Introduction to the Economic Census

PURPOSES AND USES OF THE ECONOMIC CENSUS

The economic census is the major source of facts about the structure and functioning of the Nation's economy. It provides essential information for government, business, industry, and the general public.

The economic census furnishes an important part of the framework for such composite measures as the gross domestic product, input/output measures, production and price indexes, and other statistical series that measure short-term changes in economic conditions.

Policymaking agencies of the Federal Government use the data, especially in monitoring economic activity and providing assistance to business.

State and local governments use the data to assess business activities and tax bases within their jurisdictions and to develop programs to attract business.

Trade associations study trends in their own and competing industries and keep their members informed of market changes.

Individual businesses use the data to locate potential markets and to analyze their own production and sales performance relative to industry or area averages.

AUTHORITY AND SCOPE

Title 13 of the United States Code (sections 131, 191, and 224) directs the Census Bureau to take the economic census every 5 years, covering years ending in 2 and 7. The 1992 Economic Census consists of the following eight censuses:

- Census of Retail Trade
- Census of Wholesale Trade
- Census of Service Industries
- Census of Financial, Insurance, and Real Estate Industries
- Census of Transportation, Communications, and Utilities
- Census of Manufactures
- Census of Mineral Industries
- Census of Construction Industries

Special programs also cover enterprise statistics and minority-owned and women-owned businesses. (The 1992 Census of Agriculture and 1992 Census of Governments are conducted separately.) The next economic census is scheduled to be taken in 1998 covering the year 1997.

AVAILABILITY OF THE DATA

The results of the economic census are available in printed reports for sale by the U.S. Government Printing Office and on compact discs for sale by the Census Bureau. Order forms for all types of products are available on request from Customer Services, Bureau of the Census, Washington, DC 20233-8300. A more complete description of publications being issued from this census is on the inside back cover of this document.

Census facts are also widely disseminated by trade associations, business journals, and newspapers. Volumes containing census statistics are available in most major public and college libraries. Finally, State data centers in every State as well as business and industry data centers in many States also supply economic census statistics.

WHAT'S NEW IN 1992

The 1992 Economic Census covers more of the economy than any previous census. New for 1992 are data on communications, utilities, financial, insurance, and real estate, as well as coverage of more transportation industries. The economic, agriculture, and governments censuses now collectively cover nearly 98 percent of all economic activity.

Among other changes, new 1992 definitions affect the boundaries of about a third of all metropolitan areas. Also, the Survey of Women-Owned Businesses has now been expanded to include all corporations.

HISTORICAL INFORMATION

The economic census has been taken as an integrated program at 5-year intervals since 1967 and before that for 1963, 1958, and 1954. Prior to that time, the individual subcomponents of the economic census were taken separately at varying intervals.

The economic census traces its beginnings to the 1810 Decennial Census, when questions on manufacturing were included with those for population. Coverage of economic activities was expanded for 1840 and subsequent censuses to include mining and some commercial activities. In 1902, Congress established a permanent Census Bureau and directed that a census of manufactures be taken every 5 years. The 1905 Manufactures Census was the first time a census was taken apart from the regular every-10-year population census.

The first census of business was taken in 1930, covering 1929. Initially it covered retail and wholesale trade and construction industries, but it was broadened in 1933 to include some of the service trades.

The 1954 Economic Census was the first census to be fully integrated—providing comparable census data across economic sectors, using consistent time periods, concepts, definitions, classifications, and reporting units. It was the first census to be taken by mail, using lists of firms provided by the administrative records of other Federal agencies. Since 1963, administrative records also have been used to provide basic statistics for very small firms, reducing or eliminating the need to send them census questionnaires. The Enterprise Statistics Program, which publishes combined data from the economic census, was made possible with the implementation of the integrated census program in 1954.

