income-tax frauds.

Vagrancy Trial Wednesday.

Capone also faces trial next Wednesday before Judge Frank M. Padden in the Felony court on a charge of vagrancy as public enemy No. 1. He is scheduled to appear before Judge Wikerson Monday morning, when the formal order on the six months' sentence meted out to him yesterday is to be entered. At that time formalities connected with the filing of his appeal will be completed.

ALL SORTS OF Al Capone stories are in circulation in and around Leasburg. It all had its basis in reports contained in newspapers alleging the Great Lakes Construction Company to be owned in the majority by Capone and to be a part of some racket system. The construction company resented this imputation, and the Union Press made an investigation with the report and revelation that the Great Lakes Company is in no way related to Al Capone. While this ought to end further comment, it seems to have accentuated the libel with more ten stories uttered each day than there are fleas on a dog's back.

By Special Staff Writer, and Exclusively for THE SATURDAY NEWS:

That the underworld of Chicago has branched out from its operations along the shores of Lake Michigan, is attested by several startling developments in this section during the past two weeks. The first intimation of gangdom's entrance into Union county came last week when Ben Comiskey, of Shamokin, was arrested at Sunbury for trespassing on Reading Railroad property. Taken before Mayor Heckart of Sunbury, the Shamokinite stated that he had been sent to these parts by Al "Scarface" Capone, supreme pontiff of the Chicago underworld, to stop work on the new penitentiary.

Although police officials discounted his story, attributing his remarks to fabulous dreams caused by "canned heat", the future developments have cast a different aspect on the whole affair.

 ...shot tracks, said to be those of the...
 ...there was someone else in the car who...
 ...fixed the tires.

The investigator found a tire wrench...
 ...almost covered with mud. It was un-...
 ...like most tire wrenches in that it was...

 ...factures such wrenches only on a small...
 ...scale. They are not supplied with any...

 ...stores in Chicago.

This was another clue. Still another...
 ...was the two initials, "J. J.", which had...
 ...been cut into the metal of the wrench.

Traces Wrench to Owner

Few gangsters are so reckless as to...
 ...show their vanity by carving their in-...

 ...but the investigator remembered that...
 ...a Chicago gangster by the name of Joe...
 ..."Jo Jo" Jackson once before got into...
 ...the hands of the law because of an...
 ...trated pocket knife which he had...
 ...in a distillery. Jackson is known to be...
 ...a trusted lieutenant of Capone.

There seems to be little doubt that...
 ...Chicago gangdom has been at the site...

 ...should desire to hold up construction...
 ...is not known, unless the underworld...
 ...feels that prosecutions will be more...

As yet the representatives of the...
 ...Chicago underworld have done nothing...
 ...to warrant turning the case...
 ...over to the police. But the police in-...

PUBLIC ENEMY NO. 1 How Much Longer Can He Get Away With It?

They were given to him, more and more, from the moment he took them. For a while, it was, as he said, "nothing to get any further on."

But the story of his rise is another part of the story of Capone as a public enemy. It was, in fact, the story of his rise to power.

It is not strange that a private source of an number should be to date- time because of a murder. The bullet- ridden bodies of many gangsters have been seen in Chicago, the body of John Capone, a newspaper reporter, seen at better.

From Killing to Squalid

Evening News, Feb. 15

In making an attempt to get the life of one of the great public enemies, it is hard to find a man who is more squalid than John Capone. He had a life of crime and a life of crime. He had a life of crime and a life of crime.

Only a few days before he was killed, he was in a Chicago prison. He had a life of crime and a life of crime. He had a life of crime and a life of crime.

Capone is in the making. Capone is in the making. Capone is in the making. Capone is in the making.

It is possible that the staff of the newspaper which is in the making of the story had received his few weeks of news before he was killed. He had a life of crime and a life of crime.

But, even so, Chicago was turned upside down at last. He had a life of crime and a life of crime. He had a life of crime and a life of crime.

Chicago is still rich with powerful, full deadly weapons. But Chicago has not learned from the past. He had a life of crime and a life of crime.

Bloodthirsty Ruffian Must

On the spot, look them for rid- ing on them when they were hidden and put down quickly to death.

Capone Did Not Kill

John L. O'Connell

Capone swears he did not kill John J. Connelley. The Chicago police believe that Little was killed because he was Capone's friend. He thought it would be better to let Connelley go than to let Capone go. Directly or indirectly, he made his name in Chicago—and Detroit and New York, for that matter.

