SUBJECT: UNKNOWN SUBJECTS;
JUSTICE WILLIAM J. BRENNAN, JR. - VICTIM
EXTORTION

[REDACTED] b7C

Justice Abe Fortas called at approximately 1:00 p. m., 6/4/68. He stated that Justice Brennan lived near him in Georgetown and that Justice Brennan had possibly been the victim of an extortion case. He stated that the Justice had a letter which he wished to turn over to the FBI. He asked that I personally call Justice Brennan to discuss this matter. I told him I would do so immediately.

Justice Brennan advised that last Sunday his wife looked out of the second floor bedroom window and noticed a red tag lying in a bank of ivy in their front yard. She went down to remove the tag and, upon pulling it, noted that it was tied to a gun case. She and Justice Brennan opened the gun case and found what the Justice described to be a Browning 12 gauge shotgun. An Eastern Airlines baggage tag was attached to the gun case.

Justice Brennan stated that he lived in a two-family dwelling

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] came out and the two of them searched the area. A blanket was found on [REDACTED] side of the yard. [REDACTED] also found one additional 20 gauge shotgun shell. [REDACTED] recommended that Justice Brennan call the police. He did so and about one hour later an officer appeared. Upon taking a look at the shotgun and shells, the officer called for additional help in the investigation.

Justice Brennan stated that [REDACTED] of the Seventh Precinct was handling investigation of this matter. [REDACTED] called on him this morning and indicated that the police have had no luck in ascertaining who owned the shotgun. Justice Brennan stated that he was most anxious that nothing appear in the newspapers concerning this matter, however, admittedly, a female reporter from the Senate Press Gallery had called his office and asked his secretary if the owner of the gun had been found.

C. D. DeLoach to Mr. Tolson, 6/4/68
Re: Justice William J. Brennan, Jr.

b7C
Justice Brennan stated that the primary source of his concern lay in the fact that yesterday, 6/3/68, he received a letter addressed to him at the White House. The White House forwarded this letter to his Supreme Court Chambers. The letter started out, "It is too bad that the shotgun you found was not used on you and [REDACTED]"

Justice Brennan stated that this might possibly be an extortion violation and that he would appreciate anything the FBI might do to clear this matter up. I told him that we would have an Agent from our Washington Field Office pick up the letter in question and that it would be examined by our Laboratory. I further indicated that an investigation would, of course, have to be based upon the facts as set forth in the letter.

Justice Brennan expressed his appreciation and reiterated that he was hopeful that no publicity would ensue concerning this matter. I told him there would be no publicity from the FBI, however, that I of course could not guarantee this fact from other sources.

After talking to Justice Brennan, I called SAC Purvis of the Washington Field Office with instructions that he take care of this matter immediately.

ACTION:

That this memorandum be forwarded to the General Investigative Division for following with the Washington Field Office.

This is to advise of the current developments concerning the discovery of a shotgun in Justice Brennan's yard and his subsequent receipt of a letter that may be a Federal Extortion violation.

BACKGROUND:

On May 12, 1968, Justice Brennan's wife found a 20 gauge shotgun in the yard of their residence. This discovery was brought to the attention of [redacted]

A search of the yard revealed a child's blanket with about twenty-four 12 gauge shotgun shells on it. The Metropolitan Police Department was notified and they conducted a search that located several 20 gauge shotgun shells. The gun was in a case that had a tag attached that police believed to be an airline baggage check. Efforts by the police to establish the identity of the owner of the weapon were futile and the police impounded the gun as "found property." b7c

On June 3, 1968, Justice Brennan received a typed letter, bearing postmark "Orlando, Florida, 5/29/68" and signed [redacted]. The first paragraph of the letter read, "It is too bad that the guns found on your premises were not used on you and your family." The balance of the letter sets forth [redacted] feelings about outside interference in the South's handling of racial matters. b7c

Justice Abe Fortas contacted Mr. DeLoach on June 4, 1968, and advised the Bureau of Justice Brennan's receipt of the letter. Washington Field Office (WFO) was instructed to institute immediate investigation.

INVESTIGATION CONDUCTED TO DATE:

Justice Brennan was interviewed on June 4, 1968, by WFO but could not furnish any reason for the incidents or information of value to our investigation. He furnished the original letter and requested that no publicity be given this matter.

The FBI Laboratory determined the typing on the letter conforms to a style of Royal elite and L. C. Smith elite type, but the typing was not identified in the Anonymous Letter File. Identification Division developed one unidentified latent print on the letter.