The range of industries covered in the economic censuses has continued to expand. The census of construction industries began on a regular basis in 1967, and the scope of service industries was broadened in 1967, 1977, and 1987. The census of transportation began in 1963 as a set of surveys covering travel, transportation of commodities, and trucks, but expanded in 1987 to cover business establishments in several transportation industries. For 1992, these statistics are incorporated into a broadened census of transportation, communications, and utilities. Also new for 1992 is the census of financial, insurance, and real estate industries. This is part of a gradual expansion in coverage of industries previously subjected to government regulation.

The Survey of Minority-Owned Business Enterprises was first conducted as a special project in 1969 and was incorporated into the economic census in 1972 along with the Survey of Women-Owned Businesses.

An economic census has also been taken in Puerto Rico since 1909, in the Virgin Islands of the United States and Guam since 1958, and in the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands since 1982.

Statistical reports from the 1987 and earlier censuses provide historical figures for the study of long-term time series and are available in some large libraries. All of the census data published since 1967 are still available for sale on microfiche from the Census Bureau.

AVAILABILITY OF MORE FREQUENT ECONOMIC DATA

While the census provides complete enumerations every 5 years, there are many needs for more frequent data as well. The Census Bureau conducts a number of monthly, quarterly, and annual surveys, with the results appearing in publication series such as Current Business Reports (retail and wholesale trade and service industries), the Annual Survey of Manufactures, Current Industrial Reports, and the Quarterly Financial Report. Most of these surveys, while providing more frequent observations, yield less kind-of-business and geographic detail than the census. The County Business Patterns program offers annual statistics on the number of establishments, employment, and payroll classified by industry within each county.

SOURCES FOR MORE INFORMATION

More information about the scope, coverage, classification system, data items, and publications for each of the economic censuses and related surveys is published in the Guide to the 1992 Economic Census and Related Statistics. More information on the methodology, procedures, and history of the census will be published in the History of the 1992 Economic Census. Contact Customer Services for information on availability.

Survey of Minority-Owned Business Enterprises

GENERAL

The Survey of Minority-Owned Business Enterprises (SMOBE) provides basic economic data on businesses owned by Blacks, persons of Hispanic or Latin American ancestry, and persons of Asian, Pacific Islander, American Indian, or Alaska Native descent. The survey is based on the entire firm rather than on establishments of a firm. The published data cover number of firms, gross receipts, number of paid employees, and annual payroll. The data are presented by geographic area, industry, size of firm, and legal form of organization of firm.

CENSUS DISCLOSURE RULES

The Bureau of the Census is prohibited by law from publishing any statistics that disclose information reported by individual companies or their establishments. Publishing the number of firms is not considered a disclosure by the Bureau of the Census rules. Therefore, these data are shown, even when other data must be withheld. The information and data obtained from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), the Social Security Administration (SSA), and other sources are also treated as confidential and can be seen only by Bureau of the Census employees sworn to protect it from unwarranted disclosure.

SURVEY METHODOLOGY

Included in the universe of this survey is any activity for which an IRS form 1040, Schedule C (individual proprietorship or self-employed person); 1065 (partnership); or 1120S (subchapter S corporation) was filed in 1992. A subchapter S corporation is a special IRS designation for legally incorporated businesses with 35 or fewer shareholders who, because of tax advantages, elect to be taxed as individual shareholders rather than as corporations. For businesses filing those forms, the IRS provided the Census Bureau with the following information:

- Name and address of the firm
- Employer identification number of the firm
- Social Security numbers (SSN's) of the owners for filers of Form 1040 Schedule C
- Principal industrial activity code (see Comparability of 1987 and 1992 Data)

- Dollar receipts
- Legal form of organization

If an individual filed more than one of the above forms, each was counted as a separate firm. The SSN's of the owners were sent to the SSA, which provided the race codes that were indicated by the individuals on their original applications for SSN's. Persons applying for SSN's prior to 1981 could categorize their race as (a) White, (b) Black, or (c) Other. In 1981, the racial descriptions on social security applications were expanded to (a) Asian, Asian-American, or Pacific Islander, (b) Hispanic, (c) Black, (d) Northern American Indian or Alaskan Native, and (e) White.

