When advised of the Director's absence, the caller stated she would talk to the writer, as she didn't want assistance, just information about reaching the Director with a letter.

Mrs. Norman advised that she was "run out of town in 1941, by Bureau Agent Frankel in New York, and subsequently she was interviewed by Agent Taylor in Washington, D. C. at her office here." She asked how to address a letter to the Director so that she could be sure it gets to him personally.

Mrs. Norman, who declined to give her complete name, was given the Director's address here at the Justice Building with the assurance that all mail addressed to Mr. Hoover was seen by him. She seemed perfectly happy with this information.

By referral from the Director's Office, the writer spoke to Mr. [redacted] BRONT, New York, who called at 8:00 p.m., March 26, 1954. Mr. [redacted] stated he was trying to call his cousin, Tom Feeney, an Agent formerly assigned at Waterbury, Connecticut, and thereafter transferred to Washington, D. C. Mr. [redacted] was advised that we have no record of an Agent named Thomas Feeney assigned in the Washington area at the present time, and it was suggested that since any such Agent might have resigned, Mr. [redacted] should address a letter to Mr. Feeney in care of the Bureau and that it would be forwarded to his last known address.

Feeney, who was assigned to the Resident Agency in Waterbury, Connecticut, and transferred to the Bureau July 6, 1947, resigned from the Bureau on June 20, 1952. The last record appearing in his personnel file is a news release from the "Stamford Advocate," Stamford, Connecticut, which reflects that Thomas J. At 11:54 p.m., 4-6-54, a man who would identify himself only as "one of the rank and file" called from Algonac, Michigan. He said the three-week old strike at Chris Craft Company, Algonac, Michigan, shows no indication of breaking. He stated the strike involves about five hundred employees and as a result "women and children don't have bread on the table." He said he hoped the FBI could do something about the strike since the FBI has the people at heart.

The writer advised him that the FBI does have the authority to investigate violations of the Labor Management Relations Act, 1947, but has no authority or desire to engage in labor disputes between employer and employee. Complainant said he knows of no indication of violation of law in connection with the strike.

It is noted that the complainant's speech indicated he was intoxicated.

b7c-1 On April 8, 1954, by referral from the Director's Office, Agent Suttler talked to Mr. [redacted] long distance from his home in Hartford, Connecticut. He said he resided at [redacted] in that city. He complained that "they" were holding a lot of people for extortion and ransom in the town of Woods, Wisconsin, which was about three miles from Milwaukee. He said "they" were a bunch of fanatics and possibly religious fanatics; that "they" dress in a gray uniform and that he could not stand it any longer. He said there was entirely too much persecution going on in Wisconsin and that the FBI should know all about it and if not they should investigate immediately. b-Project b7c-1 Mr. [redacted] could not identify "they" but merely referred to them as a group of fanatics. When asked for proof of the truth concerning "they" which he spoke of, he merely said "they" were holding some of his own relatives for ransom and extortion. He rambled in a general way and furnished no information of value. ce

At 11:48 A.M. on April 13, 1954, a telephone call was referred to SA Frank J. Hudson of Crim Records Section from the Director's Office. The long-distance operator at Dallas, Texas advised that the call was from one Marie Wilding (phonetic) but that the caller insisted on talking only with the Director. SA Hudson advised the operator that the Director was not available at that time.

At one point, SA Hudson overheard the caller talking with the operator at which time she stated, "I guess I'll have to make a trip to see him."

No information was located in Bureau files identifiable with Marie Wilding; however, it is to be pointed out that an out of service personnel record was located for a [redacted] who entered on duty on November 25, 1940, in the Chief Clerk's Office at the Seat of Government and was subsequently transferred to the San Francisco Office on November 1, 1942. This individual resigned on July 8, 1943, at which time she held the grade of CAF-3. Her last efficiency rating dated March 31, 1942, was excellent. On the basis of information available it was not possible to determine whether or not this individual was identifiable with the caller. (67-176099)

MRS. [REDACTED] ALSO KNOWN AS

For record purposes, by reference from the Director's office at 2:35 p.m. yesterday, Wick in my office talked on the telephone with Mrs. [REDACTED] Washington, D. C., telephone [REDACTED]. Mrs. [REDACTED] said she is the widow of former Senator from [REDACTED] and Federal Judge [REDACTED].

b7C-1

Mrs. [REDACTED] explained that about two weeks ago she received a telephone call at her current address by transfer from [REDACTED] which is the telephone listed to a residence at [REDACTED] Washington, D. C. Mrs. [REDACTED] owns this home but at one time rented it to [REDACTED] a career diplomat in the State Department. The male caller, without identifying himself, started asking Mrs. [REDACTED] questions about [REDACTED] recent occupancy in the residence located at [REDACTED]. This house is adjacent to that which Mrs. [REDACTED] owns.