WFO has determined the tag on the weapon was not an airline company tag, but was an Air Express Company of Railway Express Agency, Incorporated, claim tag.

The gun was not identified in NCIC.

PROPOSED INVESTIGATION:

We are conducting intensive investigation to identify [REDACTED] b7C at Orlando, Florida, and she will be interviewed concerning her letter to Justice Brennan. We are contacting [REDACTED]

After the pertinent facts are known, this matter will be discussed with the appropriate United States Attorney to determine if a prosecutable Extortion violation exists. Justice Brennan will be appropriately advised of the results. b7D

ACTION:

This investigation is receiving priority attention and you will be kept advised of the results.

 EXTORTION

This is to advise that in connection with a possible threatening communication received by Associate Supreme Court Justice Brennan on 6/3/68, one [REDACTED] and the U. S. Attorney Tampa has declined prosecution in this case as the threats do not fall within the purview of the Federal Extortion Statute.

DETAILS:

On 5/12/68, Justice Brennan's wife discovered a shotgun in the yard of their Georgetown residence. A search of the yard by local authorities revealed 24, 12 gauge shotgun shells and several 20 gauge shotgun shells. Efforts to determine the owner of the weapon have been unsuccessful.

On 6/3/68, Justice Brennan received a letter bearing an Orlando, Florida postmark. The letter was signed [REDACTED] and states "It is too bad that the guns found on your premises were not used on you and your family." The letter sets forth the writers opinions about outside interference in the South's handling of racial matters. It is noted that an Orlando daily newspaper on 5/27/68, carried a story concerning the discovery of the shotgun in Justice Brennan's yard.

Justice Brennan did not know of any reason for the incident concerning the shotgun nor the receipt of the letter by him. Our Tampa Office has interviewed [REDACTED]

ASSOCIATE JUSTICE WILLIAM J. BRENNAN, Jr.,
United States Supreme Court-VICTIM
EXTORTION

On June 4, 1968, Associate Justice William J. Brennan, Jr., United States Supreme Court, Washington, D.C., was interviewed and advised the following:

On Sunday morning, May 12, 1968, his wife, while looking from a second-floor window, saw what appeared to be a red tag in the ivy alongside their residence sidewalk at 3037 Dumbarton Avenue, Washington, D.C. Mrs. Brennan investigated and discovered the tag was apparently an Eastern Airlines tag and was attached to a black vinyl case that contained a Browning automatic shotgun.

Upon location of the shotgun, Mrs. Brennan brought the matter to the attention of her husband, and Justice Brennan notified [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] told Justice Brennan that he had found a .20 gauge shotgun shell in his yard that morning. b7C

A search of the Brennan and [REDACTED] premises resulted in the discovery of a light blue children's blanket covered by fairyland figures containing approximately 24 .12 gauge magnum shotgun shells. The blanket was located on a picket fence in Justice Brennan's yard. b7C

The Seventh Precinct, Metropolitan Police Department, Washington, D.C., was notified and several police officers arrived shortly thereafter and conducted a thorough search of the Brennan and [REDACTED] yards that results in the location of six or seven .20 gauge shotgun shells in the yard of [REDACTED]. b7C

[REDACTED] b7c

The shotgun, vinyl case, shells and blanket were furnished to the Metropolitan Police Department for safe-keeping and possible return to the owner.

Justice Brennan advised that he requested that no publicity be given the incident and that to his knowledge the police did not disseminate the information to any news agency.

Justice Brennan further advised that on June 3, 1968, he received a one-page typewritten letter dated May 28, 1968, addressed to Justice William E. Brennan, Jr., White House, Washington, D.C., signed [REDACTED] and bearing a return address of [REDACTED]. Justice Brennan stated that the envelope containing the letter was postmarked May 29, 1968, at Orlando, Florida. b7c

The letter was forwarded to Justice Brennan by the White House, Washington, D.C., and was handled by himself and [REDACTED] b7c

Justice Brennan furnished the above-described letter and envelope to a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation for examination. The letter reads as follows:

"Dear Sir:

"It is too bad that the guns found on your premises were not used on you and your family.

"Why you people up in Washington will not let the South alone and let our states settle their school matters. When my children came along they went to the schools nearest their homes, therefore many of the children could walk to their schools, thereby eliminating having to travel by bus to school.