In this publication, a firm is classified as Black owned using the race codes obtained from the SSA for sole proprietors or from information reported for the majority of owners of partnerships and subchapter S corporations.

It was possible for a Black-owned firm to be classified in more than one minority group and to be included in more than one minority report. For example, a firm that is owned by a person of Black Hispanic ancestry is counted in the Hispanic report as well as the Black report. The summary report provides unduplicated totals for minority-owned businesses.

The following information was obtained for each firm from the Census Bureau's 1992 Economic Census files:

- Standard industrial classification code (SIC) (see Industry Classifications below)
- Geographic code
- Legal form of organization code
- Number of employees, annual payroll, and receipts for firms with paid employees

RELIABILITY OF ESTIMATES

The figures shown in this report are, in part, estimated from a sample and will differ from the figures which would have been obtained from a complete census. Two types of possible errors are associated with estimates based on data from sample surveys: sampling errors and nonsampling errors. The accuracy of a survey result depends not only on the sampling errors and nonsampling errors measured, but also on the nonsampling errors not explicitly measured. For particular estimates, the total error may considerably exceed the measured errors. The following is a description of the sampling and nonsampling errors associated with the 1992 SMOBE.

Sampling variability. The particular sample used for this survey is one of a large number of all possible samples of the same size that could have been selected using the same sample design. Estimates derived from the different samples would differ from each other. The relative standard error is a measure of the variability among the estimates from all possible samples. The estimated relative standard errors presented in the tables estimate the sampling variability, and thus measure the precision with which an estimate from the particular sample selected for this survey approximates the average result of all possible samples. Relative standard errors are applicable only to those published cells in which sample cases are tabulated. A relative standard error is an expression of the standard error as a percent of the quantity being estimated.

Example. In table 1, the estimated number of employer Black-owned firms in Agriculture is 1,491. The estimated relative standard error is 2 percent. The estimated standard error is $1,491 \times .02 = 30$.

The sample estimate and an estimate of its relative standard error can be used to construct interval estimates with a prescribed level of confidence that the interval includes the average results of all samples. To illustrate, if all possible samples were surveyed under essentially the same condition, and calculated from each sample, then:

1. Approximately 68 percent of the intervals from one standard error below the estimate to one standard error above the estimate would include the average value of all possible samples.
2. Approximately 90 percent of the intervals from 1.6 standard errors below the estimate to 1.6 standard errors above the estimate would include the average value of all possible samples.

Thus, for a particular sample, one can say with specified confidence that the average of all possible samples is included in the constructed interval.

Example of a confidence interval. The estimated number of employer Black-owned firms in Agriculture is 1,491, with a standard error of 30. An approximate 90 percent confidence interval (plus or minus 1.6 standard errors) is $1,491 \pm 48$ or 1,443 to 1,539.

Nonsampling errors. All surveys and censuses are subject to nonsampling errors. Nonsampling errors are attributable to many sources: inability to obtain information for all cases in the universe, imputation for missing data, data errors and bias, mistakes in recording or keying data, errors in collection or processing, and coverage problems.

Explicit measures of the effects of these nonsampling errors are not available. However, it is believed that most of the important operational and data errors were detected and corrected through an automated data edit designed to review the data for reasonableness and consistency. Quality control techniques were used to verify that operating procedures were carried out as specified.

Approximately 77 percent of the questionnaires were returned. For those that were not returned, data were imputed using a procedure which substituted the data of a respondent with similar demographic characteristics. This procedure assumes that nonrespondents possess the same characteristics as respondents with similar demographic characteristics, but this is never exactly true.