According to Mrs. [REDACTED] the caller's failure to properly identify himself and his attempt to interview her over the telephone regarding her knowledge of [REDACTED] his background, character, reputation and loyalty sufficiently aroused her suspicions to the point where she gave no information whatsoever but suggested he come to see her. The individual two days later contacted her by telephone and made an appointment which he failed to keep. Mrs. [REDACTED] said she believed this man could have been an Agent of the FBI although she said she understood we did not conduct investigations in that fashion.

Mrs. [REDACTED] said in thinking the matter over she may have been too curt and might have been unfair to [REDACTED] in refusing the interview on the telephone and asked what she should do about it.

CHECK OF BUREAU FILES:

Bureau files and general indices fail to reflect the FBI has ever conducted an investigation of [REDACTED] although references do appear to him in files. Likewise the Washington Field Office has no record of him, and it was not possible to determine that any Agent in the Washington Field had contacted Mrs. [REDACTED] by phone in connection with this or any other matter.

It was suggested, however, that she might contact the State Department or the Civil Service Commission. She said she disliked contacting the State Department because Scott McLeod is "McCarthy's man" and "I don't like McCarthy at all." She indicated, however, that she was greatly relieved to learn that the FBI did not carry out its investigative responsibility in such an unsatisfactory manner. She was thanked for calling.

[redacted] Augusta, Georgia, called the Bureau at 6:25 P.M. on April 14, 1954, and the call was referred to Special Agent Dwight J. Dalbey in Crime Records.

[redacted] story lacked coherence and his speech was labored as though he were talking under some kind of handicap, temporary or otherwise. His opening statement was "I think I have everything you want to crack a big syndicate ring in narcotics and prostitution." He said he had been acquainted with the operations of this syndicate for seven years and that he had reported it to the FBI in Augusta, Georgia, and Chicago, Illinois, and had also reported the matter to the United States Secret Service. Agents of the latter organization put him in jail for forty-eight hours. No one has done anything to the ring as yet.

674-1

[redacted] said he would like a job, but he would not elaborate on the nature of the work he wanted to do. He was told that the FBI has no job for anyone except its regularly employed Agents and clerical personnel.

Toward the end of the conversation, [redacted] stated that he could not hear well despite the fact that Special Agent Dalbey was continuing to talk as before. He then said perhaps the mob is trying to show its power "by cutting us off."

The caller stated he is a lawyer, and that he wants to report something to the Director that will be the most important thing the Director has handled in the past 6 months. He asked when he might be able to see the Director for a few minutes. He repeatedly refused to give his name, and finally agreed to talk to an assistant after having been advised that the Director is out and his return is most indefinite. After checking, he was referred to Mr. DeLoach in Mr. Nichols' office. He also advised the writer that he was on his way up to the "Hill".

Mr. DeLoach advised that the caller would not give his name or the name of his ^{business} client, who he states has the biggest interests in the world. The caller stated he is a well known Washington lawyer. He said he was at the airport waiting to catch a plane, and had wanted to see the Director prior to leaving on the plane. He would not say whether the matter he had in mind was within the Bureau's jurisdiction or not.

Mr. DeLoach advised him that the Director's

By referral from the Director's office, the writer spoke to Mrs. Hyla Rosenkranse, (no house number) [REDACTED] New York, commencing 6:20 P.M., May 1, 1954. Mrs. Rosenkranse stated she lived across the road from a gangster, a big man in the underworld, and right now, "they" are shooting rifles off and she and her little ones want the protection of the FBI. It was explained that the FBI does not give physical protection to individuals, to which she answered, "Don't tell me that Mister!" and launched into a tirade about paying taxes, no one else would give her protection including the New York State Police, she had a right to do what she pleased, and she wanted the Director told about her needing protection. Mrs. Carron Wells called at the above indicated time and wanted the Director's home phone and address. She stated she was in Washington, D. C., but for a short time and did want to see or talk with the Director. She gave no local address but stated she was calling from a pay station, Adams 4-9532. She wanted the Director to call her back within fifteen minutes. She stated she really had two residences, one in South Salem, New York, and the other in Danbury, Connecticut.