When Little died, Capone's power began to wane. He had a life of crime and a life of crime. He had a life of crime and a life of crime.

Capone's popularity began to wane after he returned to Chicago following his release from the Pennsylvania jail. He had a life of crime and a life of crime. He had a life of crime and a life of crime.

He had returned a year for carrying a thing but this, he says, did not matter. He had a life of crime and a life of crime. He had a life of crime and a life of crime.

When the year was over, Al's sworn brothers were in the state to arrest every man and woman. He had a life of crime and a life of crime. He had a life of crime and a life of crime.

He was suspended from the job. He had a life of crime and a life of crime. He had a life of crime and a life of crime.

Chicago, swayed from its equality, saw Capone as its way, and turned to get rid of him and all he stood for.

Steele's Brother Sues To the Ground

Chicago Press-Examiner

Chicago places were kicked over. Capone's place was kicked over. Capone's place was kicked over. Capone's place was kicked over.

Here, Al Capone's white powder, a 1935, Chicago, Ill.

After Al was released from a 3 1/2 year prison term, he returned to the place of his power. He had a life of crime and a life of crime.

Chicago would have seen of him, but Al had a life of crime and a life of crime. He had a life of crime and a life of crime.

He had a life of crime and a life of crime. He had a life of crime and a life of crime. He had a life of crime and a life of crime.

He had a life of crime and a life of crime. He had a life of crime and a life of crime. He had a life of crime and a life of crime.

Dream of Health Restores Hope to Breather-Girl in Fight for Life

Alone, Broke, Girl, 20, Kills Self

NORA TURNS ON GAS WHEN LOVERS PASS

THEIR NEW CITY with its alluring prospect of a better life, ready to be taken by the girl who was a girl about 20.

Monday was no day in the county for Nora. Last Saturday night the girl, known only as Nora, saw other girls tripping to dance with escorts. They were pretty clothes and had good food and money. Nora had nothing. She turned on the gas in her room at 1144 W. Jackson Blvd.

When the landlady, Mrs. Ruth Halton, snuffed gas, she called the police and the girl was rushed to the county hospital, where she died. Her purse contained only a lipstick. There were no letters or papers. Last Wednesday when Nora rented the room and paid $4 for a week's rent she told Mrs. Halton only her first name.

"She had not a friend in the world, so far as I know," Mrs. Halton told the DAILY TIMES. "No one came to see her, she would not talk to me, and she kept to herself. I suppose there had been tragedy in her life."

Mrs. Halton said the girl had no clothing or baggage other than the black cloth coat and hat to match, black shirt, blue sweater, black shoes and flesh-colored hose which she wore. She had black hair and brown eyes and was about 5 feet 7 inches and weighed

Vision Starts Paralysis Victim on Road to Recovery

By LUCIUS LEUNG,
FRANCES MCGAAN, the nurse who lived for four months in the Drinker respirator at St. Luke's hospital, had a vision the other night.

And since she had the dream she has been gaining strength. She ate food and wash herself now, when before her hands and arms were helplessly paralyzed.

Propped up in bed in a nest of long pillows, looking like a child with her dark hair in two braids and with gray pink ribbons, Frances described it today.

"I dreamed that I was all well and the doctors told me I could leave the hospital. I was so delighted — and then so disappointed the next morning when I awoke and found it was only a dream.

"Since then I've been feeling wonderful, though. My appetite has picked up and I am able to use my hands and arms much more than before. At this rate perhaps my dream will come true in a little while. I weigh 91 pounds now."

VEIL DANCE? NO

Breathing Still Rapid

The added weight has greatly improved. Miss McGaan's appearance. She weighed only 75 pounds when she left the breather in December. Her face has rounded out, her hands and cheeks are taking on the tint of health and her eyes are brighter.

Her breathing is still rapid and difficult, though it has improved since the time she left the machine. A special metal tank has been constructed in which Miss McGaan lies and takes according to attention her body. Her limbs are more buoyant in water, and, with a back rest and her nurses to support her, she sits up in bed.

GIRLS' STORY JAILS 2 YOUTHS

VICTIMSTELL OF ATTACKS AFTER RIDES

CHICAGO—A group of 15-year-old girls who had been riding to lonely prairie, beaten, and then attacked, today held two youths in the Evanston lockup.

The young men, Charles Simpson, 18, 511 Grove st., Evanston, and Vernon Thompson, 17, 1605 Ridge ave., Evanston, face charges of assault and criminal attack.