INDUSTRY CLASSIFICATIONS

The system published in the Standard Industrial Classification Manual: 1987 was used to classify firms for this report. Under this system, economic activities are coded on a numerical basis. Related activities are grouped at a primary level by industry division (i.e., manufacturing, construction, retail trade, etc.). Within each industry division, successive levels of detail of the economic activity are defined: major group (two-digit code); industry group (three-digit code); and industry (four-digit code). For example, one hierarchy in wholesale trade is:

SIC level	SIC code	Description
Industry division	—	Wholesale trade
Major group	50	Durable goods
Industry group	506	Electrical goods
Industry	5064	Electrical appliances, television and radio sets

Data in this report are presented at the industry division or major group level, depending on the table.

This study covers all industries in the SIC system except the following: Major Groups 01 and 02, Agricultural Production; 40, Railroad Transportation; 43, U.S. Postal Service; 86, Membership Organizations; 88, Private Households; and 91-97, Public Administration.

GEOGRAPHIC AREAS COVERED

This report presents data for the United States, each State and the District of Columbia; metropolitan areas (MA's), which include metropolitan statistical areas (MSA's) and primary metropolitan statistical areas (PMSA's); counties; and places with 100 or more Black-owned firms.

MSA's. The MSA's for which data are shown are among those defined by the Office of Management and Budget as of June 30, 1993. An MSA is an integrated economic and social unit with a population nucleus of at least 50,000 inhabitants.¹ Each MSA consists of one or more counties meeting standards of metropolitan character; in New England, cities and towns, rather than counties, are the component geographic units.

PMSA's. An MSA with a population of 1 million or more may be subdivided into PMSA's. A PMSA consists of a large urbanized county or a cluster of counties (cities and towns in New England) that demonstrates very strong internal economic and social links separate from the ties to other portions of its MSA. Where PMSA's are defined, the MSA of which they are component parts is redesignated a consolidated metropolitan statistical area (CMSA).

Counties. Data are shown for counties or county equivalents.^{2 3}

Places. Included in this publication are places of 2,500 inhabitants or more or incorporated as a city, borough, village, or town.^{1 2} Boroughs and census areas in Alaska, boroughs in New York, and towns in New York and Wisconsin are not included in this category. It does, however, include towns in the New England States and townships in New Jersey and Pennsylvania that are not classified as incorporated places if they have a total population of 10,000 or more.

COMPARABILITY OF 1987 AND 1992 DATA

The following changes were made in survey methodology in 1992 which affect comparability with past reports:

1. In the past, only the non-Black race and ethnicity data were collected directly from respondents. (Black-owned businesses were directly identified using administrative records.) In 1992, the use of some administrative records data from the IRS and SSA which identify owners of partnerships and subchapter S corporations was discontinued. Therefore, a sample of all partnerships and subchapter S corporations was canvassed to determine which were minority-owned. Consequently, the information reported by these businesses may, in fact, differ from what would have been obtained from administrative data. Individual proprietorships owned by Blacks were still identified from administrative records.
2. Since the 1987 survey, the number of subchapter S corporations (included in SMOBE) has risen at a much faster rate than the number of C corporations (not included in SMOBE). The net result was an approximately 20 percent increase in the SMOBE universe compared to an approximately 12 percent overall increase in business tax returns.

3. In 1987, classifications for firm data were based on the 1972 SIC manual. For 1992, classifications are based on the 1987 SIC manual. The SIC structure was changed to better reflect industry trends. These changes limit the comparability of data between the 1987 and 1992 SMOBE.

4. There was significant overstatement in the number of employer firms in 1987 due to processing errors. The overstatement primarily effects the number of employers, but minimally effects the employee and payroll numbers.

COMPARABILITY OF SURVEY DATA WITH OTHER ECONOMIC CENSUS DATA

Tables 10 through 14 show data for all firms that are comparable to the minority data in this report. Caution should be exercised in comparing data presented in this report with published or unpublished data from other reports of the 1992 Economic Census. Factors that affect comparability of data among censuses are industrial scope, business unit covered, receipts size, and coverage of nonemployers.