It was tactfully suggested to Mrs. Wells that if she could state the nature of her business, it was possible that we could assist her. She became somewhat abusive at this point and stated she was getting damned tired of the run-around that Democratic influence had left in Washington, D. C. She also stated she had a file of letters which she had written to the Director, but presumed he never got because of persons like the Supervisor on Duty (S.A. Robert G. Jensen) who concealed matters of pertinence from him. She was told that she was in error on that point as no information of pertinence was ever withheld from the Director. She declined to state whether or not the letters she allegedly wrote the Director were answered; she stated that was not an issue. She again in an abusive manner demanded to know if she could get a damned answer as to whether the Director would call her back at the pay station. She was told that the Director would not make the call. Mrs. Wells then asked for the name of the Agent who took the call. It was given to her. She stated she would raise hell with that Agent for not giving her the Director's home phone number. She then hung up.

Bureau indices contained no record concerning a Mrs. Carron Wells.

At 2:30 P.M., May 8, 1954, [redacted] Cabin Creek, West Virginia, called. He advised he was employed at the Carbide and Chemicals Corporation in South Charleston, West, Virginia. He also stated he was an Elder in the Presbyterian Church.

[redacted] advised he was being mentally persecuted and tortured. He said they had put a sign on his car indicating it was for display purposes. He also said they had placed an electrical gadget in the gas tank of his car whereby they could tune in on his inner thoughts. He, however, had looked into the gas tank but could not see the electrical gadget. He wondered how they could operate the gadget when he couldn't locate it. He was unable to identify the people he kept referring to as they. He wondered if the FBI would not investigate the people torturing and persecuting him.

It was pointed out to Mr. [redacted] that the matter which he presented did not appear to constitute a violation over which the FBI had jurisdiction and we could be of no assistance. He then requested the address of the nearest FBI office in order that he might personally present his problem. He was advised that the Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Office is the principal office which covers but they would be unable to conduct any investigation.

ACTION:

Telephone Calls

At 11:40 a.m. on May 3, I received an inquiry from the switchboard asking if I would talk to a Mr. [REDACTED] who was calling long distance from West Albany, New York, and who wanted to talk to someone concerning security matters. I took the call and the person identified himself by the above name and stated that he had called the Albany office on several occasions asking that an agent come out to see him but no one from the office had called. He said he had also previously called Bureau Headquarters two or three times over the weekend requesting that an agent come to see him but he still had not been contacted. He stated that his present call was made to the Attorney General, but had been referred to me for handling. I asked what kind of information he wanted to make available, and he said it was similar to that he had previously furnished to Lowell Holt, an agent previously assigned to Albany who had contacted him. He refused to furnish any additional information except to say that it related to subversive matters. I then recalled that this person had made several previous calls over the weekend and that we had sent Albany a teletype a day or two previously instructing that an agent contact [REDACTED] or the matter be otherwise handled by Albany, and that the Bureau be advised. I told [REDACTED] that I would check on the matter immediately.

ENCL

I called Albany and talked to Supervisor H.C. Joslin and instructed that he make an immediate check concerning [REDACTED]. Joslin identified [REDACTED] readily as an individual who has made many calls to the office and is regarded as a mental case. I pointed out that Albany should take the necessary steps to contact [REDACTED] or his family to attempt to discourage future long distance telephone calls such as those made over the weekend and that the Bureau should be advised of the results of the contact. The attached teletype was subsequently received from Albany.

6741 For record purposes, by reference from the Director's office at 5:23 p.m., 5/21/54 Wick in my office talked on the telephone with an individual who stated he was Mayor [redacted] of [redacted] West Virginia. He said he was then calling from the Daniel Boone Hotel in Charleston, West Virginia.