"I understand that in Washington the White people moved to the suburbs so their children could could go to white schools, therefore the negroes took over the white school buildings. Now down here in the South many of our new schools which have been built are the Negro Schools. Children used to enjoy their social life in their schools and could have parties in their homes or their classes. Now since you idiots up there have forced the schools to mix you have taken away lots of the school life for our children.

"A negro I am sure would really like it best to have their schools. On school grounds children will have little fracasas. Well when two white boys or girls have some trouble it is not made a big issue, but let a white person and a negro have some trouble and a big stink is made. The white boy generally gets the worst of the trouble. My maid which I had 8 years told me recently that she wished things were back like they were before all this civil rights stuff took over.

"You take Martin Luther King was saying he was for non-violence but he was nothing but a liar, for everywhere he went he caused riots and trouble. He was told to stay out of Memphis but no he paid no heed and on TV it showed him with a group of people and when he got them all riled up and he could not handle them he jumped in a car and like a coward he got away. Any man who was arrested as many times as he was for lawlessness also his co-worker Abernathy they should be put in prison for life. King taught more hatred in our country to the negro, instead of him telling them they should be thankful for what we had done for them he put hatred in their minds. Recently saw a graph which stated that over 85% of the negroes lived in 17 states including California and across the South and up the East Coast. Now if these states had not fed clothed, give them jobs and medical aid they would not have multiplied as they have.

[REDACTED] b7c

"Down in Florida so many of the people are from the North and very few will hire a maid for they say they do not want a negro in their kitchens, but the Southern women likes to have a maid help them with their housework. My maids used to tell me that certain women in the neighborhood would ask her about sending them maids, but she told me you know negroes lie and steal and some are so good for nothing that I do not ever send them any help. You take King's wife is saying that he only left her about $25,000 and no will. With all the money that has been given him I expect if the truth was known he is a millionaire plus. He made no will for he does not want a will probated and know his worth.

"/s/ [REDACTED] b7c

Justice Brown stated that to his knowledge he has received no similar communication previously and knows no one identifiable with the writer of the letter.

On June 4, 1968, [REDACTED] Associate Justice Brennan, advised that approximately May 15, 1968, or May 16, 1968, a female who represented herself as [REDACTED] a reporter for [REDACTED] newspaper, called Justice Brennan's office and asked "Are there any clues as to where the guns found on Justice Brennan's lawn might have come from?" When advised [REDACTED] had no information on the incident, [REDACTED] stated that she would call back at a later date. [REDACTED] to date [REDACTED] has not recontacted the office. b7c

On June 5, 1968, [REDACTED] Seventh Precinct, Metropolitan Police Department, Washington, D.C., advised that he was the officer in charge of an investigation concerning the discovery of a shotgun on the premises of Justice William J. Brennan, Jr., [REDACTED] Washington, D.C., on May 22, 1968. b7c b7d

[REDACTED] b7c

[REDACTED] stated that the shotgun, a Browning .20 gauge semi-automatic, bearing Serial Number 9227728, was discovered by Mrs. Brennan and at the time of discovery was contained in a black vinyl zipper case bearing what appeared to be an Eastern Airlines baggage ticket, bearing number EA72-04-21. [REDACTED] stated that the following was written on the tag: "Delta, Atlanta." b7c

[REDACTED] advised that a search of the premises resulted in the location of several .20 gauge shotgun shells found in the yard of [REDACTED]. In addition, approximately 25 .12 gauge magnum shells had previously been located by Justice Brennan and [REDACTED] wrapped in a multi-colored blanket which was found on Justice Brennan's premises. b7c

[REDACTED] stated that the shotgun had been handled by Justice Brennan and [REDACTED] and had been wiped clean by one of them to prevent the weapon from rusting. b7c

[REDACTED] stated that the shotgun, case, shells and blanket were furnished to the Metropolitan Police Department by Justice Brennan and that the items are presently in the custody of the Metropolitan Police Department, property clerk at police headquarters, Washington, D.C. b7c

[REDACTED] b7c b7D

[REDACTED] stated that Justice Brennan requested that no publicity be given the incident and that the location of the weapon and shells was treated as a Found Property Case and that only a discreet inquiry was made to police precincts regarding the possibly inquiry by anyone concerning the loss of the weapon. [REDACTED] advised that to date no inquiry has been received concerning the weapon. b7c

[REDACTED] b7C

[REDACTED] stated that the case is currently being investigated by [REDACTED] and that the shotgun will be furnished the Federal Bureau of Investigation Laboratory for examination on June 5, 1968. b7C

On June 5, 1968, the National Crime Information Center advised that their files contained no record of instant shotgun.