Industrial scope. Data in this report are based on the *1987 SIC Manual*⁴ (see Industry Classifications). Most of the industries in scope of the other 1992 Economic Censuses were also in scope of this study. However, Major Group 86, Membership Organizations, was within the scope of the 1992 Economic Census, but out of the scope of the 1992 SMOBE.

The following major industry groups were in scope of this study, but not in scope of the other economic censuses (see exceptions below): Major Groups 07, Agricultural Services; 08, Forestry; 09, Fishing, Hunting, and Trapping; and domestically-owned scheduled airlines in industry 4512.

In this study, industry 6552 (land subdividers and developers, except cemeteries) is included with the construction industry group, unlike the other economic censuses which include it with industry 65 (real estate).

Business unit. Most of the economic censuses are conducted on an establishment or physical location basis; each establishment owned by a firm is individually canvassed and tabulated. In this report, however, the unit tabulated was the firm rather than each establishment of the firm. (See appendix A for definition of "firm.")

Receipts size. Most of the economic censuses determine whether or not a firm may be counted as an active business according to its receipts size. The specified minimums vary by industry. For this study, a firm had only to file a business tax return with business receipts greater than $500 for it to be counted as an active business.

¹According to 1990 Census of Population or subsequent special census.

²Those defined as of January 1, 1987.

⁴*Standard Industrial Classification Manual: 1987.* For sale by Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, DC 20402. Stock No. 041-001-00314-2.

Nonemployer firms. Although nonemployer firms are included in this survey, they are omitted from many of the economic census reports.

DOLLAR VALUES

All dollar values presented in this report are expressed in current dollars, i.e., 1992 data are expressed in 1992 dollars and 1987 data in 1987 dollars. Consequently, when making comparisons to prior years, users should take into consideration the inflation that has occurred.

COMPACT DISCS

Data for the economic censuses are also available on compact discs—read only memory (CD-ROM). For this report, discs will contain more detailed comparison data for all firms by State and MA, as well as the same information found in the report. Discs are sold by Administrative and Customer Services Division, Bureau of the Census, Washington, DC 20233-8300.

SPECIAL TABULATIONS

Special tabulations of data collected in the 1992 Survey of Minority-Owned Business Enterprises may be obtained, depending on availability of time and personnel, on diskette, computer tape, or in tabular form. The data will be in summary form and subject to the same rules prohibiting disclosure of confidential information (including name, address, kind of business, or other data for individual firms) as are the regular publications.

Special tabulations are prepared on a cost basis. A request for a cost estimate, as well as exact specifications on the type and format of the data to be provided, should be directed to the Chief, Company Statistics Branch, Agriculture and Financial Statistics Division, Bureau of the Census, Washington, DC 20233-8300.

Summary of Findings

Black-owned firms increased 46 percent from 424,165 in 1987 to 620,912 in 1992. Receipts grew at a rate similar to that of all businesses, increasing 63 percent from $19.8 billion to $32.2 billion. Comparable data for all businesses show a 26 percent increase in number from 13.7 million in 1987 to 17.3 million in 1992, while receipts grew 67 percent from $1,995 billion to $3,324 billion. The data in this report were collected as part of the 1992 Economic Census from a large sample of all non-farm businesses filing 1992 tax forms as individual proprietorships, partnerships, or subchapter S corporations, and with receipts of $500 or more.

INDUSTRY CHARACTERISTICS

In 1992, the majority of Black-owned firms were concentrated in the service industries. These industries accounted for 54 percent of all Black-owned firms and 34 percent of gross receipts. Forty-seven percent of the total number of Black-owned service firms are concentrated in business and personal services, accounting for 35 percent of gross receipts. The retail trade industry accounted for the next largest concentration of Black-owned firms at 14 percent of the firms and 22 percent of the receipts.