6741 [redacted] who had great difficulty in expressing himself, spoke in an incoherent and rambling manner, said that his very best friend, William H. Ehman, former owner of the Empire Cleaners, Charleston, West Virginia, had left home at 5:30 a.m., 5/19/54. His trussed up body was taken from a river near Charleston into which he had been thrown from a bridge.

6741 The purpose of [redacted] call was to obtain FBI investigative help. [redacted] was told this appeared to be a local matter, we had no jurisdiction and it was thought best he rely exclusively upon local authorities. He was told, however, if in the event it appeared that FBI LAB Identification Division assistance would be useful, the local authorities should not hesitate in contacting the FBI.

Mr. [redacted] business address, [redacted] Spartanburg, South Carolina, residence, [redacted] Spartanburg, called at 10:45 p.m., 6-1-54. He stated that his wife had been driving an automobile and at an intersection in Spartanburg this afternoon two negroes in another car had "blown their horn at her." Shortly thereafter the negroes' car passed her car and again the negroes blew their horn. Mr. [redacted] said he had attempted to call the Resident Agent at Columbia, South Carolina, without success and had then called the Savannah office to which he said he had furnished all details on the above incident. He said he was calling now to complain about the fact that he was unable to contact the Resident Agent at Columbia, South Carolina, and the fact that after an hour nothing had been done about investigating his case. It was explained to him that for reason of economy we are unable to have personnel available for calls in all cities but that our field offices were always available by telephone. He was also advised that if he was seeking protection the local authorities have jurisdiction and he should communicate with them, but that if he wished to report a violation of Federal law in the jurisdiction of this Bureau we are always happy to have him call. Mr. [redacted] then made a point of obtaining the writer's name and stating he would have to "go higher." He also complained about the length of the call and he was assured that the writer had no desire to prolong it and was merely attempting to answer any questions he might have. Mr. [redacted] then said it would apparently be necessary for him to take care of the local situation himself and that he would then go after the writer and with that he terminated the call.

Bureau files contain no information identifiable with [redacted] the search being limited to South Carolina.

At 8:15 P.M. an individual called who identified himself as [redacted]. He said he rented a room at this address two days ago and formerly lived at [redacted].

[redacted] talked in a rambling and incoherent manner and appeared to be intoxicated. He complained that 30 minutes earlier he had been in a drug store at the corner of Fairmount and 14th Streets where he was accused by police officers of annoying a colored girl who was working there. He denied he had annoyed the girl and said that this action by police officers demonstrates the attitude of all officers in the 10th Precinct toward him. He said he is afraid to enter the 10th Precinct for fear of being arrested for no good reason.

b7C-1

[redacted] said that he was a heavy drinker, had been arrested and served time on numerous occasions for drinking. He said he once served time for a felony conviction. His complaint appeared to be against the attitude of officers in the 10th Precinct who stopped him on the street and demanded to know what he was doing.

b7C-1

[redacted] furnished no information concerning any matter of interest to the Bureau and this memorandum is written only to record receipt of his call.

SUBJECT: ~~SAMUEL SMITH, AKA RICHARD DAVIS~~ DC
INFORMATION CONCERNING

Also known as

Telephone Calls

By referral from the Director's Office on June 8, 1954, SA Heim of Crime Records Section, handled a telephone call purportedly from Samuel Smith who said he was calling from the Salvation Army in Washington, D. C. Among some incoherent statements the caller asked if the Bureau knew a man named O'Hara in North Carolina and if we could communicate with O'Hara for the caller. When asked for the specific purpose of his call, Smith asked if the Bureau would pay him one-quarter of the Brink's robbery loot if he helped recover it. He said he was calling from telephone number Adams 4-3304 at the local Salvation Army and that he was known as Richard Davis at the Salvation Army. He refused an opportunity to be interviewed by an Agent or to call at the Washington Field Office and he abruptly hung up after excitedly mentioning that he heard some "clicking" on the phone and asserting that it would be impossible to trace his call. By pretext phone calls, it was learned that telephone number Adams 4-3304 is a residence and that "Richard Davis" was not known at the District Central Corps of the Salvation Army. Due to the incoherent manner of speech and the nebulous nature of his conversation it is not believed any further action is necessary in this matter.