They were arrested after Miss Anne Joe Ballinal, 17, 850 Logan bldg., clerk in a drug store at Lawrence and Keisler aves., told police Thompson "made a date" to take her home and that he and Simpson drove her instead to a Miss Chamber traffic.

"Simpson struck me on the head and both of them attacked me," she told police.

An examination at Rogers Park hospital showed she had been attacked. When her complaint was made, the Evanston police were already investigating the charges of Miss Ruth Blantz, 17, 1240 Chicago ave. Miss Blantz said the youths had driven her to Church st. and High Ridge rd. Nine Center. There they had beaten and attacked her, according to her story.

Scorns Idea of Living in Home with Film Star Hubby

INA CLAIRE, who has forsaken the stage for the screen, isn't going to live with John Gilbert or mind his son even though he is her husband.

Between mouthfuls of breakfast at the La Salle st. station, where she arrived today from New York on the Century, she gave her version of how two movie stars can be happily-despite past ages.

"Two serious, temperamentally people like John and I simply can't live together in the same house," said she, biting into a doughnut. "That's why we have separate homes and see each other occasionally when we have work and don't get in the way. That's why we're both in the right frame of mind and I have my makeup in place. It's the ideal way."

Doctor's Love Operations Win Separation for Wife

Mrs. Nellie Amberson, 25, 1155 N. Exposition ave., bathing wife of Dr. Henry Amberson, today was granted a decree of separate maintenance by Judge Decker. The physician's divorce bill, in which he charged her with cruelty, was dismissed.

Little Nell had been charged by the doctor with having "willed" smashing machines in the office at 4444 Marine ave. and violating him hard enough on the case to draw blood.

But it was her charges that thrilled crowded courtroom during a free-day moving the stipend that he, after re-behavior built school student, Florence Wendell, means too chunky with a foot, once taking her to a foot-hill point at Uranian and remanding possible.

Dodged by His Boss While Sitting on Jury, Wins $93 Wage Suit

During the two weeks he served on a Cook county jury, Edward A. Bryson, 4413 W. Quince st., returned each evening to the office of his employer, L. J. Keenan, 149 N. La Salle st., a real estate operator, and brought his books up to date, he told Judge Green of the Municipal court.

When pay day came, however, he found that Keenan didn't give him an envelope with two weeks' wages, at $46 a week.

"Why should I pay you? You got $15 from the county for the two weeks, didn't you?" Keenan demanded, according to evidence.

"Well, if he was your bookkeeper and he kept your books, I think he should be paid," the court declared, allowing Bryson's claim for $93 and costs.

The additional $18 represented an entry in the book for postage stamps. "He never used that many stamps in the sure of that," the employer demanded. "If it was a dollar or two I wouldn't mind."

A man who serves on a jury should be complimented, not penalized," ruled the court. "He'll get his salary and the money for the stamps as well. You authorized him to buy them, and he got all I know, he did."

Seventy University of Michigan students were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct following a wild party today on the fraternalism. In each of which police claim they seized quantities of whiskey and beer. They were freed without bond until Friday.

Joseph Looming, 20, giving a local hotel as his address, was arrested for intoxication. Blaney O'Toole, an Ann Arbor youth riding with him, supplied information, police said, which indicated that the fraternalists with honor. The students were based on the story told by O'Toole.

When he equipped a cozy little hotel room, just built for two, in his advertising office, Mrs. Harriet Clemons, attractive brunette wife of a wealthy advertising expert, revealed her views of love and went prancing off to court for a legal cure.

And Horace J. Clemons, owner of an advertising agency bearing his name at 1520 Belmont ave., used the business boulevard to entertain girl friends, who, the wife says, were prodigal with love.

But Horace, as she called him, poodled the suggestion that the hotel room implied anything other than the James Andrew toward his employees.

"They reported a divorce suit filed in the Superior court by Mrs. Sam Matthews, 1811 Campbell ave.,—one of the housewives who is breathing her airs rather than pay 10 cents for a pound loaf.

At a man meeting held at the Lyceum, 2115 Elmwood blvd., this afternoon by the indignant housewives Mrs. Matthews urged others to follow her example until their demand for a pound loaf is met.

"I don't see just 90 cents to make the loaf," Mrs. Matthews declared, expert as that, including the price of gas for the oven. At the baker's side, it would cost 10 cents.