Sixty-eight percent of the receipts generated by Black-owned firms were concentrated in services, retail trade, and finance, insurance and real estate. Health, business, and personal services accounted for 61 percent of the service industry revenue.

GEOGRAPHIC CHARACTERISTICS

California had the most Black-owned firms at 68,968 or 11 percent with receipts of $5.5 billion or 17 percent. New York was second with 51,312 or 8 percent with receipts of $2.2 billion or 7 percent. Texas was slightly behind New York in number of firms with 50,008 but was second in receipts with $2.3 billion. Texas accounted for 8 percent of all Black-owned firms and 7 percent of receipts.

Table E shows the largest 10 metropolitan areas (MA's) with the largest number of Black-owned firms and compares the firms and receipts in these MA's with the number in their respective States. These 10 MA's account for 36.8 percent of the total number of Black-owned firms in the United States and 43.2 percent of gross receipts.

LEGAL FORM OF ORGANIZATION

Ninety-four percent of Black-owned firms operated as individual proprietorships in 1992, accounting for 50 percent of gross receipts. Subchapter S corporations accounted for only 4 percent of the total number of firms but 38.1 percent of the gross receipts. Of the total number of firms, 14,727 or 2.4 percent were partnerships, accounting for 12.4 percent of gross receipts.

Table D. Percent Increase by Legal Form of Organization for Black-Owned Firms Compared to All U.S. Firms: 1987 to 1992

Legal form of organization	Percent increase
	Black-owned firms	All U.S. firms
Individual proprietorships	45.9	20.4
Partnerships	30.8	65.1
Subchapter S corporations	74.5	71.6

SIZE OF FIRM

Black-owned firms with paid employees accounted for 10 percent of the total number of firms and 70 percent of gross receipts of Black firms. Of these firms, 342 had 100 or more employees and accounted for $6 billion in receipts.

Fifty-six percent of Black-owned firms had receipts under $10,000; little more than 3,000 firms had sales of $1 million or more.

²For explanation of relative standard errors, see Reliability of Estimates in the introductory text.

³The 1987 data for industries 11 (anthracite mining) and 12 (bituminous coal and lignite mining) have been combined into SIC code 12 (coal mining) for comparability to the 1987 SIC system.

⁴Excludes 6552 which is included in construction industries.

⁵The 1987 data excluded 673 (Trusts) and 679 (Miscellaneous investing).

¹Firms reported annual payroll, but did not report any employees on their payroll during specified period in 1992.

Appendix A.

Explanation of Terms

Annual payroll. Annual payroll consists of the combined amount of wages paid, tips reported, and other compensation including salaries, vacation allowances, bonuses, commissions, sick-leave pay, and the value of payments-in-kind (such as free meals and lodging) paid to all employees during the calendar year before deductions for social security, income tax, insurance, union dues, etc. All forms of compensation are included, whether or not subject to income tax or FICA tax, with the exception of annuities, third-party sick pay, and supplemental unemployment compensation benefits (even if income tax was withheld). For corporations, total payroll includes compensation paid to officers and executives; for unincorporated businesses, it does not include profit or other compensation of proprietors or partners.

Employment. Employment includes all employees, full-time and part-time, reported on a firm's payroll during specified pay periods in 1992. Persons on paid sick leave, paid holidays, and paid vacations are included as employees, as are salaried officers and executives of corporations. However, proprietors and partners of unincorporated businesses are not considered as employees.

The derivation of the 1992 employment figures vary somewhat among the different industries. For firms in the minerals, manufacturing, and construction industries, employment represents an annual average of the number of "production workers" on the payroll for any part of the pay periods including the 12th of March, May, August, and November, plus the number of "all other employees" on the payroll during the March 12th pay period. For the other industries covered by the economic censuses and for those industries not covered, employment consists of all employees on the payroll of a firm during the pay period including March 12.

Ethnicity. The ethnic categories used in this survey are the same as those defined by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) in their Circular No. A-46, dated May 12, 1977.