He did not know. I inquired where the neighbor lived. He did not know. I inquired what the Agent had said, namely, whether the neighbor was an applicant or the purpose. He did not know. I told him that I could not very well answer his inquiry because an Agent ordinarily would explain why the investigation was being made if it was an applicant, that this was a practice frequently followed not only in this country but in other countries. He stated that he guessed he was not familiar with these matters and was glad he called because he thought something was wrong. He seemed satisfied.

At 6:07 P.M., Tuesday, June 15, 1954, the captioned individual telephonically contacted the Bureau, asked for the Director, and was referred to Agent Turner of the Crime Records Section.

Miss Moore stated she desired to speak with the Director concerning a matter which she declined to discuss. When informed that the Director was not in at the time, she then asked how soon he would be available so that she could speak with him. She was advised his schedule was extremely uncertain and it would, therefore, be impossible to advise her specifically when he would be free. She was then asked if the Agent could be of any assistance in connection with her problem. She stated that the Agent could not, that she wished to speak only with the Director, and she was obviously reluctant to discuss the matter further, nor did she furnish any identifying data concerning herself or the matter she wished to discuss.

Miss Moore then terminated the conversation, indicating she would again contact the Bureau in the future in an effort to talk to the Director. It was noted by the Telephone Room that this was a local call.

In view of the common name of this individual and the fact she declined to furnish further identifying data, Bufiles have not been searched concerning her.

The captioned individual called the Bureau at about 5:45 p.m. on June 16, 1954, and she was interviewed by Special Agent Earl M. Vickers of the Crime Records Section upon referral from the Director's Office. She advised that she was calling from phone number [REDACTED]

This person would not identify herself other than to furnish the address, apartment number and phone number. She talked incoherently and was not responsive to questions. She talked with a very thick tongue and may have been intoxicated. She advised that she had overheard conversation in Apartment 314 at that same address. She advised that a man and his wife lived in Apartment 314 but that she did not know their names. She described the man as white, 56 years of age, and 156 pounds. She stated that he was supposedly an editor. She described the wife as white, 48 to 50 years of age, light auburn hair and also 156 pounds.

She advised that these conversations consisted of remarks about America being weak and soft. She had no other specific information to furnish in spite of efforts to obtain this information from her by questioning. She was advised that there was no FBI jurisdiction based upon the information she had furnished.

b7c-1 This individual called again a few minutes later. It had been determined that the person residing at that address and with that phone number was Mrs. [REDACTED]. The caller was asked if this was her name and she replied that her name was Miss [REDACTED]. She had no more information to furnish and she terminated the conversation. She called again a few minutes later and rambled considerably. She mentioned that she wanted to attend a dance in her cocktail room. She used some profanity in all of these phone calls. It was suggested to her that she not call the FBI unless she has information of a more specific nature. She commented that her neighbors had quieted down since she first called. There is no information in Bufiles identifiable with this individual.

RECOMMENDATION:

That no action be taken on this matter in view of the non-specific nature of the complaint.

At 9:45 p.m., Mrs. Alice Clark called to complain about treatment accorded to her by the Tuckerton, N. J., Police Department. She claims that her phone is tapped, that she was arrested for driving without a license in February, 1954, and held for 24 hours in the local jail. She also claimed to have been brought before the District Court Judge at Toms River, N. J. She did not state the charge. I told her we had no jurisdiction in connection with her arrest for driving without a license and being held by the local police for 24 hours or the fact that she alleges her phone is tapped. She was obviously drunk and highly indignant and abusive. I finally was forced to terminate the call. The switchboard operator ^{NEW JERSEY} called me back and said she demanded my name and then became very abusive to the switchboard operator. She told the operator she intended to write the Director about the call. Bufiles contain no identifiable data with regard to complainant.

b7C-1 Mrs. [REDACTED] who said that she was calling from Springston, Ohio, telephonically advised that she wanted FBI assistance immediately. In a rambling and disjointed fashion, she said that she had an attorney named Pittinger in Duluth, Minnesota, but that she wanted FBI help involving murder, nonsupport, fraudulent checks, and other claims. She stated that she could not see her small children and that her priveleges had been taken away so that she was no longer permitted to smoke. She indicated that she was in a hospital and upon questioning, identified it as the Columbus State Hospital. She said that she wanted the FBI to investigate her husband and her father although the police also might be involved.