"I use eggs in my bread, butter, and the baker's salt. It isn't so much trouble and it's the most effective way to make our complaint noticeable. If we all bake our own bread, we will have to cut that price."

Although the bakers with the women seem to have the best of the argument, the price of the pound loaf is still the same. They have one thing in common: they have one thing to be thankful for.

When Mrs. Matthews began doing her own baking a month ago, she has been able to buy some shop-bought bread for her children with the money saved.

The trial of the posthumous murder of Marine Derrick, which opened today in the Federal court here, was one of the most sensational in the history of the city. The prosecution, led by the state attorney, charged that the defendant, a young man who was shot in the back of the head by a Marine while on duty, was guilty of the crime. The defense, led by a prominent lawyer, argued that the defendant was innocent and that the Marine was the one who shot him. The trial is expected to last several weeks.

The murder of Mrs. Rickel, which was held in court today, was one of the most sensational in the history of the city. The prosecution, led by the state attorney, charged that the defendant, a young man who was shot in the back of the head by a Marine while on duty, was guilty of the crime. The defense, led by a prominent lawyer, argued that the defendant was innocent and that the Marine was the one who shot him. The trial is expected to last several weeks.

American films, because they are so good, they have found a place in the hearts of American people. In this contest, Indiana is the winner.

Don't miss this contest. It can't quite make it back into the list of 18 leaders in the king column, even though Indiana is the lovely Joan Crawford, sometimes to all right in her place as No. 5 in the queen voting.

Keep your eye on little Lupe Vélez. She's done some remarkable climbing lately, coming from obscurity, down below the list of 18 leaders, into ninth place, showing Ruth Chatterton out of the running and Connie Bennett into 16th place.

Now let's take a rest on the ground and rest our eyes on the "what's what" for today.

How Much Longer Can He Get Away With It?

Frank White, Mr. Doherty explained yesterday, says that those who think a long while, like the wrong idea, and carry it out will still stand. Hence his machine gunning of a lot of buildings in Chicago—a stupid if courageous effort to kill Mr. Hughes' Congress.

Shortly after the Chicago raid White and some others had Johnny Terry and his wife, chased them for miles, and finally shot Terry. Terry almost died of fright.

Nothing Like Jail Terms

Some old ladies have been given the sentence in various penitentiaries for making and selling a few quarts of liquor. Men have been shot and killed by government agents because they tried to run away with a quart of two.

Johnny Terry made some millions of dollars worth of profit and sold it—said when he received a sizeable plane to go to be called on his Dutch name and was punished with six months in a jail quiet jail—with members' assistance.

Alphonse O'Donnell and his mob of west side hicks got into a jam with the government people—quite tame, really. It must be regulation—and also learned that the quality of government is in the hands.

The story is told from a government

Girl Bungles, after making her bed, escaped when the police up the street. Just all the barrels with water and salt, soap, and steam up the street and she, Terry, and some of the boys, which time it could be heard.

But a boy talking, he honestly believed that the people in a certain house should be so busy crawling out every night. The house pirates had taken out $100,000 out of the government's domain when the cops discovered.

All the gang was taken, and every one of them, said would have been

CAPONE GIVES SELF UP IN U. S. COURT

VICE LORD PLEADS 'NOT GUILTY' OF CONTEMPT CHARGE

Wrench took the crowd by surprise and both were inside the building before any of the movie cameras could "shoot."

Crime Held Back Through

Headly Capone and Vaughn hurried to an elevator. There was a large gathering on the main floor. Police men had them in check. The elevator carried the two to the sixth floor, where Judge Wisniewski's court is situated.

On the greater balconies of the sixth, seventh and eighth floors, three ranks of men, women and children looked on. Chief Justice, accompanied by a squad of about 50 policemen, was on hand to control the gallery. Prosecutors, judges and others gathered on the floor below in the hope of seeing Capone.

The hallway leading to Judge Wisniewski's court was blocked off by men. Deputy marshals, police and the crowd on the sixth floor, compelling all to "keep moving."

"To be here just" was the question heard a thousand times.

"Looks Good, Chaps, Pretty"

About the police officers present were George, Drury and Homer, Sheriff Dan Healy who liked to smoke, David and Levitt, Edward Bernheim.

Capone stepped out of the elevator, and Vaughn, at the gang chief's heels, raced to keep up with him and they ducked past the sniffling throngs and into the sheltered hallway.

In the judge's ante-chamber, Capone shook hands with a stenographer. A few minutes later, every seat in the courtroom was filled.