Firm. In this survey, a firm is a legal entity engaged in economic activity during any part of 1992 that filed an IRS form 1040, Schedule C; 1065; or 1120S. The different entities are described below under Legal Form of Organization. A firm may operate one place of business or more, such as a chain of restaurants, or have no fixed business location, such as the firm represented by a self-employed carpenter or salesperson. A firm contrasts with an establishment, which is a single physical location at which business is conducted. Most of the other economic censuses are conducted on an establishment, rather than a firm, basis.

Legal form of organization. The three legal forms of organization included in this report are:

1. Individual proprietorship. An unincorporated business owned by an individual. Also included in this category are self-employed persons. The business may be the only occupation of an individual or the secondary activity of an individual who works full time for someone else.
2. Partnership. An unincorporated business owned by two or more persons having a financial interest in the business.
3. Subchapter S corporation. A legally incorporated business under State laws. A subchapter S corporation is a special IRS designation for legally incorporated businesses with 35 or fewer shareholders who, because of tax advantages, elect to be taxed as individual shareholders rather than as corporations.

Race. The race categories used in this survey are the same as those defined by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) in their Circular No. A-46, dated May 12, 1977.

Receipts. Receipts include the gross value of all products sold, services rendered, or other receipts from customers during the year, less returns and allowances. Value for sales and services is given whether or not payment was actually received during the year, and therefore, does not indicate a cash flow. Although receipts data were supposed to cover calendar year 1992, fiscal year reporting was permitted if it did not produce great differences. No adjustments are made for the costs of doing business. Due to the nature of the banking, real estate, and insurance industries and educational and social services, receipts may not be a good indicator of financial worth or size.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS REGARDING THE 1992 SURVEY OF BUSINESS OWNERS AND SELF-EMPLOYED PERSONS

- Why is this survey being taken?

To help provide valuable economic data about businesses owned by minorities and women as well as comparable data for businesses owned by nonminorities. This survey is part of the economic census program, which the Census Bureau is required to conduct every 5 years by law (Title 13 of the United States Code). The Census Bureau combines data from this survey with data from the other economic censuses and presents them in the Survey of Minority-Owned Business Enterprises and Women-Owned Businesses publication series. The published data include number of firms, sales and receipts, paid employees, and annual payroll and are presented by geographic area, industry, firm size, and form of organization.

- Who uses the survey data?

Persons and institutions in both the public and private sectors extensively use these survey data. Accurate data regarding business ownership are critical to informed decision making by Federal, State, and local governments regarding business assistance programs. In addition, private companies and trade associations use the data to analyze industry trends; educators use them in teaching and research; and the media use them in news articles.

- Why was I selected for this survey?

You are part of a small sample of businesses and self-employed persons that we randomly selected to represent your type of business and geographic area. The use of a sample substantially limits the reporting burden on small businesses and reduces the survey cost; however, it also greatly increases the importance of receiving a report from each business selected.

- What businesses are included in this survey?

Businesses were eligible to be selected for this survey if they reported any business activity on the 1992 Internal Revenue Service tax Form 1040 (Schedule C), "Profit or Loss from Business" (Sole Proprietorship). Many self-employed individuals do not consider the activity reported on their Schedule C to be an actual business (for example, babysitter, sales representative, construction contractor, and so forth). Any activity reported on Form 1040 (Schedule C) meets the definition of a business for purposes of this survey.

- Can I be paid for completing this report?

No. The law (Title 13 of the United States Code) that directs the Census Bureau to conduct the economic census and requires firms to report does not authorize payment for completing census reports. In addition, no funds have been appropriated for this purpose.

- Is each survey response kept confidential?

Yes. By law, the Census Bureau cannot give individual responses to anyone (including government agencies) for any purpose. Survey responses are immune from legal action and exempt from the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act. Census Bureau publications summarize responses so that the confidentiality of respondents and their business activities is fully protected.

- Why is the Census Bureau asking questions about the sex, race, and ethnicity of business owners?

These business owner characteristics are important for assistance program officials, industry organizations, economic and social analysts, and entrepreneurs. They are important to understanding conditions of business success and failure, showing census-to-census changes in business performances, and comparing minority/nonminority- and women/men-owned businesses.

- Who establishes the race and ethnic categories listed on this form?

The racial and ethnic categories and definitions used in this survey are consistent with the Office of Management and Budget's Circular No. A-46, "Revised Race and Ethnic Standards for Federal Statistics and Administrative Reporting," issued May 12, 1977. These standards were developed by both the Executive Branch and Congress.

- Why is the Census Bureau asking questions now about 1992?

The complete sample for this survey cannot be selected until all tax records for 1992 are available. Use of these tax records delays the mailout of this survey, but allows us to reduce significantly the number of survey questions and the survey cost.

- How can I get more information?

Call 1-800-233-6136 Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. eastern time. Our telephone staff can answer survey questions as well as provide you with additional forms and instructions.

We estimate that it will take 10 minutes or less to complete this questionnaire. QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS REGARDING THE 1992 SURVEY OF BUSINESS OWNERS

- Why is this survey being taken?

To help provide valuable economic data about businesses owned by minorities and women as well as comparable data for businesses owned by nonminorities. This survey is part of the economic census program, which the Census Bureau is required to conduct every 5 years by law (Title 13 of the United States Code). The Census Bureau combines data from this survey with data from the other economic censuses and presents them in the Survey of Minority-Owned Business Enterprises and Women-Owned Businesses publication series. The published data include number of firms, sales and receipts, paid employees, and annual payroll and are presented by geographic area, industry, firm size, and form of organization.

- Who uses the survey data?

Persons and institutions in both the public and private sectors extensively use these survey data. Accurate data regarding business ownership are critical to informed decision making by Federal, State, and local governments regarding business assistance programs. In addition, private companies and trade associations use the data to analyze trends; educators use them in teaching and research; and the media use them in news articles.

- Why was I selected for this survey?

You are part of a small sample of businesses that we randomly selected to represent your type of business and geographic area. The use of a sample substantially limits the reporting burden on small businesses and reduces the survey cost; however, it also greatly increases the importance of receiving a report from each business selected.

- What businesses are included in this survey?

Businesses were eligible to be selected for this survey if they reported any business activity on the 1992 Internal Revenue Service tax Form 1120S, "U.S. Income Tax Return for an S Corporation".

- Can I be paid for completing this report?

No. The law (Title 13 of the United States Code) that directs the Census Bureau to conduct the economic census and requires firms to report does not authorize payment for completing census reports. In addition, no funds have been appropriated for this purpose.

- Is each survey response kept confidential?

Yes. By law, the Census Bureau cannot give individual responses to anyone (including government agencies) for any purpose. Survey responses are immune from legal action and exempt from the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act. Census Bureau publications summarize responses so that the confidentiality of respondents and their business activities is fully protected.

- Why is the Census Bureau asking questions about the sex, race, and ethnicity of business owners?

These business owner characteristics are important for assistance program officials, industry organizations, economic and social analysts, and entrepreneurs. They are important to understanding conditions of business success and failure, showing census-to-census changes in business performances, and comparing minority/nonminority- and women/men-owned businesses.

- Who establishes the race and ethnic categories listed on this form?

The racial and ethnic categories and definitions used in this survey are consistent with the Office of Management and Budget's Circular No. A-46, "Revised Race and Ethnic Standards for Federal Statistics and Administrative Reporting," issued May 12, 1977. These standards were developed by both the Executive Branch and Congress.

- Why is the Census Bureau asking questions now about 1992?

The complete sample for this survey cannot be selected until all tax records for 1992 are available. Use of these tax records delays the mailout of this survey, but allows us to reduce significantly the number of survey questions and the survey cost.
